

NANCY DAWSON.

By Herbert P. Horn.

Nancy Dawson, Nancy Dawson,
Not so very long ago
Someone wronged you from sheer love, dear,
Little thinking it would crush, dear,
All cherish in you so.
But now, what's the odds, my Nancy,
Where's the guinea, there's the fancy,
Are you Nancy, that old Nancy?
Nancy Dawson,

Nancy Dawson, Nancy Dawson,
I forgot you, what you were,
Till I feel the sad hours creep, dear,
O'er my heart; as o'er my cheek, dear,
Once of old, that old, old hair:
And then, unawares, my Nancy,
I remember, and I fancy
You are Nancy, that old Nancy;
Nancy Dawson.

"Your glasses," she said, "have made a great difference in your appearance." "Do you think so?" he asked. "Yes. You look so intelligent with them on."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"Should actresses wed?" asks a Paris paper. Certainly, but not to excess.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Green—Smith asked me to forget my troubles this morning. Brown—What for? Green—He wanted me to listen to his.—Chicago Daily News.

"He is going into politics; he thinks he's a politician." "What does his wife think?" "She's too much of a lady to tell."—Boston Traveler.

YELLOW CROCUSES.

O you plucky fellows,
All in sunshine yellows!
Braving bitter winds and cold,
Waving fearless flags of gold
Welcome crocus fellows!

Hardship and privation,
Sleet and snow for ration,
Leave you laughing, gay and bold,
Grieve you little—faith untold
Mocks at mere privation.

Welcome, comrade fellows,
All in sunshine yellow!
Still your cups of light unfold,
Out of clay your glory mould!
Welcome, plucky fellow!

SPECIALS AT THE LOUVRE.

The table d'hote luncheons and dinners at the Louvre Rathskellar are among the most popular features of the celebrated cafe.

We serve a merchant's lunch from 11:30 A. M. to 2 P. M., every day. The price is forty cents and the lunch is unexcelled by any in the city, in variety, preparation, service and general excellence.

Our table d'hote dinner served from 5:30 to 8 o'clock every evening—the real meal of the day—is enjoyed by connoisseurs who realize how difficult it would be to get such a dinner at the price, had we not made it possible.

Our after theatre specialties include every delicacy in the market east and west, and we wish particularly to call attention to the fact that we can always prepare on short notice for after theatre parties of any number. It is best to reserve your table early in the evening.

THE EFFORT OF EVERY HOSTESS

is to have her social functions as brilliant and sparkling as she can make them. The table of today presents a dull appearance unless enlivened by Cut Glass and Silver. They are counted the "Hall Mark" of gentility.

We are in our new store at No. 66 Upper Main street, and invite our friends to inspect the newest and prettiest things in fine china, glass-ware and silverware.

THE EARNING PERIOD.

Of a man's life is his season of plenty—his harvest time. It is then, if ever, that he must lay aside the stores for the winter of his life.

You—what are you doing with the proceeds of your harvest? Do you waste it all, or are you wisely saving a portion? These are pertinent questions—not impertinent. Let us help you to save. Make this bank your granary and keep safe the golden grain of your industry.

Four per cent on savings.
