

UTES BROUGHT BACK

Indian Police induce the Hostiles to Return.
QUIET ON WHITE RIVER
WHITES INCITE INDIANS TO MAKE TROUBLE.

Utah County Will Extend Its Jurisdiction Over the Uncompahgre Lands - Some Dispute as to the Boundary Lands - Ouray Agency to be Taxed - State News.

Death at Mapleton.
Springsville, Utah, May 1.-Mrs. Ben Wing, a resident of Mapleton, died at that place this morning, after a short illness of about 25 of the men going to P. V. Junction. Something like 4,000 sheep were clipped during the season.

Other Physical Conditions Required to Successfully Enter the Service - No Arrivals or Departures at Chickamauga - Quiet Sunday at Mobile - State Encampments.

Washing. May 1.-The instructions issued by the war department to government recruiting officers in the regular army in time of war, give the weight required for men entering for various branches of the service, together with the table showing physical proportions for height, weight and chest measurement.

REDUCTION IN AMOUNT FAVORED BY REPUBLICAN MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE.

Consideration of the War Revenue Bill in the Senate This Week - Three Provisions Which Will be Offered as Amendments by Democratic Senators - House Programme.

On the other hand, it is contended that the Uncompahgre reservation was set apart in square, which is found to be actually the case, would make the north line of the Uncompahgre reservation the line of the Uintah, some 12 or 15 miles above the mouth of the Duchesne, and consequently the Ouray agency would then be outside the reservation lines, and the property there, subject to taxation.

Summit County Teachers. Programme Carried out at the Institute at Coalville.

Coalville, April 30.-The Summit County Teachers' Institute convened here today, about 29 to 35 teachers being present, and a most instructive time was spent. Following was the programme:

1. Paper on "Insects" by Walter S. Harling.
2. Has each of the following school studies, language, mathematics, natural science and drawing, a distinct pedagogical value? "so, what is it?"

3. "Paper on Parental Co-operation," by Mr. Olsen.
4. "Primary Reading" by Miss Mamie Martin and Miss Rose L. Wirth.
5. "Study of United States History, as a Training for Citizenship," by Walter M. Boyden.

6. "The pupil's esteem of the teacher, a factor in his progress," by Carl Allison.
7. "The Lesson Plan," by Miss Bessie Grose.

8. "The Substitution of the Teacher for the Text Book," by S. E. Watson.
Time was granted for discussion of each number after its rendition.

By special request Mrs. Lena Thackeray rendered a very interesting and charming musical number, accompanied by Miss M. Brondage, on the piano.

County Superintendent Mr. D. S. L. Mendenhall was present and conducted the exercises.

FULLER'S EARTH SHIPMENTS. Railroad Spur May Be Built From Washnup to Peoa.

Peoa correspondent Coalville Times: Oscar B. Young of Provo is here looking up his interests in this direction. The gentleman has a valuable ranch in Westmont, and has some of the best Fuller's earth, and it is understood that he has contracted to furnish 1,000 tons to eastern parties. The material will be loaded to Washnup by team and there placed on board the cars. Mr. Young is your correspondent, and the contract has been made, which will very likely be carried out, to run a spur of the railroad from Washnup to Peoa. If this is done it would be the means of opening up the valuable rock industry and the shipment of Fuller's earth, and mining timber to great advantage. I am confident that the railroad company and our citizens. During the past two years considerable quantities of earth have been shipped to Salt Lake City, and the cost of hauling to the railroad at Washnup is a great drawback, this would be avoided should the road be extended to our town. We can haul the earth to the building rock and flagging in the state. The lumber and timber industry is of great importance to the county, and Fuller's earth promises to be a paying proposition, and taken altogether, we are certainly looking for the railroad boom for Peoa. We hope for both, and are ready and anxiously waiting.

Diphtheria at Glenwood.
Richfield Center: Last Sunday Dr. Niell was called to Glenwood to make a diagnosis of a disease that had taken hold upon several children in the town, particularly in the family of John H. Payne. It took but a few minutes for the doctor to pronounce the disease diphtheria. Sunday night the first death, that of Mr. Payne's four-year-old daughter, followed. Monday the loss of a two-year-old baby. Wednesday morning a third death occurred in the family, the victim being a six-year-old son of the family.

