

Initial payment left a neat balance in the bank and the monthly payments were the same as rent, though now we knew that we were paying for our own.

We took the house; to have and to hold, for better, for worse. In the past year of ownership the property has increased in value, the car line is being laid a block from us—we have every improvement and convenience—and for our faith and judgment we own the roof over our heads.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS FOR A NAME.

The Agricultural College of Utah is constructing a new woman's building which will be ready for occupancy in September, 1909. The building will be equipped in the most modern way for work in domestic science and arts.

The college desires to have the building named appropriately—and by the people of the state for whom it is being constructed. Twenty-five dollars will be paid to any person who suggests the most suitable name. The name must be submitted not later than August 15, 1909. Fifteen dollars will be given to the person who suggests the second best name.

In submitting names in this competition, the nature of the new building and its purpose should be considered. It will be devoted exclusively to work in domestic science and arts, that is, home-making—such as cooking, d'etetics, home sanitation, home decoration and management, laundering, plain and fancy sewing, dressmaking and millinery. The purpose of the course is to train future housewives to a broader and more sympathetic conception of their work—the greatest in the world.

Any man, woman, or child may compete. Twenty-five dollars for first choice; fifteen dollars for second choice; name to be submitted by August 15, 1909, to the Agricultural College of Utah, Logan, Utah.

EXPLAINING TO OLIVER.

My sense of sight is very keen,
My sense of hearing weak,
One time I saw a mountain pass,
But could not hear its peak.

—Oliver Herford.

Why, Ollie, that you failed in this
Is not so very queer,
To hear its peak you should, you know,
Have had a mountaineer.

—Boston Transcript.

Horse dealers have been relieved by robbers of $25,000 on the Russo-German frontier, doubtless acting on the principle of "second thief, best owner."

HOT WEATHER SPECIALTIES.

The cool, dainty, tempting things being served at luncheon, dinner, and later in the evening at the Louvre, are in exact accord with all demands of the connoisseur during the summer season. We serve daily the finest of everything in the market, including genuine brook trout, bass, and sea foods, especially shipped to this restaurant. We also wish to call the attention of our patrons, both local and transient, to the great variety of fruits and vegetables now to be had, to our fine spring chickens, ranch eggs, and every delicacy that every city and country market affords.

It is a good plan when motoring or at the resorts to order your dinner or supper beforehand, so that it will be ready for you and your party upon your return to town. We serve a table d'hote lunch and dinner, and an a la carte service from morning till midnight.

THE LOUVRE RATHSKELLER,

FINE CAMPING PLACE.

A good many people would like to get out of town for a few weeks, but do not know where to go; that is, they do not know where they can go and have green grass and trees and a good place to camp without they select some expensive place.

Such people may be glad to know that right here in the valley, twelve miles from the city, a mile and a half below the mouth of Big Cottonwood, R. Knudsen has a park of fifty acres, with the Cottonwood running through it, lots of trees, lots of grass, cold water, which can be reached in two hours by team or forty minutes by automobile, where all the surroundings are pleasant, where all the usual necessities of life can be obtained cheaply—just a camping place—no beer there, no whiskey, no company except such as one pleases to select—all the comforts of a home if you please to live in a tent and take your tent with you.

Until a railroad is built, people without teams cannot get there, and we suggest to people when they are out driving or out with their autos that they run up and see this place, because it is one of the most beautiful natural parks in the entire valley.

THE EFFORT OF EVERY HOSTESS

Is to have her social functions as brilliant and sparkling as she can make them. The table of today presents a dull appearance unless enlivened by Cut Glass and Silver. They are counted the "Hall Mark" of gentility.

We are in our new store at No. 66 Upper Main street, and invite our friends to inspect the newest and prettiest things in fine china, glassware and silverware.

GREAT ARROW

Our allotment of Pierce Great Arrows for 1910 will not be increased and as the demand from present indications, will be greater than ever, we are likely to be sold out even earlier than we were this year. Many intending purchasers of PIERCE GREAT ARROWS were disappointed in not being able to secure cars this past season and we strongly advise the placing of orders in the near future. By so doing your order can be given individual attention as to painting, upholstering and other little details. The Pierce factory makes no extra charge for special colors, upholstering, etc., but they must have ample time to carry out your ideas.

We can guarantee delivery at time desired. May we add your name to our list of Pierce owners?
