PARADE PERMIT TO MOVE MOPS

Chicago's Christmas shoppers witnessed a very unusual sight Monday when the Channell Chemical company hauled a shipment of O-Cedar oil mops through the business section of the city, and which was consigned to a foreign port.

This shipment weighing one hundred seventy-five tons and valued at $52,000, formed such a long procession that it was necessary to first obtain a parade permit before the merchandise could be taken to the freight station.

A squad of mounted police headed this unique parade, which was five blocks in length, and for some time all down town traffic was completely blocked. The shipment was an outright sale and taxed the load capacity of thirty-four immense trucks, each of which was decorated with American flags and carried bunting sign reading, "One order to one country."

This is by far the largest single order of oil mops for floors ever shipped by any concern, at one time, and is the result of an aggressive campaign on the part of the Channell Chemical company for foreign business. Since the world war began this company has sold more than 750,000 mops in Europe alone.

A previous export shipment, fully insured at its value of $42,000, and carried by the steamship Inkum, went to the bottom when that boat was torpedoed recently by a submarine.

BRIGHT HOLIDAY NUMBER

Dressed in a bright holiday cover, the Christmas number of Goodwin's Weekly lives up to its old standards. The contents are snappy and the various departments adequately treated. Judge Goodwin's editorials are very properly given the leading place in the number. They disclose the fact, which many times must have impressed itself upon his countless friends, that time in its flight is most kind to him. The old time vigor of expression still his; the keen insight into the heart of things, a wide perspective and a memory that runs back to so many things that most men have forgotten are the well known marks of the veteran journalist's "copy." Numerous contributors furnish entertaining features and in review of leading local activities the field is well covered.—Deseret News.

THE PARAGRAPHERS

Mr. Bryan is no warrior, but it isn't because he can't charge.—Columbia State.

It is more difficult to take a shine to a Greek than to take one from him.—Boston Transcript.

No doubt the ablest peace advocate in the world would fall as a maker of automobiles.—New York Herald.

It certainly is pathetic the way hordes of German-Americans who always voted the Republican ticket are falling away from the president.—Columbia State.

Your Money is Going Up in Smoke!

It surely is if you burn raw coal.

Thirty pounds in every hundred are volatile substances which pass off as smoke, or settle as soot.

Gas Company Coke is coal without the volatiles.

In their place you get full weight of heat-producing fuel.

You do not have to pay for smoke because there is no smoke to pay for.

Why waste money on raw coal when refined coal (Gas Company Coke) saves the waste and costs no more?
