

Social Saunterings

A complete surrender to the heat and a disastrous desertion of town by maids and matrons is the record for the week.

Brighton, Long Beach, Ocean Park, half a dozen northwestern points and the canyons have taken so many people out of town since Monday that five tables at bridge is a triumph for any hostess.

The road up Big Cottonwood has levied heavy toll since the first cottage was opened this summer, but the exodus to the popular resort this week has broken records.

As indicative of the social atmosphere of the camp this year it need only be mentioned in passing that Fisher Harris telephoned down a week ago today for a box of white linen collars. They were carefully packed up to him Saturday night and delivered Sunday in time for church.

With the canyon road in splendid condition the motors have been called into use more than usual. Thursday morning the Misses McClure, Margaret Walker, Margaret Dunn, Lillian Lane, Aline McMillan, Grizzelle Houston, Virginia Beatty, Elsie Dey and Marian Hall went up for a week at the Walker cottage. Miss Georgida Moore is with Miss Edith Godbe at the Godbe cottage. Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Fabian are installed in their cottage with their family and Miss Edna Lunn.

Mrs. J. H. McMillan is chaperoning the Misses Oberndorfer, Winnifred Brice, Elsie McMillan, Merce Lewis, Vera Edwards, Marie Odell, Romona King, Leigh Whittemore and Ethel Tyree. Mrs. Heber M. Wells at the Mont Ferry cottage is entertaining Mrs. Lehr Riter and her two little daughters. Mrs. Freeman Morningstar reached Brighton Thursday evening and opened Dr. Plummer's cottage. Later this month she will entertain Miss Gertrude Beecher, Miss Leona Smith, the Misses Fay and Rose Ceruse and Miss Lucille Morningstar.

Among those who left town for the coast and other points during the week are Miss Marge Ellerbeck, who is in Los Angeles, and Col. Wall and family for Long Beach.

One of the most delightful affairs of the week was the party given Tuesday afternoon by Miss Renee Redman and Miss Bertha Tyree for the Misses Berkhoel and Winifred Irish at the Tyree home on South Temple. The afternoon was occupied by 500, tables being laid on the veranda. The summer house was arranged as an Oriental parlor, where Miss Belle Tyree, Miss Ella Purefoy and Miss Martha Williamson presided at the punch bowl. Miss Gladys McConaughy, Miss Winnifred Brice, Miss Ethel Tyree and Miss Merce Lewis assisted with the other refreshments.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. E. O. Howard entertained a dozen of the younger girls at a matinee party at the Orpheum, followed by tea. Among the guests were the Misses McClure, Margaret Walker, Margaret Dunn, Lillian Lane, Aline McMillan, Grizzelle Houston, Virginia Beatty, Eliza Dey, Hope Kervin and Marion Hall.

The Country Club called out the usual number of parties Wednesday, when the regular table d'hote dinner was served. Miss Virginia Beatty entertained the Misses Aline McMillan, Norinne Thompson, Margaret Dunn, Lillian Lane, Margaret Walker, Bryan Houston, Grizzelle Houston, Lucille Clark and Marjorie Jacobs at a few tables of bridge and then at luncheon.

Are we really to have a Directoire of our own after all?

It isn't only possible—it's probable, for at least one of the big downtown establishments has grabbed time by the forelock, a Parisian Directoire creation and a striking wax figure, with the result that one Main street window at least holds the crowds.

Several bets are up as to who will first venture forth in the tights and sheath in emulation of the redoubtable Mrs. Jones from Rhyolite. Why shouldn't they, anyway? While possibly not exactly suited for an afternoon over the links at the Country club, Town Topics put it about right last week when it asked:

Why raise this ripping, roaring fuss
About the new Directoire gown?
What lurks within its luring folds
To call such maledictions down?

For surely all may plainly see,
When hails sensation's storm,
'Twas never a question of modesty
But merely a matter of form!

Mrs. C. Ira Tuttle entertained at luncheon at the same time for eight of her friends, the luncheon being followed by two or three tables at bridge. Mrs. E. C. Parsons, Miss Lorene Leary, Mrs. John W. Delano, Mrs. T. R. Woodbridge, Mrs. Richard Stingley, Mrs. J. J. Campbell and Mrs. W. D. Donohoe were in the party.

Mrs. W. Edward Fife was entertaining in another part of the veranda at the same hour at bridge. Luncheon was served in the private dining room later.

Senator and Mrs. George Sutherland, Miss Edith Sutherland, A. L. Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Eldredge Thomas leave about the 10th of the month for a trip through the Grand Canyon of the Colorado.

Miss Louise Sullivan entertained at the Country Club Wednesday. Mrs. J. B. Risque entertained at the same time.

The dinner given Monday evening at the Lagoon by Sydney Bamberger in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Greenwald, lately returned from their wedding trip, was one of the most elaborately appointed affairs of the season. The table decorations were in pink and white sweet peas with mounds of choice fruit. A dozen guests were present and dancing followed the dinner.

Colonel Wall's home on Brigham street is closed again, though it is to be hoped not for long. Colonel and Mrs. Wall with the Misses Wall left Tuesday for Long Beach, where they have taken a cottage until September. The Colonel's big car was shipped Saturday.

Miss Eudora Daly entertained the Sewing Club Thursday afternoon at her home on Brigham street.

Miss Alice Seckels entertained a half dozen friends last night at the lake in honor of Miss Agatha Berkhoel. After a launch ride on the lake a lunch supper was enjoyed on Antelope Island, the return to the pavilion being made late in the evening.

A pretty party of the week end was the hop given by Miss Beth Dunbar at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Caine.

Mrs. Theodore A. Baldwin leaves Saturday with her children for San Francisco, where she will sail August 5th to join Captain Baldwin at Manila. Mrs. Baldwin has been visiting some time here with her mother, Mrs. Mary Judge.

Local four-hundredites who were fortunate enough to meet socially the authoress of that somewhat feverish, torrid, much be-starred gem, "Three Weeks," when Mrs. Glyn was a guest at the Newhouse home several weeks ago, will hear with interest that the lady has finally dramatized the book and that its initial presentation was given in the Adelphi theater, London, privately, a week ago tonight, with Mrs. Glyn in the leading role.

stands as a monument to our enterprise and energy. The use of hard city water in the past prevented our getting the best results. Soft water whitens the white goods, brightens the colored goods, softens the fabric.
