

Women's Tailored Suits

Shown in the Newest Styles for Autumn

Particularly pleasing is the display of new fall suits we're showing—embracing as it does the best productions for the season. Fabrics are herringbone, hopsacking worsteds, English tweeds, diagonals, serges and chiffon broadcloths. The new length, just "below the knee" predominates, with three-quarter length strong for second place. The backs are almost tight fitting; skirts are made up in the new yoke top effects with plaited flounce and cluster ideas for embellishments. A splendid representation of the season's best shades.

One especially interesting model is a very effective 42-inch tailored coat suit—about three-quarter length with fitted back. This in a fine serge fabric trimmed with braid, jet buttons, collar of silk moire, skirt in the new plaited effect and splendidly lined throughout. This number in best shades for fall. This is a splendid number at

Do you get the smell of rubber as the gum shoes hit the ground?
Do you recognize the durham in the "bull" they're passing 'round?
If you don't, be not deceived, there's nothing new beneath the sun
It's the pre-election promise and it goes to everyone.

"You know I've always been your friend and you could call on me
For anything I ever had, and you just wait and see
What it will mean to you when I'm elected, listen now,
There's nothing to it, take my word and I will show you how
To get in right and kill it kid, you can pack off the dough
If you go to it and work hard and stick around, you know."
How often, O, how often have we heard it, and again,
From every party every time and all the party men.

From that early day when Antony thrice put aside the crown
To the afternoon when Able Reuff shook all the restaurants down;
From the time that Mr. Richelleu made Louis eat the crow,
To the day that Fussy Jimmy bought a new wine press from Hoe,
From the time Confuscious voted twice, till Smoot got in the game
The surreptitious whisper has been very much the same;
And the pledges will have vanished when election day is o'er,
With the pre-election promise—would I like one? Nevermore!

AUTOMOBILE RACES HERE.

Arranged so quietly and rapidly that not half a dozen car owners in town have learned of it, plans are almost completed for an automobile racing meet to be held in Salt Lake the latter part of October that will outclass any event of its kind held in the west this year.

W. W. Finn, manger of the Utah Jockey Club, is promoting the meet, and the races will be held at the Buena Vista track, one of the safest and fastest mlie tracks in the world. The meeting is to be held immediately after the close of the horse meet arranged by the Utah Jockey Club for September 18th. The Buena Vista track has been put in splendid shape, the turns are banked to an unusual height, the surface of the track is well adapted for automobile racing, and the track is of sufficient width to permit of a big field of fast cars. Under the arrangements now being consummated, some of the fastest cars racing on eastern tracks this year will be brought here for the meet, and they will be piloted by such drivers as Barney Oldfield, Strang, Burman, and others who have made records since the opening of the present season.

The announcement comes as the surprise of the year to the motoring public of Salt Lake and vicinity, and beyond a doubt the meet will draw an enormous crowd. The season has been the best in the history of the automobile business in Utah. Every car dealers have been able to secure has been sold, and more cars are in use in the state than even the most sanguine anticipated. All around us racing meets have been held with great success. Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, Portland, Tacoma, Boise, Butte, Denver, and Cheyenne have all had their track events this season. The Cheyenne meet, which took place a week ago,
