The City's Health.

The health of the city is by no means bad. Malaria of a malignant type is present in many cases, miasma are well under control, and the cases few. Diarrhea is frequent, but there is little difficulty in checking it with the ordinary remedies.

Uncle Sam Robbed.

From information received at San Antonio it appears that United States Paymaster Wasson has been robbed of a valise containing $30,000 while traveling between Fort Worth and Sweetwater. The rangers are securing the locality, and the train are being watched.

Major Wasson is respectfully connected, and has the highest character for integrity. The money was intended to pay the troops at Fort Davis.

An Unfair Comparison.

The following is the city hospital expense for the last three months:

Table with 2 columns: Month, Expense. February: $450; March: $460; April: $184.

The friends of Dr. Baumgaertel claim that this is a proof of his economical principles, but it must not be forgotten that the sickness at the present time is in no way comparable with that of February or March last.

Wants to be Free.

Manuela Coy wants Judge Noonan's permission to assume her maiden name of Manuela Reyes. In her petition she says that she was married to Juan Coy on the 26th of March, 1867, and four children are the result of her marriage. That in 1871 her husband deserted her to live with another woman, and in the following year he was convicted of murder in the second degree and sentenced to five years' imprisonment.

Beneath the Cypress.

Yesterday Tucker Salmons, aged six months, died in the Second ward from diarrhea, and Thomas Lawson, aged 35, died at Santa Rosa hospital from pleuro pneumonia. Mr. Lawson was a stranger. This morning Mrs. S. E. Gilling died in the Second ward from diarrhea. She had been a resident of this city for 25 years. Mrs. Johns, aged 63 years, died in the Second ward from exhaustion. Both ladies were natives of England.

He Ascended.

Today being Ascension day, Holy Thursday, it was celebrated with solemn honors in the Catholic and Episcopal churches, which were largely attended. At St. Joseph's church the members of the St. Joseph society wearing badges, attended in a body, and several children received the communion. The church was brilliantly lighted, and a row of seats were placed in the aisle. A lighted altar turned on the side of each chair. The service was of a very imposing and effective character.

At the Mission.

The Baptist Sunday school had an enjoyable picnic yesterday. About 100 pupils and scholars participated. They were conveyed to the first Mission by wagons provided by Mr. McClure. Among the party were the Rev. W. H. Dodson, Deacons Everett and W. Holland, Mr. Mrs. and Miss Lily Brookway, and Mrs. W. C. Faulkner. After camping for some time at the first Mission they proceeded to the second Mission, and there examined the structure. The provisions were liberal, and the whole party thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Death of Mrs. Gilbert.

Mrs. Sarah E. Gilbert, widow of the late E. F. Gilbert and mother of E. F. Gilbert, freight clerk at the International depot, died this morning at 5:30 o'clock at her residence on North Flores street. Mrs. Gilbert was an English lady, who has been here for many years, and who was justly esteemed by a large circle of friends. She has been in failing health for some time past and has recently laid in her extreme. Much sympathy is extended for Mr. E. F. Gilbert and his amiable wife in their bereavement.

LAI'D TO REST.

The remains of Dr. J. S. Knowles are interred with Due Masonic Honors. The following telegram from Vandallia shows that the remains of Dr. J. S. Knowles, who died here on February 23, and whose remains were exhumed and shipped to Vandallia a few days ago, arrived safely at their destination and have been interred with the respect due to the position of the deceased:

"The remains of Dr. J. S. Knowles, who died in San Antonio, Tex., arrived here April 29 for burial. The funeral took place from the Presbyterian church, of which he was a member. The large audience room was filled to overflowing, and the streets and sidewalks adjoining were lined with people unable to gain entrance, manifesting their respect for the deceased. The exercises were conducted by Rev. H. W. Todd, pastor of the church, who spoke in a brief though fitting manner of the life of one whose career of usefulness had just begun and of death as a mystery. Some 200 Masons and United Workmen were present in very feeling terms the going to the market. The Masons A. H. Burnett, of this city, conducted the impressive ceremony. Beautiful floral offerings were laid upon the casket. The body was placed in a hearse, headed by Webster's military band and the two ladies in a body, and conveyed to South Hill cemetery."

An Opera House for San Antonio. It is stated that a well known stockman has decided to make San Antonio his home, and will invest $100,000 in the erection and fitting of an opera house suitable for San Antonio. It is to be hoped that this news is true, because San Antonio needs an opera house and should certainly lay out money to secure it. The investment will pay in more ways than one.

Troublesome Inquiries. Where's the Collector of Revenue, is the question asked. All revenue should be paid by the 1st day of May, and the Collector last year had an office in the building above. Billy & Joe's saloon, many have attended there in vain to pay the revenue tax. The inquiry is this: the place where you pay the revenue, has become so frequent and troublesome so that it is dangerous to mention the word to either Johnson, Terrell or Smith, who occupy offices in the same building. For the information of citizens it may be said that the Collector of Revenue has no office here this year, and payments must be made by remittance to Austin direct.

Marriage License Incident.

In course of business, this morning, Mr. Theodorus Smith, County Clerk, issued a marriage license to a man who applied for one, in due and ancient form. Every thing was done properly and orderly. "What is to say?" asked the man. "One dollar and a hair," was the official reply. It appeared a large sum to the fellow by his inebriated interjections, and he refused to pay the fee. He was then arrested. He valued, however, the fee as a reward, and started for the door hesitatingly. A thought suddenly struck him, and he walked straight up to the clerk, and in a hoarse, scowled little speech said that he would pay the next license he applied for would be cheaper. Mr. Smith appreciated the business thought of the man, and graciously bade him good morning.

Great excitement prevails at Myers'own Lebanon, county Pa., owing to a supposed discovery of a gold vein. Farmers have given up their business and begun digging on their premises. Kreitzer & Co. of Philadelphia, have equipped a mine with a 60-horse power engine and a furnace for smelting ore, and are making daily shipments of quartz to Philadelphia. Over $5000 have already been spent in experimenting. It is also claimed that a rich vein of silver has been struck.

When M. Thiers was at the summit of his glory as President of the French Republic, he used to spend some days in Marseille, his native city. There he met an old school companion, a poor, humble man who had never taken the slightest interest in political career. They greeted each other with effusion. "And what are you doing?" asked Thiers. "Raising cattle." Then they talked a long while of their youth, of memories pleasant to both. Finally, "And what do you do in Paris?" asked the old friend. M. Thiers, somewhat wounded in his amour propre, and not wishing, under the circumstances, to avow his high rank, contented himself with replying: "I am Minister." "What! You have become a Protestant!" exclaimed, in stupefaction, the companion of his youth.
