

Hamilton's
CORRECT DRESS FOR WOMEN.
216 SOUTH MAIN ST.

WE are getting a little bit busier each day attending to the fall and winter wants of well dressed women.

The thing for you to do is to come in now while you can make the choicest selections, and receive the best of attention before fall shopping begins in earnest.

The things we can show you comprise the greatest collection of beautiful clothes for women ever seen in this city. That says a lot but we stand behind every statement we make.

were present to enjoy the bridge and the tea which followed.

In a society event of the week it was noted that a certain hostess had entertained a few close friends at bridge. Those are funny kind of friends to ask to a bridge party. Though under Mr. Pitt's arrangement of a closed town, it was probably just as well.

The tourist section of the Ladies' Literary club is now having a splendid time in Russia, where the greater part of the winter will be spent.

Mrs. Raymond S. Masson was the guest of honor at a tea and some other things given by Miss Lorene Leary and Miss Terrell on Thursday afternoon.

A number of informal affairs have been planned for Mrs. Masson for the coming week.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. W. P. Kiser entertained at an elaborate bridge tea at her home in honor of Mrs. Masson and Mrs. Sam C. Adams of Denver.

Mrs. Richard Stingley and Mrs. J. J. Campbell will give a bridge tea at the Country club on Tuesday next.

Miss Anna Blackburn, the charming niece of Mrs. F. E. McGurrin, who is visiting here, was the guest of honor at a delightful luncheon given by Mrs. McGurrin at the Country club on Wednesday.

Mrs. A. S. Rowan of Fort Douglas will entertain at an informal tea this afternoon in compliment to Miss Eva Madden.

Mrs. Don Porter and Mrs. Sam Porter entertained a large number of friends at a bridge tea at the home of the latter on Wednesday.

One of the prettiest luncheons of the week was that given at the Alta club on Wednesday, the table being set on the roof garden adjoining the main dining room of the club. Miss Mayme Noble was the hostess, the affair being in honor of Miss Eva Madden of San Francisco.

Mrs. John C. Daly and Mrs. William M. Meera entertained at a bridge tea for Miss Agatha Berkhoeel on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. A. D. Cleveland gives a tea on Monday afternoon for Mrs. Raymond Masson.

A pretty luncheon which took place Thursday was that given by Mrs. Henry Catrow at her home on Fifth East street.

The Misses Phillips were hostesses at a beautiful luncheon at their home on Tuesday, at which Mrs. A. R. Heywood of Ogden and their guest, Miss Richards, of Los Angeles, were the honored guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Steiner, who are visiting Mr. and Mrs. George A. Steiner, entertained at a dinner at the Country club, followed by a party at the Orpheum.

Mrs. Richard Keyes will entertain at a tea next Thursday for her guest, Miss Madden.

Dr. and Mrs. Will L. Ellerbeck entertained at bridge on Wednesday evening.

An announcement, which has been received with pleasure by his numerous friends here is
