town and at the Post, with dinners and dances and a little more doing socially than is usual on Thanksgiving eve.

The german at the Fort promises to be a very smart event. It will begin at 9 o'clock, there won't be too many there, and the arrangements have been so well planned that it will be one of the real things in dances during the winter.

Elaborate preparations have also been made for the dance at the University club, with a dozen dinners preceding, and before sunrise the smart set will set a new precedent in the holiday gayety.

Mrs. A. H. S. Bird entertained at a large dinner at her home on Thursday night.

Mr. Clarence McCornick dropped in from New York early in the week on a brief business trip. Upon returning to the metropolis he will be accompanied by his mother and sisters, who will spend several weeks in the east.

In honor of Mrs. E. F. Holmes, Mrs. Karl Scheld entertained at a very beautiful luncheon at her home on Brigham street on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cohn and Miss Edna Cohn have returned home after a tour of six months abroad.

Mrs. Elizabeth J. Chambers and Lyster Chambers will be here early in December to visit Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Kiser. Mrs. Chambers will spend the winter here, but Mr. Chambers will continue on the Orpheum circuit with his sketch, in which he has made such a great success this season.

Mrs. J. Walcott Thompson entertained at bridge on Thursday afternoon.

Miss Lucile Clark will return home for the holidays.

Mrs. June Sadler Donnell will give a german at the Ladies' Lit. for her dancing classes a week from tonight.

The officers and ladies of the Post entertained at a hop on Thursday evening in honor of General Thomas.

Mrs. W. H. Hutchinson entertained at a luncheon at the Commercial club on Wednesday in honor of Miss Edna Jennings.

Mrs. Samuel Newhouse has returned from London and will be here for the winter, much to the delight of her host of friends, who greatly miss her during the London season.

Mrs. Heber M. Wells was the hostess at a beautiful tea on Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Bessie Grant.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Taylor, who have been the guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Critchlow, returned to Los Angeles on Thursday.

Mrs. W. E. Fife is visiting in Denver.
