

Generalities.

The Cache Valley train from Salt Lake Monday evening was delayed an hour and forty minutes as a result of a freight car overturning on the main line near Woods Cross. The freight was on a siding, the rails spread and the car toppled over.

Hon. John Work Harry, the distinguished and good looking gentleman who presides over the type faces in THE REPUBLICAN'S job department left, yesterday for Salt Lake city to take another bolt at the Warm Springs. Mr. Harry is sorely afflicted with salt rheum. Mrs. Harry and little daughter accompanied her husband, and they will probably be gone a month or more. In the meantime, Mr. Alme Frank, a young man destined to be president of the United States before the year 2,000, will represent Mr. Harry in his absence—that is, he will accept any and all money, but will pay no bill.

It is the intention of Director Geo. W. Thatcher, head of the Music Department at the A. C. of U., to take the College Opera Company and Military Band for a trip over the state at an early date. Ogden, Provo, Salt Lake and Pocatello will be visited just to give the young people some experience. In the "Pirates of Penzance" the opera company will be well able to give any audience the worth of their money, and in concert work THE REPUBLICAN will back the A. C. of U. Military band against any college organization in the country. The party that goes out will number very near one hundred people and without doubt will have a jolly good time that will be well worth the while in many ways.

A Luxury That is a Necessity

For those with musical tastes, and there are few persons so unfortunate as not to be endowed with some musical appreciation, if not understanding—yet not all understand that the Estey Piano is of such supreme excellence as to stand pre-eminently at the head of great musical instruments. Yet such is the fact, and when about to purchase a piano let us first prove the truth of this assertion.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve
For Piles, Burns, Sores.

Logan is to have a new music house the first of March. Mr. James Hobbs having arranged to handle the Baldwin instruments. He has a car of pianos and organs on the way now and will open up March 1st in a portion of the building now occupied by the Logan Furniture Co., the east side of North Main street. Mr. Hobbs has been a salesman for several years, has a wide acquaintance through this north country, is generally known as an energetic young man of splendid reputation, and without doubt he will make a place for himself among the business firms of this city.

The coming of Modjeska in "Mary Stuart" Monday night, attracted only a fair audience. There may have been several in that audience who deeply appreciated the production, but general comment gives rise to the belief that there were many more who for reasons best known to their selves did not get enthusiastic over either Modjeska, her company or her play. It is hardly necessary to go into further detail for it is generally understood that this once great artists is traveling now on a reputation of the past. To those who can appreciate greatness discredited by time, and who venerate one for deeds of other days not forgotten, Modjeska held a charm. But this is a thoughtless and a rushing age. It's the new thing that catches the public taste, not the old nor the perfect thing.

An exchange publishes the following conundrum: A banker sauntering home for his dinner saw a $10 bill on the curbstone. He picked it up and took the number in order to find the owner. While at home his wife remarked that the butcher had sent a bill amounting to $10. The only money he had with him was the bill he had found, which he gave her, and she paid the butcher. The butcher paid it to a farmer for a calf and the farmer paid it to a merchant who in turn paid it to a wash-woman, and she, owing the banker a note of $10, went to the banker and paid the note. The banker recognized the bill as the one he had found, and which up to that time had paid $50 debt. On careful examination he found that the bill was a counterfeit. Now, will some of our kind friends tell us what has been lost in this transaction and by whom.

Croyden a settlement located twenty-two miles east of Ogden on the U. P. R. R. will be a scene of great activity during the coming summer. Two inexhaustible mountains of limestone and shale are found there and a great cement factory is to be built by syndicate composed of Ogden men, David Eccles, Fred J. Keisel, James Mack and others, who have paid up over one-half million dollars, the company being incorporated for three and a half millions. The plant, it is said, will cost twice as much as a sugar factory. An expert has been secured from the east who has had a life's experience in the business, and he is paid a salary of $7,500 per annum. This gentleman will attend to the construction of the plant and running it after completion. A thorough analysis has been made of the material at hand and it is found to have but two and a half per cent magnesia, while the maximum limit allowed by the government in making cement is four per cent. The capacity of the plant will be 2,000 barrels per day. It is expected that two trains of coal will be used daily. Satisfactory arrangements have already been made for transportation with the railroad company. About 400 men will be constantly employed in running the plant, which is to be operated day and night. Six enormous factories of this kind in Colorado will be unable to supply cement this year for block work alone.

Mr. B. G. Richardson, of Salt Lake, has been in this valley the past few days negotiating for the sale of quite a number of commercial orchards. It is said that not a few land owners along the east side of the valley have awakened to the possibilities of fruit culture here and propose to put out orchards within the coming year. Mr. Richardson is inclined to believe that few sections offer greater advantages for certain varieties of apples and cherries than does Cache. In speaking of fruit conditions generally, Mr. Richardson speaks of Delta county, Colorado, where there were no orchards eight years ago. Small orchards had been almost destroyed by insects and the fruitmen were discouraged. Some one stirred up a little interest, the proper kind of spraying was done, new orchards were put out, and today Delta county is almost phenomenal in its production of fine fruit. The fruit men of the county organized, put an agent on the road on a commission basis and he soon found an eastern market. Today the organization is in existence, but an agent is no longer needed—eastern buyers come to Delta county. The organization has set a standard and only standard fruit goes from the county, hence its reputation. Mr. Richardson would urge proper spraying here, then more orchards and organization.
