LEWISTON, May 8.—Those who attended the Conference at Richmond on Friday, the 3rd, report a good time and best of instructions. Also those who availed themselves of the opportunity of hearing something of the mind of our leaders by attending Stake Conference in Smithfield last Saturday and Sunday felt much more comfort and going. Apostle Heber J. Wells was there, also Ruhon S. Jones, of the first council of seventies. Some of this stake received much good counsel and instruction, which we hope to be able to profit by.

The state Relief society conference will be held at Lewiston, May 10, in the tabernacle.

The school children, with the exception of the seventh and eighth grades, celebrated their May holiday Thursday, by taking a walk to W. D. Hendricks' fields on Muddy river. The children were attended by the three lady teachers only, the walk being rather long for the gentlemen.

P. E. Nelson, and family, formerly of Preston, but who now live in the Sugar Factory district, expect to make their home permanently in Lewiston.

A new road is being laid out from the sugar factory directly west to Main street. A new branch of railway, also, will be built along the same route, the terminus of which will be a short distance east of Main street on Harvey Rawlins' farm. The station will be built about where Mr. Rawlins' barn now stands.

We are beginning to see the fulfillment of the prophecies made by many inspired men concerning Lewiston. While its growth may not seem so rapid as some mushroom towns, we are laying a good foundation and steadily advancing.

John Telford has bought J. P. Jones' house on Main street, and will soon move his family into it.

Mrs. Jane Stowell has sold her farm to Robert and Warren Baird.

Dennis Muttles and H. A. Neibour have purchased city lots of C. Jacobson.

Lois Gee has returned home from her visit in Snake River valley accompanied by her mother.

The name of the injured man given in last week's paper as James Allen is James Alier.

Get a Skate On.

Last Opportunity to Put on Rollers. Big Masque Ball next Monday.

The skating season closes at the Auditorium Monday, May 20th, with a grand masque carnival. Edmund, son of Mrs. Hannah Bailey of the Sixth ward, was operated on for appendicitis last Monday.

The other day the six-year-old son of C. M. Christensen fell and broke his left arm at the elbow joint, making a very bad case.

James Shepard, of Richmond, was taken suddenly ill with a derangement of the stomach Sunday night. Last evening there was some improvement.

Mrs. Thomas Bailard, who has been suffering for years past with a serious kidney trouble and recently confined, is still very ill at her home in the Second ward.

Robert Smith, son of Ralph Smith Sr. of Greenville, was brought in from Huntington, Oregon, Friday night with typhoid fever and is now at one of the hospitals.

Thomas Watkin, of Hyde Park, has contracted to work for N. M. Hodges in Rich county the coming summer. He expects to cross the mountains next week by team.

David Clark of Newton, had his hand injured by a horse last week. Not receiving proper care, blood poisoning set in and he is now in Logan under the care of a surgeon.

Heavy, impure blood makes a muddy complexion, headaches, nausea, indigestion. Thin blood makes you weak, pale, sickly. Burdock Blood Bitters makes the blood rich, red, pure—restores perfect health.

In the B. Y. C.—L. D. S. U. track meet in this city Saturday the local team lost by a score of 60 to 55. The home boys were in the scrimmage and deserved to win, but Joe Jensen, the star performer, hiked off to a baseball game at Wellsville and left the boys in the lurch, hence the defeat. The afternoon was blustery and cold and there was but a fair sized crowd out.

Joel Riels, agent for the D. & R. G. at Bingham, came to Logan Saturday night and returned Monday morning. Mr. Riels says that his office handles more money than all the railroad stations in Cache valley. In a short time one mine in Bingham will be shipping 20,000 tons of ore daily, which will average five per cent copper. A whole mountain is being dug down and shipped to the smelters. On this mountain steam shovels are at work, also twelve railroad engines. In the Bingham yards it takes eight engines to do the switching.

L. C. Thoreson and Edward Hansen returned from lower California Monday night, where they, with others, went to inspect a large tract of land on which the gentlemen had an option. The proposition did not meet the expectations of the company. While there they went about fifty miles below San Diego and examined a 48,000 acre tract for sale at two dollars per acre. This is said to be a first class tract of land lying principally in river bottoms. A stem bearing wild oats was brought from there which measures eight feet in length showing the land to be very productive. It is stated that a banker in San Diego has offered to advance five sixths of the purchase money at six per cent if the cash payment of one sixth is paid down. This proposition as a whole is considered very favorably, so much so that Joshua Adams, of Oneida county, has proffered to take one fourth interest in the purchase, and it is thought that this deal will be closed by some of our Utah people.

Pontiac, Great Organizer.
Pontiac exemplified at once the best and the worst traits of the American Indian. As an organizer among a people with whom organization is almost impossible, and as a master of the treacherous statecraft of his race, he probably surpassed them all. As soon as his death was known, the French governor at St. Louis sent for his body and buried it with full martial honors near the fort. "For a mausoleum," Parkman finely says, "a great city has arisen above the forest here; and the race whom he hated with such burning rancor, trample with unceasing footsteps over his forgotten grave."—Outing Magazine.