Corinne Building Up.
Brigham Bugler: Charles Carsons, the Corinne building contractor, is doing a booming business in the way of putting up new buildings in Corinne and vicinity. He has a large, regularly organized force of carpenters that are able to run up a fairly good sized house in three days. Mr. Carsons has already erected about 100 houses. He has contracted for three others to be built shortly in Corinne. These will cost from $1,250 to $1,500 each. Before the season is ended Mr. Carsons expects to have put up close to 30 new homes in and around Corinne. New families of settlers are constantly coming in, and most of them want homes, hence this large demand.

Price Shearing Notes.
Price Advocate: About 50,000 pounds of wool came in this week, swelling the amount already here to about 100,000 pounds. About 20,000 pounds so far

NOT LESS THAN 5 FT. 4 IN. - WEIGHT NOT LESS THAN 120.

TOO TALL FOR CAVALRY
ANY MAN HIGHER THAN FIVE FEET TEN INCHES.

Other Physical Conditions Required to Successfully Enter the Service - No Arrivals or Departures at Chickamauga - Quiet Sunday at Mobile - State Encampments.

Washing. May 1.-The instructions issued by the war department to government recruiting officers in the regular army in time of war, give the weight required for men entering for various branches of the service, together with the table showing physical proportions for height, weight and chest measurement.

REDUCTION IN AMOUNT FAVORED BY REPUBLICAN MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE.

Consideration of the War Revenue Bill in the Senate This Week - Three Provisions Which Will be Offered as Amendments by Democratic Senators - House Programme.

On the other hand, it is contended that the Uncompahgre reservation was set apart in square, which is found to be actually the case, would make the north line of the Uncompahgre reservation the line of the Uintah, some 12 or 15 miles above the mouth of the Duchesne, and consequently the Ouray agency would then be outside the reservation lines, and the property there, subject to taxation.

Summit County Teachers. Programme Carried out at the Institute at Coalville.

Coalville, April 30.-The Summit County Teachers' Institute convened here today, about 29 to 35 teachers being present, and a most instructive time was spent. Following was the programme:

1. Paper on "Insects" by Walter S. Harling.
2. Has each of the following school studies, language, mathematics, natural science and drawing, a distinct pedagogical value? "so, what is it?"

3. "Paper on Parental Co-operation," by Mr. Olsen.
4. "Primary Reading" by Miss Mamie Martin and Miss Rose L. Wirth.
5. "Study of United States History, as a Training for Citizenship," by Walter M. Boyden.

6. "The pupil's esteem of the teacher, a factor in his progress," by Carl Allison.
7. "The Lesson Plan," by Miss Bessie Grose.

8. "The Substitution of the Teacher for the Text Book," by S. E. Watson.
Time was granted for discussion of each number after its rendition.

By special request Mrs. Lena Thackeray rendered a very interesting and charming musical number, accompanied by Miss M. Brondage, on the piano.

County Superintendent Mr. D. S. L. Mendenhall was present and conducted the exercises.

FULLER'S EARTH SHIPMENTS. Railroad Spur May Be Built From Washnup to Peoa.

Peoa correspondent Coalville Times: Oscar B. Young of Provo is here looking up his interests in this direction. The gentleman has a valuable ranch in Westmont, and has some of the best Fuller's earth, and it is understood that he has contracted to furnish 1,000 tons to eastern parties. The material will be loaded to Washnup by team and there placed on board the cars. Mr. Young is your correspondent, and the contract has been made, which will very likely be carried out, to run a spur of the railroad from Washnup to Peoa. If this is done it would be the means of opening up the valuable rock industry and the shipment of Fuller's earth, and mining timber to great advantage. I am confident that the railroad company and our citizens. During the past two years considerable quantities of earth have been shipped to Salt Lake City, and the cost of hauling to the railroad at Washnup is a great drawback, this would be avoided should the road be extended to our town. We can haul the earth to the building rock and flagging in the state. The lumber and timber industry is of great importance to the county, and Fuller's earth promises to be a paying proposition, and taken altogether, we are certainly looking for the railroad boom for Peoa. We hope for both, and are ready and anxiously waiting.

