ELECTION RETURNS.

How and Where the Ballots Are Kept —The Canvass.

The ballots cast at the city election are now in the keeping of the city recorder. In accordance with the law the judges of election sealed these up in an envelope before separating Wednesday morning. Each judge then wrote his name across the flap of the envelope, so that the seal could not be broken without marring the writing. The poll list and voting list were treated similarly, the same being placed in separate envelopes. These envelopes were returned to the city recorder, E. H. Anderson, who says many of them were received before daylight, and none of them were returned later than 3 o'clock on the afternoon of Wednesday.

The city council is to receive these returns Monday next and canvass them in op session. The council may take recesses from time to time if it sees fit.

Board of Education.

The board of education met in regular session last night, with all members present. Chairman Dee of the finance committee reported the receipt from the county treasurer since the last meeting of $2,500, making a total of $4,850 received from this year's taxes.

Mr. Hart reported that a number of repairs had been made at the Emerson school, and the matter of affixing the sewer to that building was referred to the buildings and grounds committee.

Mr. McKee reported that Mrs. Jenkins had been assigned to the school in the Third ward institute and that Miss Fitzpatrick had been returned to the West Ogden school.

The coal contractors were notified that coal must be delivered at buildings in the outskirts at the regular contract price.

A request from a number of the high school teachers for supplies for work in science was taken under advisement.

The bill of Contractor Ingebretsen for extras on the Emerson school, about which there has been so much controversy, was again taken up and referred to the committee on buildings and grounds.

Applications for the position of drawing supervisor were received from John Hafen of Salt Lake, Miss Kate J. Brown of Washington, Ia.; Miss Helen L. Moore of Omaha, and Miss Mabel Swartwant of Pittsburg, Pa. The matter of filling the place was deferred.

The report of the treasurer for October was filed. It showed a balance on hand on Nov. 1 of $1,588.84. Expenses for the month of October, $6,118.27.

Bills aggregating about $1,100 were ordered paid.

Adjourned for one week.

Standard Accuracy.

The Standard had a burst of indignation yesterday over an inaccuracy appearing in The Herald to the effect that a majority of the signers of the Republican pledge had been defeated for election. Six of the 11 signers appear to be elected, as The Herald returns showed. However, a paper that announced Taylor's election in the Third ward by a majority of over 100, shows rather bad taste in making such grimaces over a slight inaccuracy.

The Herald is not popular with the Standard, nor is it trying to be, nor does its writers have to point out the shortcomings of the Standard. Other papers may do that, as, for instance, the Commonwealth, in the following:

"As we go to press we see that the Standard of this morning wriggles a good deal as to how the defeat of Mr. Driver happened, and attempts to locate all the blame outside of the Standard office, but in this the people do not seem to coincide with the Standard.

"The Standard seemed to pay most attention to the election of Mr. Driver and he was defeated. It gave attention next to Mr. Hulanski's election, and his majority falls far short of the general ticket. The Standard's support was evidently damaging."

The matters coming before Judge Rolapp yesterday were as follows:

Methodist Bishops In Session.

Philadelphia, Nov. 5.—Today's session of the general committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church Extension society was devoted wholly to a consideration of the amounts asked for from the various conferences for church extension. Bishop Cranston of Portland, Or., declared that many churches which have been aided by the society have become wholly indifferent in respect to helping the work of the church extension.

Bishop McCabe, of Fort Worth, Tex., deplored the assistance given by the society to churches which cost more than $5,000. No definite action was taken.

New Beet Sugar Plant to Be Established in California.

EARTHQUAKE AT BUTTE

LIFTED THE SAFETY VALVES FROM STEAM BOILERS.

A Horticultural Curiosity at Boise—Railroad to Lewiston—New York Hunters Bag Big Game—Potatello Lawyer Sued For Libel—Death of a Comstock Gambler.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 5.—Another important enterprise in the beet sugar manufacturing industry is about to be launched by the Oxnards, proprietors of the Chino factory. After examining several different sites, in widely separated localities, they have at last decided in favor of Hueneme, Ventura county. In selecting this locality preference was shown over San Luis Obispo and Sacramento counties, as well as over Texas, all of which places were in competition for securing the proposed factory. The production of beets on 10,000 acres of land, for five consecutive years, has been guaranteed for the factory's use at the price of $3.25 per ton during the entire term. One hundred acres for the factory site has been donated by the local people interested. Work on the building of the factory will begin promptly in order to have it ready for the crop of 1898. It is to have a capacity of 1,000 tons of beets per day, which will be increased to 2,000 tons in 1899. It will give employment to 1,600 men at the factory, while from 1,000 to 1,500 men will be employed in the field.

