

Saunterings

Once again the Brugulieres are in the spot light of the divorce court—no guess again, it isn't Pedar this time—but Emile, and his wife, clever Vesta Shore, it is said, charges cruelty and asks for their youngster and allowance enough to do a little better, then makes the ends meet. The Brugulieres are known best in California, but they have a large smattering of friends across two continents, and there are a number of them in little old Salt Lake.

The suit was filed secretly but as a general thing the Bruguliere suits do not remain under cover long, and it will be interesting to note the progress of this one for in the case of Pedar, his mother took sides with his former wife, who, by the way, made any number of friends in Salt Lake when she visited her sister, Mrs. Easton at Fort Douglas.

Emile Bruguliere has had some little success with his musical compositions, though no one has ever gone crazy about them, nor did Emile acquire any great wealth in their making.

From San Francisco is reported the return of Mrs. Bob Montgomery to the St. Francis, with Robert in Nevada again looking things over down in the desert where the gold comes from, and also where often the gold goes to.

In the same report is the story of how the Montgomerys sold the Montgomery-Shoshone to Charles M. Schwab a few years ago, when they didn't have enough coin to buy a split of Chicout, and the article also states that Schwab lost money in all his Nevada mining ventures in contrast to his success as one of Carnegie's lieutenants.

This ought to be real news to those who in a large or small way were associated with any of the parties to the Montgomery-Shoshone transaction, for the Montgomerys were very well off when they left Goldfield for the Bullfrog district, though they did not make their failure in their attempt to enter the social lists until getting a chunk out of the Shoshone transaction.

As for Schwab losing money in Nevada, it is to wonder what some of his eastern friends in the steel business, and numerous employes of the trust would have to say could they read that philanthropist Schwab lost money in Nevada. Didn't he let them in on Montgomery-Shoshone at $20 a share and now isn't it $1.25? Wasn't he courteous and thoughtful enough to pluck them an assorted variety of Tonopah and Greenwater lemons and let them have them while lemons were up? Isn't he the one best bet as the eleemosynary kid? Was he ever accused of doing anything to discredit Nevada in the eyes of eastern investors? Certainly not.

But, wouldn't it be nice to have what he didn't lose in Nevada, instead of beating a typewriter on a hot July day?

An exchange in commenting on the latest arrival in Spain says, "This is the queen's third child since her marriage!"

The F. E. McGurrins will have as their guest for a week or two Mr. Charles McGurrin of Chicago, a brother of Mr. McGurrin, who spent a part of the summer here a couple of years ago and who has a large circle of friends in this city who will welcome him back.

Mr. McGurrin will be entertained at a number of informal affairs during his stay.

Thirty or forty of the leading spirits in the smart set took a flying start early in the week, but grew calmer by Wednesday, and for a couple of days and nights have confined their efforts to the links, the courts and the motors.

Mrs. O. J. Salisbury, Miss Kinney and Miss Fitch were the guests of honor at a number of affairs including an informal evening at the Judge country place, a supper later at the Lewis McCormicks, a dinner given by the Ernest Bambergers at the Country club and the dinner given by Miss Genevieve McCormick at her home on Tuesday.

A delightful reception on Tuesday was that given by Mrs. A. W. McCune at her beautiful home in honor of Governor Spry and the board of the Agricultural College of Logan. Hundreds of guests attended the elaborate affair, which was preceded by a number of dinners.

Today at the Country club, there will be a tennis tournament in mixed doubles and later at the tea the hostesses will be Mrs. Robert Gemmell, Mrs. Ernest Bamberger, Mrs. Frank Judge, and Mrs. Lewis McCormick. There will also be a table d'hote dinner, and a dance for those who have the strength after the dinner.

Those who have comfortable cottages and several others have gone to Brighton, though there isn't the usual crowd owing to the delightful weather we have had in town. The Odell, Caine, Woodruff, Ferry, Harris, and Sadler cottages are open for the summer and there are a number of people also at the hotel.

The stories which regularly alternate in a local paper regarding the new gems being worn by Mrs. Newhouse, and the attempted robbery of them, must be very distasteful to both Mr. and Mrs. Newhouse, if they happen to see the absurd articles which float over the Hearst wires. But there is no gainsaying that the stories are news to both of them—that one about the black pearl and the emerald, for instance, which the friends of Mrs. Newhouse were shown two or three years ago. Two or three years after is pretty good work for that news service, however.

A beautiful luncheon, the second of a series was that given by the Misses Gladys and Marguerite Richmond on Monday for twenty of the younger girls.

Miss Luelle Clark was hostess at a delightful dance at Wandamere on Monday evening, the guests later enjoying a buffet supper at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Hamilton, who chaperoned the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McCune, Jr., are now at home at 37 7E. Third South street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ravenal McBeth have returned to their home in Idaho.

In honor of the Misses Jacobson and Simon of Portland, Mrs. Emmanuel Kahn gave a lake party early in the week.

At the Commercial club on Tuesday, Miss Mary Halloran was hostess at a delightful luncheon for thirty of her friends.

Mrs. Esther Filer is a guest at the E. S. Ferry cottage at Brighton.

Mrs. Pennel Cherrington entertained at bridge on Tuesday in honor of Mrs. Thomas Cherrington of Irontown, Ia.

Mrs. W. W. Armstrong gave a luncheon at the Country club on Wednesday.

Miss Norinne Thompson entertained thirty of her friends at the Country club on Wednesday and also gave a novel barn dance at her home Thursday night.

For Miss Florence Reynolds who is the guest of Miss Virginia Beatty and Miss Evelyn Powers, Miss Margaret Walker's guest, Miss Josephine Weil gave a dinner dance at the Lagoon on Wednesday.

On Wednesday, Mrs. A. S. Tobin gave a luncheon and matinee party for Miss Ada Ferguson, who recently returned from the east.

Mrs. F. J. Fabian will chaperone a party of young people at Brighton next week, including the Misses Chapman, Miss Fabian and Miss Ellnor Stewart.

Mrs. W. E. Fife has returned from a visit to Cheyenne, Wyo.

Mrs. J. Newhouse of Kansas City, was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by her daughter, Mrs. Harry Ganz on Tuesday.

Mrs. James Hogle and Mrs. Ellsworth Daggett entertained at a luncheon followed by bridge

It's Apparent

To all users of our laundry products that it reflects the results of expert knowledge of proper methods. Then Softened Water gives it the clear, clean appearance.

TROY LAUNDRY

Both Phones 192

The Laundry of Quality

166 Main Street

We are showing now a very complete line of

Manicure Necessities

Files and Scissors, Buffers and Polishers, Nail Dressings, all of Recognized Quality.

SCHRAMM'S

WHERE THE CARS STOP

Scissors Shopp.