Diphtheria at Glenwood.
Richfield Center: Last Sunday Dr. Niell was called to Glenwood to make a diagnosis of a disease that had taken hold upon several children in the town, particularly in the family of John H. Payne. It took but a few minutes for the doctor to pronounce the disease diphtheria. Sunday night the first death, that of Mr. Payne's four-year-old daughter, followed. Monday the loss of a two-year-old baby. Wednesday morning a third death occurred in the family, the victim being a six-year-old son of the family.

Corinne Building Up.
Brigham Bugler: Charles Carsons, the Corinne building contractor, is doing a booming business in the way of putting up new buildings in Corinne and vicinity. He has a large, regularly organized force of carpenters that are able to run up a fairly good sized house in three days. Mr. Carsons has already erected about 100 houses. He has contracted for three others to be built shortly in Corinne. These will cost from $1,250 to $1,500 each. Before the season is ended Mr. Carsons expects to have put up close to 30 new homes in and around Corinne. New families of settlers are constantly coming in, and most of them want homes, hence this large demand.

Price Shearing Notes.
Price Advocate: About 50,000 pounds of wool came in this week, swelling the amount already here to about 100,000 pounds. About 20,000 pounds so far

NOT LESS THAN 5 FT. 4 IN. - WEIGHT NOT LESS THAN 120.

TOO TALL FOR CAVALRY
ANY MAN HIGHER THAN FIVE FEET TEN INCHES.

Other Physical Conditions Required to Successfully Enter the Service - No Arrivals or Departures at Chickamauga - Quiet Sunday at Mobile - State Encampments.

Washing. May 1.-The instructions issued by the war department to government recruiting officers in the regular army in time of war, give the weight required for men entering for various branches of the service, together with the table showing physical proportions for height, weight and chest measurement.

REDUCTION IN AMOUNT FAVORED BY REPUBLICAN MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE.

Consideration of the War Revenue Bill in the Senate This Week - Three Provisions Which Will be Offered as Amendments by Democratic Senators - House Programme.

On the other hand, it is contended that the Uncompahgre reservation was set apart in square, which is found to be actually the case, would make the north line of the Uncompahgre reservation the line of the Uintah, some 12 or 15 miles above the mouth of the Duchesne, and consequently the Ouray agency would then be outside the reservation lines, and the property there, subject to taxation.

Summit County Teachers. Programme Carried out at the Institute at Coalville.

Coalville, April 30.-The Summit County Teachers' Institute convened here today, about 29 to 35 teachers being present, and a most instructive time was spent. Following was the programme:

1. Paper on "Insects" by Walter S. Harling.
2. Has each of the following school studies, language, mathematics, natural science and drawing, a distinct pedagogical value? "so, what is it?"

3. "Paper on Parental Co-operation," by Mr. Olsen.
4. "Primary Reading" by Miss Mamie Martin and Miss Rose L. Wirth.
5. "Study of United States History, as a Training for Citizenship," by Walter M. Boyden.

6. "The pupil's esteem of the teacher, a factor in his progress," by Carl Allison.
7. "The Lesson Plan," by Miss Bessie Grose.

8. "The Substitution of the Teacher for the Text Book," by S. E. Watson.
Time was granted for discussion of each number after its rendition.

By special request Mrs. Lena Thackeray rendered a very interesting and charming musical number, accompanied by Miss M. Brondage, on the piano.

County Superintendent Mr. D. S. L. Mendenhall was present and conducted the exercises.

FULLER'S EARTH SHIPMENTS. Railroad Spur May Be Built From Washnup to Peoa.

Peoa correspondent Coalville Times: Oscar B. Young of Provo is here looking up his interests in this direction. The gentleman has a valuable ranch in Westmont, and has some of the best Fuller's earth, and it is understood that he has contracted to furnish 1,000 tons to eastern parties. The material will be loaded to Washnup by team and there placed on board the cars. Mr. Young is your correspondent, and the contract has been made, which will very likely be carried out, to run a spur of the railroad from Washnup to Peoa. If this is done it would be the means of opening up the valuable rock industry and the shipment of Fuller's earth, and mining timber to great advantage. I am confident that the railroad company and our citizens. During the past two years considerable quantities of earth have been shipped to Salt Lake City, and the cost of hauling to the railroad at Washnup is a great drawback, this would be avoided should the road be extended to our town. We can haul the earth to the building rock and flagging in the state. The lumber and timber industry is of great importance to the county, and Fuller's earth promises to be a paying proposition, and taken altogether, we are certainly looking for the railroad boom for Peoa. We hope for both, and are ready and anxiously waiting.

