

Saunterings

With the scattering of the younger set of late, the past ten days have been unusually dull, for the mountains and the sea coast have claimed so many that the remainder have scarcely had the heart to start anything. They'll all be back in a fortnight, though preparatory to planning the winter trips and gayeties, and owing to the number of September weddings, this month promises much for those who make a specialty of the butterfly stuff.

Doesn't that word winter sound ominous? It's pretty nearly here, though. All hail the clinker and the weather strip.

The Twenty-ninth Infantry, commanded by Colonel Hobart K. Bailey, sailed from Manila on the transport Thomas on August 15th, and upon its arrival in San Francisco next month will leave for New York, where its members will be divided, the headquarters being at Fort Jay, another battalion going to Fort Niagara and the third to Fort Porter.

The Twenty-ninth is the popular regiment which was stationed here preceding the coming of the Fifteenth, and contains many officers, the local friends of whom will be glad to hear of their homecoming.

The officers returning on the Thomas are: Captain John F. Madden, Captain Ulysses G. Worrilow, Captain John N. Straat, Captain Will H. Point, Sixth Infantry; Lieutenant Edwin O. Saunders, Lieutenant Alfred Brandt, Lieutenant Joseph N. Cummins, Lieutenant Wiley E. Dawson, Lieutenant John R. Emory, Colonel Stephen C. Mills, Inspector-General; Captain Charles G. Rhoades, Sixth Cavalry; Captain Conrad S. Babcock, First Cavalry; Captain Daniel J. Moynihan, Philippine Scouts; Lieutenant John S. Fair, Ninth Cavalry; Lieutenant Ode C. Nichols, Thirtieth Infantry; Lieutenant Seeley A. Wallen, Seventh Infantry; Lieutenant William A. Cacciola, Philippine Scouts; Major Edwin P. Pendleton, Captain Bryant M. Wells, Captain Charles H. Paine, Captain Ernest M. Reeve, Lieutenant Paul C. Galler, