PHONE 48 J. D. LYNCH, Manager

At the Fifth Avenue Hotel, a Western man had left his family, which had accompanied him to the city, in their rooms so long that they had become uneasy about him. At last he returned to the rooms, and to the anxious inquiry of his wife, "Where in the world have you been so long?" he responded, calmly: "I've just been in the cuspedore, walking pro and con."

This is a Sargent story: A millionaire of coarse extraction went to Mr. Sargent's studio and had his portrait done. When the portrait was finished, the millionaire looked at it closely, and then said with a frown, "Not bad, Mr. Sargent; not at all bad, but you've left out one most essential feature." Mr. Sargent bit his lips to hide a smile. "Excuse me, sir," he said, "but I thought you wouldn't care to have the—er—er—warts produced." The millionaire, purple with rage shouted: "Confound it, sir, I'm talking about the diamond rings and pin—not the warts!"
