

The History of

"Salvator"

In the year 1651, the dark days of medieval times, the Paulaner monks, with the aid and under the protection of the reigning prince, built a magnificent brewery, the product of which soon became famous and rapidly outclassed all other beverages.

It was freely served at the anniversary of Franz von Paula, the founder of the order, who was venerated by the Paulaners as their holy father and patron saint, and from whom the celebrated brew derived its name of "SANKTVATERBIER," which in time became corrupted into "SALVATOR." This remarkable brew became so sought after that it was the custom of the monks to send a hoghead to the Court at Eastertime.

This beer has been on tap for a limited time every year during the Easter and spring season at the "Heidelberg." So limited is the supply that the management was able to secure only thirty half barrels.

Herb Vall, last season one of Botterill's best drivers, has purchased a 30-Pierce Great Arrow, and has gone into the renting business. He can be found at the Botterill garage at all times.

The Con. Wagon & Machine people, for the first time this season, haven't a car on their sales floor, everything having been sold and delivered received so far this season.

Dr. Gill Richards has taken delivery of a Buick-10, and the last one of these cars the company has been able to secure so far, was sent out of town Tuesday for delivery. The last Ford the company has was delivered in Idaho, Thursday, and S. Taylor took delivery this week on the first of the new Ford Taxicabs to arrive. The company has three more of the cars coming, and early in April the firm will receive eight Franklin touring cars and two carloads of Buicks, part of the latter model 10's and the rest 17's. The 17 Buick is the stock car, in which Strang, the noted driver who recently joined the Buick forces, drove one hundred miles in 94 minutes, at Daytona, Florida.

The power of the springs of the Franklin motor cars was given a demonstration at the Kansas City automobile exhibition that is new in the showing of what a vehicle can be made to do.

A man of average weight would take a stand between the seats of a four-passenger runabout. Getting the body of the car in motion with a steady movement, as if he were on a spring board, he was able to create a gradually increasing momentum sufficient to lift the forward part of the car and make the front wheels rise from the floor, notwithstanding the fact that the runabout, a twenty-eight-horsepower vehicle, weighed 2,000 pounds.

This performance was one of the features of the show. The Franklin springs are unlike those of most automobiles, in that they are fully-elliptic instead of half-elliptic, a fact to which is attributed the possibility of such a feat.

THE EFFORT OF EVERY HOSTESS

Is to have her social functions as brilliant and sparkling as she can make them. The table of today presents a dull appearance unless enlivened by Cut Glass and Silver. They are counted the "Hall Mark" of gentility.