Melon as Fish Bait.
It seems that the melon is a dainty much appreciated by fish, and in high favor as a bait among German anglers. The method of procedure is as follows: A hole is cut at the end farthest from the stem, the seeds are extracted and a part of the fruit hollowed out a number of hooks attached to a line threaded through the stem are buried in the flesh of the melon, which is then sent adrift, being buoyed on the surface by two pieces of wood and furnished with a line, by which it can be drawn ashore when the bobbing of the bait shows that a fish has been hooked.

Hyde Park.

HYDE PARK, May 12.—The Hyde Park ward conference was held today. On the stand were Pres. Isaac Smith and Councillor Jos. E. Cardon, of the stake presidency, Bishop Charles G. Hyde, councillors J. W. D. Hurren and Lorenzo Peterson, also other leading brethren of the ward. The bishop's report of the various organizations of the ward showed them to be in good working order. The people had increased their tithing and fast offerings considerably over that of last year. The majority of the people were trying to live honest God-fearing lives, and he was pleased to labor with so good a people. During the conference Presidents Smith and Cardon delivered some excellent discourses upon our duties to our God, our country and to our fellow man.

The beautiful singing of our choir, under the Presidency of Samuel Seams, and led by Fred T. Ballam was highly appreciated. The closing anthem "The Song of The Redeemed" was a beautiful finale to a most enjoyable day.

What must have been a very happy family meeting took place last week when the Jackson family, late of Old England, were all together (save one) after being separated for several years. Annie and Lucy came here several years ago; later another daughter came. One stopped in Chicago, is there still and will join the rest in a short time. Last year Mr. Jackson came to Utah, and last week Mrs. Jackson and three children arrived. The joy of this meeting again can better be imagined than described.

The Primary association gave an entertainment, with picnic accompaniment, last Friday evening. A program consisting of songs, recitations and music was rendered, after which dancing was indulged in the balance of the evening.

HER PLOT CUNNINGLY LAID

Scheme of Woman in Madrid to Get Valuable Diamond.

A story of an amazingly audacious swindle comes from Madrid, Spain. The heroine is a handsome, elegantly dressed woman who the other day visited a specialist in mental diseases on behalf of her husband, who, she said, was a sufferer from religious mania. Having explained the case, it was arranged that she should return in about an hour with the afflicted husband.

The next scene of action was a jeweler's shop in another part of the city, where she selected diamonds to the value of $5,000 on the understanding that she would buy them if her husband approved. Would someone accompany her home in a cab and the money would be paid immediately?

A trusted clerk was sent and with him the lady drove back to the doctor's house. In an anteroom she took the stones, "just to show them to her husband," then, entering with sublime assurance the doctor's study, she informed the specialist that her husband was now in the anteroom and ready to be examined.

Leaving a visiting card, the lady took her departure and the doctor, bidding the supposed patient enter, proceeded at his leisure to ask professional questions. The jeweler's man was puzzled at first, but soon he realized that he had been made the victim of a clever fraud. The doctor, however, interpreted his agitation as caused by his complaint and when after two hours matters were finally explained the lady impostor had vanished with her spoils without leaving any trace.

Force of Habit.

"How was it Wiggins was foolish enough to write those letters read in the suit against him for breach of promise?" "I don't know, unless it was that being in a district attorney's office he got so in the habit that he ever took to inditing love letters."

Psychological Doubts.

"I see that man in so many places that sometimes I think he is everywhere." "So do I, and it's puzzling to decide whether he's really double life or if he's wins."

ROOSEVELT'S SAYINGS.

This great republic of ours shall never become the government of a plutocracy, and it shall never become the government of a mob.

The world has moved so far that it is no longer necessary to believe that one nation can rise only by thrusting another down.

We cannot afford to forget the maxim upon which Washington insisted, that the surest way to avert war is to be prepared to meet it.

This is an era of combination alike in the world of capital and in the world of labor.

The wrongdoer, the man who swindles and cheats, whether on a big scale or a little one, shall receive at our hands mercy as scant as if he committed crimes of violence or brutality.

We show ourselves the truest friends of prosperity when we make it evident that we will not tolerate the abuses of property.

We must strive continually to secure for every man such equality of opportunity that in the strife of life he may have a fair chance to show the stuff that is in him.

THE BLOOD.

Get Bill a million he doesn't know the color of his own blood. It can not be blue—yet Bill may be one of the blue-blooded aristocracy. Ask him if his blood is all one color—and bet him a million. Then explain that it isn't. The blood in the arteries is a bright red; that in the veins a dull red. The former is charged with oxygen, the latter with carbonic acid. How can Bill tell a vein from an artery? Tell him that veins, when pressed, do not fill from above; because blood in the veins is always seeking the heart. This simple fact is worth knowing in case of an accident.
