

THE MAYOR—THE ISSUE

Mayor Park's announcement that he will not be a candidate to succeed himself is an extremely gratifying assurance. He deserves for once to be commended for exercising excellent judgment in a matter of utmost importance to the public. It has always been our belief that he could best serve the city by retiring to private life. By voluntarily choosing this course he has relieved the people from the performance of a very manifest duty, for had he stood for re-election it is certain that he would have been decisively repudiated. We suspect that in arriving at his decision, Mr. Park was moved by impulses which were not altogether altruistic; nevertheless, that is of no consequence now. The point is that with this obstacle removed we have made a mighty stride towards a city government of the right sort.

It begins to look as though there would be no more entries in the race for mayor. In that event the contest between Mr. Morris and Mr. Ferry will simmer down to a simple and well defined issue. The former personifies the Park administration, he has been its backbone, and he will be held to a strict accounting of its policies. Hence it follows that he must face the issue squarely and be measured, not by his promises, but by the record of the present administration. Mr. Ferry on the other hand stands clearly in opposition to the administration, and promises a reversal of policy. Moreover, we venture the prediction that the candidacy of Mr. Morris will encounter extraordinary obstacles, for he has many entanglements while Mr. Ferry has none.

GOLD MEDAL AWARD

The Salt Lake Route-Union Pacific building at the Panama-California exposition at San Diego has been awarded a gold medal for the unique features of their building and the attractive displays therein.

The structure is known as the Salt Lake Route-Union Pacific building, and was erected for the purpose of serving as an international transportation center and to provide information to world travelers and comfort to exposition visitors. The building contains rest room for ladies and children, with maid in attendance, information bureau and telephone booths, smoking room for gentlemen and other accommodations. At either end of the main reception room large painted maps of the Salt Lake Route and Yellowstone National park are shown on the walls with the exact topography of the country tributary. The entire front of the building is of glass transparencies showing the natural resources of the country traversed by the Salt Lake Route and Union Pacific System.

This is said to be the first building of its kind ever erected at any exposition for a publicity exhibit. The special rest room provided for the entertainment of visiting railroad men is one of the prominent features.

At the close of the exposition the building will probably be donated for use of the exposition park officials.

WINGFIELD OF NEVADA

By reason of the success of the season at the exposition track the men who have revived the sport will probably feel justified in having a meeting every year, says Town Talk of San Francisco. There is talk of the purchase of Tanforan and horse breeders feel greatly encouraged. As a result some fine horses may be imported for breeding purposes. To George Wingfield, the Nevada banker and miner, is attributed the intention of purchasing one of the greatest stallions in England. It was due to the influence of George Wingfield that racing was revived in Nevada, and now he is taking a lively interest in the Golden Gate Thoroughbred Breeders' association of which he is an active and energetic member. It is interesting to reflect that George Wingfield is living up to the tradition of the Comstock days. In those days the Bonanza Kings who made their fortunes in the Sagebrush state found that San Francisco was a good city to invest in and to spend much of their time in. Now though Wingfield is a loyal Nevadan he likes San Francisco, and he is a bank president here as well as in Nevada. If he reminds one of the Bonanza Kings he differs from most of them in this, that his wealth has neither reduced his temperature nor inflamed him with ambition. His predecessors could think of nothing higher than a seat in the United States senate. George Wingfield refused one.

A JOURNALISTIC DISPLAY

A San Francisco publisher recently received the following communication from a business house in Japan which gives an amusing insight into the idea of the Queen's English had by the cunning Nipponese.

Tokyo, Aug. 15, 1915.

Dear Sirs:

A continuance of present disturbance in Europe tells itself how progress of science is being experienced, and it is considerably felt necessary to touch latest news regarding to.

In view of this fact it is, we trust, very attractive way to secure many subscriptions in holding special exhibition of your journals for displaying purpose to the public, and we have decided to do so at an early date of October next. If you have some interest with this plan please send specimen copies and other booklets of all your journals to the undermentioned, marking on your package as "specimen."

When sending please quote us both regular and trade prices of your journals with the rates of foreign postage to Japan respectively.

We also venture to ask you to kindly allow us best discount on subscription.

Very truly yours,

Maruzen Company, Ltd.

Tokyo.

ADMIRE LITERARY GEM

Lack of Logic of Prohibitionist Entertain Reader of Tract.

(From St. Paul, Minn., Dispatch, August 9, 1915.)

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

The other day a well-meaning friend handed me an anti-liquor tract entitled "The Two Crowns." As a lack-logic prohibitionist it is a gem. Its theme is the marriage of Adolphus Busch, wherein he presents his wife with a golden

Opening of the Fall and Winter Season

The Newhouse Hotel will give Particular Attention to Special Parties, Luncheons, Dinners, Banquets, etc. Menus and Prices will be Submitted upon Request. Our Policy is Courtesy and Perfect Service. Special Rates will be made for Winter Apartments.

Sunday Table d'Hote Dinner $1.50
Daily Wagon Dinner 75c
Merchants Lunch 50c

The NEWHOUSE HOTEL
F. W. PAGET, Manager

It's "AMERICAN BEAUTY BEER"

Once you taste American Beauty Beer you will never be satisfied with any other.

Try this experiment: Take a glass of this beer and a glass of another brand. Taste each, and note the difference. You'll find that the sparkling delicate flavor of American Beauty is unequalled.

Costs no more than ordinary beer. Order from your dealer or phone Hy. 17 for a case today.

Salt Lake Brewing Co.