RECORD OF CRIMES AND CASUALTIES FOR A DAY.

German Immigrants Arrived—Dorsey—6000 Coal Miners Out of Employment. Various news items.

Washington, D. C., December 11.—Major Courtney was re-elected. The Democratic nominees for Aldermen and the School Board were elected without opposition.

Chicago, December 11.—There is great excitement in consequence of the expected night attacks. The English gambler Kasper is throwing rockets over the town to scare the rebels.

Columbus, Ohio, December 11.—A State convention of colored citizens has been called in this city for December 25 to organize for the elevation of the race and the better protection of their civil, political and other rights, especially in the South.

Washington, D. C., December 11.—The President sent a large number of nominations to the Senate, mostly recess appointments, among them Walter Evans for Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and Benjamin Butterworth, Commissioner of Patents.

Little Rock, Ark., December 11.—The Republican State Central committee met and elected ex-Governor Clayton as Chairman, vice Terran, deceased. The committee unanimously declared that S. W. Dorsey is no longer a citizen of Arkansas, and recommended Powell Clayton for the vacancy on the National Republican committee, caused by his removal.

Frankfort, Ky., December 11.—Reports from Field's still house, on Columbia river, say that last week four men, all drunk, began to fight. W. H. Fields separated them and ordered them to leave, which they refused to do. Fields then drew his pistol and shot all four. Matt Knight was killed instantly, James Sargent died the next day, and May Day and John Jenkins cannot live. Fields escaped.

Washington, D. C., December 11.—Sherman's bill for the commercial relations with the South American States provides that the President be authorized and requested to invite the Republics of Mexico, Central America and South America, and the empire of Brazil to send delegates to the convention at Washington in 1884, to consider the best mode of establishing a firm and lasting basis for a peaceful and reciprocal commercial relation, and to adopt measures considered the most practical to promote the construction of an international railway to connect the countries named with the United States.

was rather a hope than an expectation. By Walsh's own declaration, he was determined not to appear unless certain conditions named in his letter to the President were complied with and the court had no knowledge as to whether the conditions were complied with or not. It appears to him that the motion ought to be overruled, as it would be unjust to the defendant, after preparing for trial and bringing witnesses here, to keep him and his witnesses in attendance on the court until an absent witness may be found. He thought it very oppressive to require the defendant to appear in court when the Government gives notice that they are ready. He thought this unusual motion to postpone indefinitely would be an order without a precedent. The defendant insists on having an immediate trial. His counsel declare that he will not appear and the court could not make that order. The court had no power to force the attorney for the United States to enter a nolle prosequi. No long as he did not wish to enter a nolle prosequi, the court could not order it. It was true that it is an extreme case, but the court might direct the jury to be compelled against the protest of the Government, then if the Government was not ready, they could adjourn. He would not have the Government into a trial, and the only course under the circumstances was the postponement of the case.
