THE MIGHTY FALLEN

Ponderous University Football Team Goes Down to Defeat

BEFORE CALLOW YOUTHS OF THE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE—SCORE, 6 TO 4.

The University Men Were Not In It at Any Time—Sprague Did Valiant Service With His Big Right Foot—The Y. M. C. A. Athletes Will Contest With the Provo Team This Afternoon.

The University football team, which was once stalwart and potent and last year even wore a few fading laurels, is now hiding in its tent, debilitated and shattered.

Six to four was the extent of their undoing by the Collegiate boys. When the two teams formed their skirmish line, the men of the university looked so gigantic that some one suggested that they should be called "The Colossal Collegiate Institute." They were walloped so severely that they could hardly be recognized now by their best friends.