Diphtheria at Glenwood.
Richfield Center: Last Sunday Dr. Niell was called to Glenwood to make a diagnosis of a disease that had taken hold upon several children in the town, particularly in the family of John H. Payne. It took but a few minutes for the doctor to pronounce the disease diphtheria. Sunday night the first death, that of Mr. Payne's four-year-old daughter, followed. Monday the loss of a two-year-old baby. Wednesday morning a third death occurred in the family, the victim being a six-year-old son of the family.

Corinne Building Up.
Brigham Bugler: Charles Carsons, the Corinne building contractor, is doing a booming business in the way of putting up new buildings in Corinne and vicinity. He has a large, regularly organized force of carpenters that are able to run up a fairly good sized house in three days. Mr. Carsons has already erected about 100 houses. He has contracted for three others to be built shortly in Corinne. These will cost from $1,250 to $1,500 each. Before the season is ended Mr. Carsons expects to have put up close to 30 new homes in and around Corinne. New families of settlers are constantly coming in, and most of them want homes, hence this large demand.

Price Shearing Notes.
Price Advocate: About 50,000 pounds of wool came in this week, swelling the amount already here to about 100,000 pounds. About 20,000 pounds so far

Price Shearing Notes.
Price Advocate: About 50,000 pounds of wool came in this week, swelling the amount already here to about 100,000 pounds. About 20,000 pounds so far

Price Shearing Notes.
Price Advocate: About 50,000 pounds of wool came in this week, swelling the amount already here to about 100,000 pounds. About 20,000 pounds so far

NOT LESS THAN 5 FT. 4 IN. - WEIGHT NOT LESS THAN 120.

TOO TALL FOR CAVALRY
ANY MAN HIGHER THAN FIVE FEET TEN INCHES.

Other Physical Conditions Required to Successfully Enter the Service - No Arrivals or Departures at Chickamauga - Quiet Sunday at Mobile - State Encampments.

Washing. May 1.-The instructions issued by the war department to government recruiting officers in the regular army in time of war, give the weight required for men entering for various branches of the service, together with the table showing physical proportions for height, weight and chest measurement.

REDUCTION IN AMOUNT FAVORED BY REPUBLICAN MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE.

Consideration of the War Revenue Bill in the Senate This Week - Three Provisions Which Will be Offered as Amendments by Democratic Senators - House Programme.

On the other hand, it is contended that the Uncompahgre reservation was set apart in square, which is found to be actually the case, would make the north line of the Uncompahgre reservation the line of the Uintah, some 12 or 15 miles above the mouth of the Duchesne, and consequently the Ouray agency would then be outside the reservation lines, and the property there, subject to taxation.

Summit County Teachers. Programme Carried out at the Institute at Coalville.

Coalville, April 30.-The Summit County Teachers' Institute convened here today, about 29 to 35 teachers being present, and a most instructive time was spent. Following was the programme:

1. Paper on "Insects" by Walter S. Harling.
2. Has each of the following school studies, language, mathematics, natural science and drawing, a distinct pedagogical value? "so, what is it?"

3. "Paper on Parental Co-operation," by Mr. Olsen.
4. "Primary Reading" by Miss Mamie Martin and Miss Rose L. Wirth.
5. "Study of United States History, as a Training for Citizenship," by Walter M. Boyden.

6. "The pupil's esteem of the teacher, a factor in his progress," by Carl Allison.
7. "The Lesson Plan," by Miss Bessie Grose.

8. "The Substitution of the Teacher for the Text Book," by S. E. Watson.
Time was granted for discussion of each number after its rendition.

By special request Mrs. Lena Thackeray rendered a very interesting and charming musical number, accompanied by Miss M. Brondage, on the piano.

County Superintendent Mr. D. S. L. Mendenhall was present and conducted the exercises.

FULLER'S EARTH SHIPMENTS. Railroad Spur May Be Built From Washnup to Peoa.

