

The return of Samuel Newhouse and W. S. McCornick from the east and their remarks on the national election, bear out the belief that most thinking men have had, that it will not matter greatly which is elected, and that after the smoke of the battle has blown over, the country will progress as never before, that there will be new life in every industry and that it will not be many months until the prosperity that had such a rude shock a year ago, will return anew.

In other words, as the gentleman stated, the sounded like the old days, and reading it, it is not very difficult to see that the Judge has not changed his ideas one whit regarding real Americanism. It was really one of the most interesting features of the local campaign, and was particularly enjoyed by B. H. Roberts and Apostle A. H. Ivins who had seats in a box.

It is amusing to read the Hessian's wise remarks regarding the campaign in Nevada. He knows so very much about conditions over country is bigger than any man, and while in the event of Bryan's election, there might be a temporary scare inaugurated in the east, that it will right itself readily, for the people are thinking pretty hard these days and while we believe that the majority of them would prefer Mr. Taft, it will not make a great deal of difference except temporarily, who is elected, for neither man is the ideal president in their eyes, the lines are not drawn as they used to be, and both candidates agree upon so many issues that there is really nothing vital to be decided by the election of either one of them.

That was a great speech Judge Powers made at the Theater the other night. At times it there, and the good that has been done for that state by the big men within its borders. If some of his vaporings on the qualities of Mr. Flanagan as compared to the sterling ones of Senator Newlands, might be published throughout Nevada where the Mouth does not circulate except in one or two colonies, Mr. Newland's re-election would be doubly assured. His facts are a bit twisted on what the Senator has done for the state and what Mr. Flanagan has done for himself in the state. As they say in the corrals when Mr. Flanagan's name is mentioned over there in the sage brush, "Bah."

And in another four years, Utah will be an American state.
