

Social Saunterings

While some miles removed from the supposed center of activity, the summer colony of Walkers, Judges et al., who spend the season down among the Cottonwoods in their own enjoyment, and who spend a good deal more for the pleasure of their friends, always furnish enough news for the smartest set to make up for any lack of it in town.

For instance, Mrs. Winifred Walker will be Mrs. Herman A. Prosser on Tuesday next, and though the engagement has been kept a strict secret for some time, it was announced at the dance on Tuesday night, and will be one of the most interesting events of the coming week.

The ceremony will take place at Mrs. Walker's home, "Idlewild," one of the most beautiful spots on the Walker estate, where Mrs. Walker has lived with her mother and daughter for several years. Mrs. Walker's brother, Mr. Sprague, has arrived from San Francisco, to be in attendance, and Mr. Prosser's mother, with his brothers and sister, will be here from their eastern home for the occasion.

Mrs. Walker is one of the most popular younger matrons in society. Before her marriage to Albert E. Walker, she was Miss Winifred Sprague, her beauty and charm making her a leader in her set.

Mr. Prosser, who arrived here a little over a year ago, early proved his claim to popularity, and the match is considered an ideal one by the friends of both. The romance began early in the summer, and the only feature of it which does not appeal to those who know both of the principals best, is the news that they will spend the greater part of the year away from here, returning to Salt Lake in the summer.

One of the best bon mots of the week was that of a charming young matron who appeared very radiant and very beautiful at one of the dances early in the week, though her husband was not present.

One of the guests, noting his absence, said to the lady: "What's got into your husband tonight that he isn't here?"

Very quietly, but very quickly, she answered: "It isn't what got into him tonight, but what got into him last night that accounts for his absence."

In the interesting contest now being waged between the most attractive girl in the younger set and the clever visitor who is delighting society, for the hand of the young man who is one of the six best catches, it is thought to be a case of the survival of the quickest.

The dinner dances of Tuesday and Wednesday evening, the first given by Mrs. Charlie Walker and the second by Miss Katherine Judge, at their beautiful country homes absorbed the attention of thirty or forty of the smart ones who motored down in the moonlight to get close to nature and enjoy the dining and the dancing, and Sheriff Graham, and a lot of other pleasant things not found in the city.

It is the most beautiful time of the year down in that part of the world, as evidenced in and out of doors at both of these smart affairs, and the idea has taken so well that any number of similar events may be expected before the snow flies.

Of course, the presence of Sheriff Graham will be necessary, for Sheriff Graham calls off the dances in such a way that the affairs are not only a delight and an inspiration, but wonderfully instructive.

The Sheriff has given his solemn word of honor not to move out of the county this fall, so innumerable future successes are assured.

Miss Judge has been the hostess at a house party at "The Cobbles" most of the week, which included eight or ten of her friends.

The stag party at the Country Club on Monday evening, given by Sam Neel and Jim and Walker Salisbury, following their successes in the men's singles and doubles in the tennis tournament, was one of the busiest dinners of the week, and to quote our old friend from the country, "A pleasant time was had." The prize cups were turned into loving cups for the evening, and in turn, the loving cups were turned into something else. About a dozen of their friends who had cheered them on to victory assisted.

James A. Pollock entertained at dinner at the Alta Club on Monday evening, followed by a theater party at the Orpheum.

Mrs. George M. Mathews, of Boston, who is visiting Mrs. Ledyard M. Bailey, was the guest of honor at an informal affair at the home of the latter on Wednesday.

Mrs. Bailey was assisted by Mrs. C. E. Richards, Mrs. F. J. Fabian, Mrs. Karl A. Schied, Mrs. Edith Richardson, and Miss Agatha Berkhoel.

Mrs. Heber M. Wells entertained a few of her friends at a charming luncheon at the Country Club Wednesday.

Miss Elsie Ridge, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ray Walker, at her country home, will be the guest of honor at a number of affairs which are being planned for her.

Miss Ridge, who is a Kansas City belle, will be here a couple of months, and will go later with Mrs. Walker to Southern California. The principal affair given for her during the past week was a luncheon, at which Mrs. Walker entertained on Thursday. Mrs. Sam S. Porter will give a bridge tea this afternoon for Miss Ridge.

Mrs. J. A. Greenwald entertained at a Dutch supper on Thursday evening in honor of Miss Marian Oberndorfer.

The Misses Ruth and Bess Chapman, of Boston, who will arrive here on their way home from California this afternoon, will spend a few days with Miss Stella Fabian before going East.

Miss Gladys McConnaughy entertained at an informal tea on Thursday.

Mrs. John Cain entertained twenty-four ladies at a bridge tea on Wednesday.

Colonel and Mrs. Edwin F. Holmes are at Oakwood, where they will spend the next few days.

One of the most beautiful luncheons of the week was that given by Miss Stella Fabian, at the Country Club, Wednesday. Covers were laid for twenty.

The marriage of Miss Hazel Taylor and Mr. Harold Peery, of Ogden, which will take place the last of the month, will be one of the most notable of the fall weddings. Miss Taylor has spent the past week in this city, and has been the recipient of a great deal of social attention.

Mrs. A. C. Ewing entertained at a large luncheon at her home on Tuesday, in honor of Miss Eva Madden, of San Francisco, who has been visiting Mrs. R. A. Keyes for the past fortnight. Miss Madden, who is a talented writer, has a host of friends here who are making it particularly pleasant for her during her visit.

Mrs. Kenneth Kerr and children will leave next Tuesday for Berkeley, and will spend some time with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Young before going to their home in Riverside for the winter.

If on Pleasure Bent

Your enjoyment is made keener if wearing our perfectly laundered SOFT WATER PROCESS apparel.

It's the greatest VALUE we have ever been able to offer the customer.

TROY LAUNDRY

Both Phones 192

The Laundry of Quality

166 Main Street

Schramm's Writing Paper Special

60 Sheets of Paper, 50 Envelopes
Best Quality Linen

50c

per Box

SCHRAMM'S

WHERE THE CARS STOP
Substation No. 4