them, especially Creighton Largey's 40. Largey will enter his machine and he has an expert driver to put it over the course. The machine was built for hill climbing especially and has carried off the blue ribbon in some big eastern hill climbing meets. The car is powerful and fast, and Fuller will have to look to his running with care if he crosses the tape ahead of it.

Nine events will make up the program of the meet. Two machines will race at a time, as has been said before. The fastest in each set will draw lots to see which will race in the semi-finals together.

The Salt Lake Automobile Club is pushing ahead on its campaign for good roads with increased vigor. Plans are being formulated for some very active movements in surrounding counties during the coming few months, and by early spring a general organization of county officials and motorists throughout this section of the state will probably have been effected. The club broke away from business Thursday evening and took 200 children, inmates of the two orphanages of the city, for an automobile ride. The youngsters had the time of their lives and the long string of machines that moved through the down-town streets presented a pretty sight.

The boys who are driving to Brighton this year will have to hit the trail up Big Cottonwood pretty hard to beat the record made by Art Vail when he drove a Stevens-Duryea to the head of the canyon with four people in exactly one hour and fifty-three minutes' time from Walker's store, Thursday. Not a mishap marred the trip, and Vail took his passengers over the rather dangerous road in beautiful shape; 1:53 is apt to stand for several days.

Last Sunday a procession of autoists coming down Big Cottonwood formed one continual line practically,—eloquent testimony to the popularity of the Wasatch resort this season.

The Thomas car has won the New York to Paris race, arriving at Paris Thursday morning at 8 o'clock. While the German car got into Paris a day or so previous, there is little question but that the race trophy will go to the Thomas people, as it was the only car to comply, to any extent, with the conditions of the race and go into Alaska. The time lost in the latter country is to be allowed the Thomas people as a handicap, and this will place them into Paris the winner in easy time.

Former Mayor Thompson's car has made two trips to Brighton this week with gay parties of young people.

Local autoists are endeavoring to patch up the bitter feelings that have been engendered in Farmington, Kaysville, Centerville and other Davis county towns on account of fast running that has been done on the roads through these places the past few weeks. Last week George T. Odell and party were assaulted by a crowd of hoodlums as they were returning from Ogden canyon. The man guilty of the assault was arrested after a week's chase and given a jail sentence. There is a proposition now on foot to fix a speed limit to govern the running of cars coming down from the north through the counties mentioned above.

The annual outing of the Elks at the Lagoon Thursday brought out a lot of machines and some fast runs were made to and from the popular resort to the north.