Earthquake at Butte.

Butte Miner: There was a severe earthquake shock in the city this morning at about 2:25, and all the buildings in the city shook in a way to alarm all who happened to be awake at the time, and it is safe to say that thousands of persons in various parts of the city were awakened from their slumbers by the trembling of the earth.

The shock lasted five or six seconds, and in some of the business blocks the windows shook and for a time it looked as though some of the buildings would fall down. All along the business streets people rushed out of doors, in many cases not fully realizing just what the trouble was.

At the store of the Montana Liquor company on East Broadway a number of bottles were toppled over from the shelves and broken on the floor.

At the Blue Jay mine the shock had the peculiar effect of raising the safety valves on the boilers and letting off the steam in five separate jerks. In all the mines on the hill the shock was distinctly felt, and in some instances loose earth from the walls fell down in the workings.

Police Captain Dawson was passing a lodging house on Main street when the trouble began. He heard the windows rattle and felt the ground tremble, and at first the captain thought some one was making a "rough house" of the place, but a second later he realized that it was an earthquake.

The shock startled the fire horses in the city hall and they walked about uneasily in their stalls. Sol Levy was counting some bail money in the city jail and thought that some one was blowing up the building with dynamite. A number of bricks fell from the unfinished walls of the new Bee Hive block on Broadway.

A Combination Apple.

Boise Statesman: Captain Bledsoe has brought in another curiosity—it is what may be termed a combination apple. It looks like a Baldwin on one side and something like a winesap on the other. The two parts are joined by an irregular line having the appearance of a suture.

The captain secured this apple in Pine valley. There are four trees there bearing the same kind of fruit, all of the apples from them being of the same general appearance. The fruit had partly been gathered when the captain visited the orchard and several grain sacks were filled with it.

The apples are large and luscious. They are certainly curious. The captain says they are called a hybrid by the owner of the orchard, but what the influence was that induced this pomological marriage is a mystery.

The Statesman has not been able to determine whether the two sides of the apple differ in flavor, as there is only one specimen here and it is not desired to cut it. The curiosity is at the Nye-Galbraith store.

Railroad to Lewiston.

Lewiston Tribune: The Tribune is in a position to say that it is now the purpose of the Northern Pacific company to complete its railway into Lewiston this winter, or at least not later than next spring. This statement is authentic and is quietly vouched for in quarters whose sources of information are unquestionable. Indeed, it needs no argument to establish the fact that common sense and self interest both point to the very early construction of railroads into Lewiston, where the normal traffic is already greater than that of most of the older and larger western towns that the railroads have been years in building up. It is an inside fact that the reason the Northern Pacific has not completed its Lewiston extension ere this was on account of a traffic agreement whereby the Oregon Railway & Navigation company was not to be disturbed in its Lewiston business in consideration of equal concessions to the Northern Pacific in the Puget sound country. The agreement, however, was merely temporary and terminable at the pleasure of either party. The Northern Pacific has found that it had the small end of the bargain, and its purpose now is to retrieve its mistake and to get into Lewiston with all diligence.

Idaho.

Challis Messenger: The large hunting party headed by Mr. Thompson of New York, who passed through Challis about a month ago for Sawtooth mountains, succeeded in killing eight goats, besides deer, bear and other large game.

T. F. Terrell, a Pocatello lawyer, is made defendant in a $10,000 damage suit, filed by F. M. Watson, chairman of Bannock county board of commissioners, and late candidate for mayor of Pocatello on the Citizens' ticket. The basis of the suit is a letter alleged to be libelous, published by Terrell during the campaign.

Fifteen tons of machinery and creamery supplies have arrived for the Gentile valley creamery.

The miners' union has established a hospital at Silver City.

Bailey Times: The Golding Brothers shipped five carloads, containing about 1,500 head, of sheep, from this place today, for Chicago direct. This is probably the last shipment from Wood River this year.

The authorities at Deadwood, S. D., have offered a reward of $250 for every one of the Hole-in-theWall gang, when captured and turned over to them, and also for William Moo, who recently escaped from the Deadwood jail. The names of the men who recently overpowered the jailor and his wife and escaped are: Tom O'Day, Tom Jones, Frank Jones and Walter Putney.

Scott Hamilton, a prominent stockman of La Bonte, stated recently that the ranchmen in his vicinity are feeding all their cattle, as they find the demand greater and prices [illegible] for the dehorned cattle. He says the wolves do not kill the horned cattle as quick as they do the dehorned ones.
