WHAT THESE MAGAZINES WILL HAVE:

EVERYBODY'S.

Of Thomas W. Lawson fame. That wonderful fact romance of "Woman's Invasion," a gripping and dramatically told story of the lives and work of the women toilers of our cities, now running. The country's best writers and artists.

WORLD'S WORK.

John D. Rockefeller's Reminiscences. At last the man who has kept silent under much criticism speaks. Record of the world's big events. Sensational serial story of African adventure.

WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION.

A magazine for progressive women—recognized as one of the greatest of its kind in the world. Its fiction clear and interesting. Splendid fashion features. Profusely illustrated. Many special departments.

SUCCESS.

The most popular and successful home monthly of the day. Among its contributors are Edwin Markham, Robert Barr, Richard LeGalienne, Herbert Towle and others.

McCLURE'S.

One of the greatest of National Monthlies. Gen. Kuropatkin's history of the Russian-Japanese war now running. Samuel Gompers on the wants of organized labor. Burton J. Hendrick, John Fleming Wilson, S. H. Kemper and others are contributors.
