BEAUTIFUL NEW YEAR'S EDITION.

The New Year's edition of the Salt Lake Herald was issued Sunday. It was one of the most comprehensive issues of the Herald ever published. Every department was handled in splendid shape, with the result that the paper as a whole contained a large amount of valuable reading matter, finely illustrated.

The cover, symbolic of Utah's beauty spots and the new era of commercialism that is carrying Salt Lake forward so rapidly, is the work of H. L. A. Culmer, and reflects credit upon both Mr. Culmer and the Herald.

Jasper—The automobile I bought made my fortune.

Jumpuppe—You surprise me.

Jasper—I learned from it the profits of running a repair shop and I opened one.—Town Topics.

AUTOMOBILES THAT STAND TESTS.

Seven thousand miles with scarcely any up-keep expense places the Franklin 6-cylinder, air-cooled, Model "H" among the strongest and most durable cars on the market. Such is the record of the machine driven by Mr. George T. Odell, manager of the Consolidated Wagon & Machine Co., from this city to Idaho Falls, south to Richfield, east along the Short Line, passing close to Granger, returning to Salt Lake and west to the edge of the desert. Mr. Odell purchased his Franklin from the company June 2nd, 1908, and since that time he has taxed it heavily with hill climbing and heavy loads. It has stood every test placed upon it. Mr. Odell says: "I consider the Franklin air-cooled car a better proposition than a water-cooled car, but in no sense do I deprecate the latter."

Mr. Odell is also the proud owner of a Columbus electric, the "Car Supreme." He has been running it two seasons, and the odometer shows nearly nine thousand miles. Of this machine the owner says: "The up-keep has been very light. I have covered as much as fifty-nine miles on one charge, and during the total mileage have only had to change the batteries once. The one now installed is good for several thousand more miles. The expense for tires on both the Columbus electric and the Franklin has been nominal.

DRY WEATHER.

They hired a girl to dust.

A girl both tried and trusted;

She took all the dust in sight—

And then the dust girl dusted.

SOME RESOLUTIONS.

At the beginning of the new year the resolutions of the Louvre management are to enlarge the popular cafe so that there will be room for everyone; to add a number of attractive rooms where special parties may have more privacy; to so combine every modern idea in the management of the Rathskellar as to make it the most attractive spot in the west and withal not to lose sight for one moment of the fact that people have learned to look to the Louvre for the best in cuisine, service and general excellence.

EUGENE WILLE, Manager.

There is nothing so delicious as an oyster served on the half-shell, providing it is perfectly fresh. I receive them daily and furnish and open them at your home ready to serve. Every oyster guaranteed.
