

Attractive Fur Sets

New York, December 21.

Just as the tinkling of sleighbells delighted the hearts of the children and grown-ups of yesterday, so are we of today enraptured with the thought of winter, when tiny coasters may once more be brought into use, and the snow king, zealously guards his domain—mountains and streams in glittering snow-clad loveliness.

For these days of sleighing and skating, not forgetting the gorgeous wintry mornings when a brisk walk a two-inch strip of beaver. A broad Puritan collar of the plush completed the set, and a small hat, with a band of the plush around the edge and a beaver ball on the tip-top of the crown as a chic accompaniment. This set was to be worn with the suit and also with a heavy, belted and pocketed top-coat of dark green velours, intended for sleighing, motoring and like purposes, when warmth was necessary as well as becomingness.

Another pretty set of close-haired fur, made from an old seal coat, had a barrel muff and the regulation throw-scarf. This set was completed by a long tasseled cap made of the same material as the loose, box-coat, which was of dark green duvetyn, also banded and cuffed with seal. Gold cord, silver and gold lace, is used for the more dressy muffs and neck-pieces, and oftentimes there is a metal or velvet rose as an attractive bit of color.

The Popular Tam-o'-Shanter.

With the awakening of the out-of-door spirit there has come a demand for comfortable headgear; not the freakish hats and caps which were introduced when the motoring fad came in, so hideous and unbecoming, but chic, little caps and tams made up in sweater cloth, lamb's wool, the material of the coat or suit, or knitted to match sweater or scarf. These caps are extremely youthful and chic, easily made, and the height of comfort.

Sets of cap, scarf and sports' coat, or sweater, are used for skating, cross-country walking, and motoring. One especially pretty cap with scarf or muffler attached, is being made up in chiffon for summer motoring use; the idea is wonderfully practical, as the full, gathered scarf-end may be brought over the head and face, veil fashion, protecting the complexion and eyes very efficiently.

Leather is being used for these sets quite extensively too; a fur-trimmed set of dull red Russian leather, trimmed with sable and combined with a short, tab-ended scarf, also trimmed with sable, is unusually smart and becoming. These leather sets may be made at home of suede, or a soft kid. They are practical for many purposes as they are not injured by dust, rain, or snow.

There are some attractive velveteen and velvet sets, also, trimmed with a vividly contrasting color.

The Utility Walking-Stick.

One of the novelties following the popularity of walking, skating, and general out-of-door winter sports is the walkin-stick with a soft silken or velvet bag attached for handkerchiefs, powder puff and other articles necessary to Milady's beauty and comfort. Although somewhat extreme these sticks are nevertheless quite practical, especially for mountain climbs and hilly roads.

over frozen paths brings a glow to our cheeks and brightness to our eyes, clothes must pay as important a part as for any other occasions.

Attractive Fur Sets.

Fashion decreed at the beginning of the season that fur was to be popular, and old Father Winter has approved the notion by sending us a brisk, crisp winter that makes the touch of fur, no matter how small or how large, quite consistent.

In muffs and neckpieces there is wide choice both as to models and materials. It is no longer considered "home-made" to carry a muff of velvet, heavy silk, or velours, with just a band or two of fur, by way of trimming, or for that matter no fur at all.

These sets are often made to match coat or suit; one especially pretty set worn recently with a tailored suit of dark-brown duvetyn, was of silk plush in the same tone as the suit, trimmed with strips of beaver to match the trimming on the suit. The muff was made in the popular melon shape, the plush being shirred to a very small opening at the hand, and banded with

RATES CUT 35 PER CENT

A reduction of 35 per cent in employers' liability insurance for employees of Missouri breweries went into effect last week. This virtually is the only industry in which the rates were cut. The new schedule, affecting all Missouri industries, which became effective November 1, recorded an average increase of about 33 per cent in rates.

The brewery rate was reduced from 42 cents to 27 cents per $100 of pay roll, and the distillery rate was increased from 75 cents to $1.25.

The companies did not decrease the brewery rates out of friendliness to the brewery owners, was the declaration of E. W. Thompson, president of the Insurance Federation of Missouri.

The cut in rates was ordered after reports showing the experience of all the casualty companies in Missouri had been filed with the Workmen's Compensation Bureau of New York," Thompson said. "The reports showed that the accidents in breweries have been constantly decreasing.

"The lowness of the new brewery rates indicates that the insurance companies do not regard the drinking of light beers as causing any addition to the hazard involved in the insuring of a factory full of employes.

"In fact, the companies have long impressed upon their agents in cities and towns throughout the country that their experience has been that an almost negligible number of accidents have been caused through the employes' drinking of light beers."—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

"When did your boy Josh pass his examinations?" "I dunno exactly," replied Farmer Cornstossel; "but I reckon it must have been when nobody was looking."—Washington Star.
