

Social Saunterings

After a fairly long rest, so far as anything which might be described as "strenuous" has taken place, Salt Lake society has spent a very busy week. The men have been responsible for most of the affairs in the evening, and during the day the ladies have been busy enough with teas and luncheons and the like to forestall any chance for ennui.

On Sunday night, in honor of Miss Vera Snow and Leigh C. Murray, Robert W. Sloan entertained at a beautiful dinner at the Alta Club, and later entertained at a supper at the Louvre.

The same evening Harold Lamb entertained at dinner at the Wilson, followed by an Orpheum party, and an informal supper for a dozen guests in the Rathskeller.

On Monday night the inaugural ball claimed the attention of a large portion of the society contingent, and on Tuesday evening at the Country Club, Mr. Albert McCormick entertained forty friends at a dance in honor of Miss Moore and Mr. McCaskell.

On Wednesday evening Mr. Howard Garrett was the host at an informal musical at the Commercial Club, which was attended by a score of his friends.

On Thursday night Irving Armstrong and O. J. Sallsbury gave an elaborate stag party at the University Club, and this evening Jasper McCaskell will be the host at a large dinner at the Alta Club.

The smartest affair of Friday evening was the dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Newhouse at their residence in honor of Miss Moore and Mr. McCaskell, whose wedding, which will be the most important event of the week to come, will take place at the Newhouse residence on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. John Berry Sears of Chicago, who is the guest of the W. H. Cunninghams, has been the recipient of a great deal of social attention during the week at the hands of her old friends, who are outdoing one another in making her stay a pleasant one.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Cunningham entertained for her at a large bridge tea at her residence on U street. Mrs. Robert Glendenning was another hostess in her honor at a similar event at her home on Monday, and Mrs. June Sadler Donnell entertained at a luncheon for her, followed by bridge on Wednesday.

One of the most delightful events in her honor was the dinner given by Captain and Mrs. Cavanaugh at their quarters at the Post on Tuesday, and Mrs. T. Ashby Cleveland will entertain at a large affair for her Saturday afternoon.

In spite of a few washouts, a land-slide or two, and the usual spring events in railroad circles, travel the past week among those who always like to get away from Salt Lake, and like to get back, has been rather heavy.

Mrs. Lester D. Freed has returned from Chicago and is at home temporarily with her father, Judge Le Grand Young. Mr. Freed will arrive about the middle of February, when they will again take up their residence in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Gordon have returned from the east, where they have spent the past two months, most of the time being taken up along the White Hot Way.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ferry left for New York on Monday last, and will be away until the 1st of March.

Among the arrivals from Los Angeles during the week were Mrs. Hopper Dunbar (nee Geddes) and her son. Mrs. Dunbar, who is here to attend the wedding of her sister, Miss Katheryn Geddes, to Captain Conrad, will remain about three weeks.

James A. Pollock has returned from his holiday visit to St. Louis and the far east, and will remain here for two or three months.

Mrs. J. A. Greenwald returned from her visit to Portland during the week, and has as her guest Miss Edna May of that city, who will remain here until the early part of the summer.

Mr. Stephen Shaw of Denver, who arrived here on Wednesday, will be here a few days longer. Mrs. Shaw will arrive during the coming week and be the guest of Miss Katheryn Geddes until the middle of February.

The wedding of Miss Eva Castle, daughter of Mrs. Frederick L. Castle of San Francisco, who, by the way, is one of the most accomplished young ladies among the many in California society, to A. P. S. Macquisten, C. A., the prominent mining man, who registers from Glasgow, but whose Salt Lake friends claim him for their own, will take place in San Francisco on the 16th of February. This will be one of the most important events of the month from the viewpoint of society, for though the wedding will take place on the coast, their future home will be in this city, where, notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Macquisten has been obliged to give so much time to his professional duties, he has held a most prominent place in the social spotlight among those who quickly recognized his attainments. Miss Castle is the sister of Mrs. Charles D. Farquharson of San Francisco and Mrs. T. L. Cunningham of London. Before the quake, the Castle home at the corner of Sutter street and Van Ness avenue, in San Francisco, was one of the show residences of the city.

From the spectacular point of view, the inaugural ball was one of the most noteworthy events of its kind in the political history of Salt Lake. With the splendid music, the resplendent
