A WOMAN'S REASON.

By Constance Farmar.
I love you for this, my dear—
When the Winter gloom was cold
You showed me the sunlight clear,
You gave me a hand to hold,
And righted my helm to steer.

I love you for this—you came
When the stars seemed afraid to shine;
The light of your life was flame,
A beacon that guided mine
And put all my fear to shame.

And whether 'tis right or wrong,
I love you the most for this—
The madness that made you strong
To seal my lips with your kiss—
And bind my heart with a thong!

YOUTH.

By Thomas S. Jones, Jr.
I shall remember then,
At twilight time or in the hush of dawn;
Or yet, mayhap, when on a straying wind
The scent of lilac comes, or when
Some strain of music startles and is gone,
Old dreams, old roses, all so far behind,
Blossoms and birds and ancient shadow-trees,
Whispers at sunset, the low hum of bees,
And sheep that graze beneath a Summer sun.
Will they too come, they who in the yester-year
Walked in the same paths and in the first of Spring,
And shall I hear
Their distant voices murmuring?

I shall remember then,
When Youth is done,
With the dim years grown gray;
And I shall wonder what it is that ends,
And why they seem so very far away—
Old dreams, old roses . . . and old friends.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Management of the Louvre Rathskeller Has Secured Famous Hungarian Orchestra.

You who love and appreciate good music, good fellowship and the best of cuisine—for you to whom Bohemia's charms appeal and who are wont to slip from the worries and cares of the day into an atmosphere of relaxation and healthy pleasure—the Louvre has another splendid attraction.

It is the Royal Hungarian orchestra. There is perhaps no musical organization in the country similar or equal to this orchestra, and we have secured its services at great expense. We believe we have always had the best music in Salt Lake, and it is better now than ever.

Our new, light, airy, scrupulously clean and sanitary kitchen has cost us several hundreds of dollars of late and here again results are telling the story of our foresight. Our ladies' luncheons in the afternoon are proving splendidly successful. It is delightfully cool and restful to drop in for a few minutes during the busy shopping hours and select a tasty little lunch from the teas, coffees, chocolate, sandwiches, salads and dainties that we serve between 2:30 and 5:30 P. M.

The Louvre—the smart place to eat.
