vated. Electric lights have been installed, the hotel has been newly painted, there is new furniture and under Carlo von Puella, the lessee, a first class family hotel will be conducted during the hot weather at the pretty resort. Wm. Soell is associated with Mr. von Puella as manager.

The hotel will be both American and European, and reservations may be made for a day, week, month or the season, with special rates for parties intending to stay a week or more. This is the fourth season that the hotel has been in charge of Mr. von Puella, who also has the Fifth East hotel in this city, and who has made the hostelry at the head of Cottonwood a very popular place. His plans for the conduct of the hotel this summer include numerous improvements and innovations and there is no question but what the season at the resort will be a most successful one. It is said by those who have been up the canyon this year that Brighton is prettier than ever owing to the late spring rains, and within a fortnight the season will be at its height.

Mr. von Puella and Mr. Soell will give personal attention to the wants of the guests, providing every possible comfort, and they will specialize in making it pleasant for woman and children. It is planned to open on Friday next so everything will be in order for the week end parties which are expected to arrive at that time.

WHICH?

By H. S. Haskins.

A little man with a little brain
Went forth in his little car;
He hummed a song as he bowled along,
Content with the things that are.
A mighty man with a mighty brain
Whizzed past on the swift highway,
Too spent and old to enjoy the gold
Exchanged for his youth's brief day.

The rich man's car was an eager thing
Which leaped to a hireling's hand.
The poor man steered down a road unfeared,
Through a kind and a joyous land.
Oh, who will say which the wise man was,
And which was the fool of the twain,
The one grown old with his bags of gold
Or the one with a little brain?

—New York Sun.

THE SHORTCAKE AND THE SHAD

The strawberry shortcake remarked to the shad:
"When we get together, times aren't so bad.
You appear when the springtime is bravely alert,
And I happen along just in time for dessert.

"Though cares may oppress, as dissensions rise high,
They're dispelled for a while, as we calmly draw nigh.

As deftly they pick out the shade bones men find
Both food and employment for body and mind.

"Whatever the sorrows that darkly draw near,
Plain pleasures survive with their help and good cheer.

And with gifts such as us life cannot wholly be sad."

As the strawberry shortcake remarked to the shad.

The loquacious lady met the great lecturer the next morning, and at once rushed right into the subject. "So sorry not to have heard your lecture last night," she murmured. "I know I missed a treat; everybody says it was splendid." "I wonder how they found out," said Mr. Frockcoat; "the lecture, you know, was postponed."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Purity In Beer

Some nationally advertised beers use much space discussing "purity." Do not let them alarm you, however, as almost all beer is absolutely clean and pure when manufactured.

Some beers, nationally advertised, as well as others, do have their quality impaired through improper handling.

But this condition is almost never found in a beer which requires no long shipment, or bottling at destination, but which, like is bottled only at the brewery, by direct pipeline, and delivered fresh and promptly to the user.