Peoa correspondent Coalville Times: Oscar B. Young of Provo is here looking up his interests in this direction. The gentleman has a valuable ranch in Westmont, and has some of the best Fuller's earth, and it is understood that he has contracted to furnish 1,000 tons to eastern parties. The material will be loaded to Washnup by team and there placed on board the cars. Mr. Young is your correspondent, and the contract has been made, which will very likely be carried out, to run a spur of the railroad from Washnup to Peoa. If this is done it would be the means of opening up the valuable rock industry and the shipment of Fuller's earth, and mining timber to great advantage. I am confident that the railroad company and our citizens. During the past two years considerable quantities of earth have been shipped to Salt Lake City, and the cost of hauling to the railroad at Washnup is a great drawback, this would be avoided should the road be extended to our town. We can haul the earth to the building rock and flagging in the state. The lumber and timber industry is of great importance to the county, and Fuller's earth promises to be a paying proposition, and taken altogether, we are certainly looking for the railroad boom for Peoa. We hope for both, and are ready and anxiously waiting.

Diphtheria at Glenwood.
Richfield Center: Last Sunday Dr. Niell was called to Glenwood to make a diagnosis of a disease that had taken hold upon several children in the town, particularly in the family of John H. Payne. It took but a few minutes for the doctor to pronounce the disease diphtheria. Sunday night the first death, that of Mr. Payne's four-year-old daughter, followed. Monday the loss of a two-year-old baby. Wednesday morning a third death occurred in the family, the victim being a six-year-old son of the family.

Corinne Building Up.
Brigham Bugler: Charles Carsons, the Corinne building contractor, is doing a booming business in the way of putting up new buildings in Corinne and vicinity. He has a large, regularly organized force of carpenters that are able to run up a fairly good sized house in three days. Mr. Carsons has already erected about 100 houses. He has contracted for three others to be built shortly in Corinne. These will cost from $1,250 to $1,500 each. Before the season is ended Mr. Carsons expects to have put up close to 30 new homes in and around Corinne. New families of settlers are constantly coming in, and most of them want homes, hence this large demand.

Price Shearing Notes.
Price Advocate: About 50,000 pounds of wool came in this week, swelling the amount already here to about 100,000 pounds. About 20,000 pounds so far

Price Shearing Notes.
Price Advocate: About 50,000 pounds of wool came in this week, swelling the amount already here to about 100,000 pounds. About 20,000 pounds so far

Price Shearing Notes.
Price Advocate: About 50,000 pounds of wool came in this week, swelling the amount already here to about 100,000 pounds. About 20,000 pounds so far

SAGASTA AND HIS ASSOCIATES.

Character of the Man Who is at the Helm in Spain.
The government of Spain is carried on in the name of Queen Regent Maria Christina, guardian of King Alfonso XIII, in accordance with the provisions of the constitution of 1876. But the real power, and the decision of the present question of peace and war, are in the hands of the prime minister, Praxedes Sagasta.

On Aug. 1887, Canovas de Castillo, prime minister, was assassinated by an Italian anarchist at a watering place, where he was spending the summer. Though of humble extraction—his mother is said to have been a washer-woman—Canovas had the manners and instincts of a blue-blooded grandee of Spain. He was a thorough believer in divine right, and would rather have died than surrender to the Spaniards.

His was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

SAGASTA AND HIS ASSOCIATES.

Character of the Man Who is at the Helm in Spain.
The government of Spain is carried on in the name of Queen Regent Maria Christina, guardian of King Alfonso XIII, in accordance with the provisions of the constitution of 1876. But the real power, and the decision of the present question of peace and war, are in the hands of the prime minister, Praxedes Sagasta.

On Aug. 1887, Canovas de Castillo, prime minister, was assassinated by an Italian anarchist at a watering place, where he was spending the summer. Though of humble extraction—his mother is said to have been a washer-woman—Canovas had the manners and instincts of a blue-blooded grandee of Spain. He was a thorough believer in divine right, and would rather have died than surrender to the Spaniards.

His was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head of an administration of his own, and again in 1885, 1890 and 1891 he has been prime minister several times before, and was familiar with the duties of the office.

He was better born than Canovas, though not of noble lineage, he was rapidly, and he served successfully in the cabinets of General Prim and Serrano. In 1881 he was the head