

Social Saunterings

A very beautiful affair was the reception and dance given at the Odeon on Tuesday evening by Judge William H. King, in honor of Governor Spry and Representatives David H. Morris and Fletcher B. Hammond.

Receiving with the host were the Governor and Mrs. Spry, whose gracious charm of manner assures the social success of the administration; Mr. and Mrs. Morris, Mr. and Miss Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Robinson, Mrs. Francis M. Lyman, and Mr. and Mrs. S. A. King.

Some five hundred invitations had been issued, and besides the large number in the city who attended the affair, the officers and ladies of the Post were present, and also a number from Ogden and Provo.

The dancing, which began at ten o'clock, continued until long after midnight. An elaborate supper was served during the evening, and every appointment of the delightful event was in keeping with the beauty of the surroundings. In all, it was one of the happiest events of the season which came to a close on Wednesday.

The marriage of Miss Sara Wycliffe Terrel and Rupert Kennedy Stockwell, which took place at the First Presbyterian church on Wednesday, the Rev. W. M. Paden officiating, was one of the most beautiful affairs of a month replete with pretty weddings.

In a setting of green with white blossoms, the church was tastefully decorated, and a large number of the friends of the young people witnessed the ceremony, after which the bridal party and a few intimate friends attended a supper at the Terrel home.

The bride, who entered the church with her brother, Dr. W. G. B. Terrel, looked charming in her Empire gown. She was attended by Mrs. Leslie Savage as matron of honor, and Miss Lorene Leary and Miss Mildred McMillan were the bridesmaids.

W. C. Baker was best man for Mr. Stockwell, and the ushers were William Leary and Paul Boise. Preceding and during the ceremony an orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Skelton, rendered beautiful music.

Mr. and Mrs. Stockwell are now in Ely, where they will reside.

A surprise of the week in society circles was the announcement of the wedding of Miss Evelyn Irene Smith of Visalia, California, and Gus Holmes, Jr., of this city.

Miss Smith is a prominent society girl of the California city, and Mr. Holmes is one of the most popular members of the younger set here. It is stated that they will probably make their home in this city.

There is additional interest in the Carmack murder trial now going on in Nashville on account of the testimony of Mrs. Eastman, who is pleasantly remembered by the friends she made while visiting Mrs. Russell Tracy here some years ago.

HAPPENINGS AND WHEREABOUTS.

On Tuesday the good stork left a baby girl in the bassinet in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Garnett.

Mrs. J. R. Walker will entertain at a luncheon at the Alta Club today in honor of Mrs. Conrad and Mrs. Cavanaugh.

Mrs. William Igleheart's reading of "The Servant in the House" was one of the intellectual treats of the week for those who heard her on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Kerr will be here in a few days to visit Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Kerr.

Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Woodruff have gone to Washington to attend the inaugural events.

Mrs. J. C. Leary and Miss Lorene Leary have gone to Massachusetts, where they will remain until fall.

Col. and Mrs. Wall, the Misses Wall and Miss Houston were among the Salt Lakers who witnessed the home coming of the fleet.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Filer have taken a cottage at Atlantic City, where they will remain for the next few months.

The masquerade at Fort Douglas on Monday evening was a delightful affair of the week. A number from the city attended the event.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Greenwald entertained at cards on Monday evening, in honor of their guest, Miss Edna May, of Portland.

Miss Bancroft entertained at cards on Monday evening.

Mrs. C. H. Post was hostess at a bridge party on Tuesday.

Mrs. W. S. McCornick entertained at a luncheon at her home on Thursday.

Mrs. Tom D. Pitt entertained at a reception and musicale at her home Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Keyes are home again after a visit of six weeks in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Oberndorfer entertained at a musicale at their home on Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Terrel entertained on Monday evening at a box party followed by a supper in honor of Miss Terrel and Mr. Stockwell. On Tuesday Mrs. W. Mont Ferry gave a supper for Miss Terrel and her bridal party at her home on Brigham street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lynch have returned from California where they have been during the past two months.

"Because She Loved Him So," William Gillette's comedy, will be presented at the Bungalow tomorrow night for a week's engagement by the Willard Mack company. The story is cleverly told, the play is full of action, the situations are refreshingly funny, and if Mr. Mack keeps up to his standard in staging the comedy, it should prove an interesting production.

Thomas Jefferson closes the week for the Theatre tonight in a revival of the old Jefferson stand-by "Rip Van Winkle." Miss Rosalie de Veaux, heads the supporting company for Mr. Jefferson and the performances averaged up fairly well with the dozen or more previous performances of the play here.

The Theatre offers "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday next week, the company numbering the majority of the players who recently completed a tour of Australia in the production with Ada Dwyer as its star. Miss Dwyer has left the cast, however, and Blanche Chapman will be seen in the role of Mrs. Wiggs, the sunny, easy going philosopher of the cabbage patch. And once more are we to see Helen Lowell as Miss Hazy, the pessimist.

An attraction of considerable merit has been on the bill at the Auditorium during the week, and continues for three days next week, in the act of Reckless Recklaw and Fanny Leigh, trick bicycle riders and fancy roller skaters. The team was brought here from the east by Manager O'Mara, and at the first performance made a big hit.
