Theatre June 23rd, assisted by Mr. Jonas will be received with great interest by their host of friends in this city.

It will be a society affair in every sense of the word, a list of prominent people having already been secured as patronesses. There will be a specially chosen program and among the features will be the concertos Saint-Saens and the Litz Hungarian Fantasy, for which the orchestral accompaniment will be played by Jonas on the second piano. The event promises to be a musical affair very much out of the ordinary.

Miss Geneva Savage, Miss Bessie Faddis, David Keith, Jr., and Eugene Slusser left on Thursday morning for Southern California in Mr. Keith's touring car. They will be the guests for a time at the Keith cottage at Ocean Park, and later with Mr. and Mrs. Keith will motor to the Kearns ranch at Santa Rosa, where Mrs. Gullivan and Miss Margaret Collins, who will leave shortly by train, will be members of the house party. Young Mr. Keith, with his father, recently made a trip from Los Angeles here and says that it is one of the best motoring trips in the West.

The party went from here to Ely, intending to go from there to Tonopah, Goldfield, Las Vegas and on to Los Angeles.

After a period of comparative quiet, we again have Mrs. Virginia Snow Stephen in the limelight. She is organizing the housemaids' union, which is being recruited from the long suffering homes in the community, and which is being formed for the purpose of demanding shorter hours and higher wages. It is a branch of that delectable organization, the I. W. W., in which Mrs. Stephen has been so active. Probably it would have been better to have her remain as an instructor in the art department of the University than to start this new trouble. Heaven knows housewives have grief enough as it is.

Col. and Mrs. E. F. Holmes arrived from Southern California early in the week and at a dinner at the Hotel Utah on Tuesday evening made the happy announcement that they would be here for six months alternating between their country and town houses. The announcement means much to those in society, who are rested enough to stand any amount of entertaining a little out of the ordinary.

Plans are being completed for another winter residence for Colonel and Mrs. Holmes in the valley just out of Los Angeles, and a casual glimpse of the drawings indicate that they are expecting a great deal of company. That isn't all; they admit they expect it and are making their provisions accordingly, which will be good news to their friends who go to the southland when the open season for purchasing coal begins.

Mrs. Charles A. Walker and her mother, Mrs. E. V. Foote, have arrived from San Francisco, where they spent the greater part of the winter. They are being welcomed home by their host of friends, who greatly missed them during their absence. Mrs. Walker will entertain at a dinner party to be given on the veranda of her country home in Cottonwood on Monday evening in honor of Miss McMillan and Mr. Lyle. Covers will be laid for twenty-four, and the affair will be one of the most elaborate of the many planned for them.

The marriage of Miss Mildred K. Knight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Knight, to William Griffith, of San Francisco, took place at St. Mark's Cathedral Tuesday. The very Rev. Samuel R. Colladay officiated. Miss Mildred H. Knight of Boise, Miss Wright and Miss Marjorie Wasson were the bridesmaids and little Miss Ruth E. Sheckell ring bearer. Robert S. Knight was best
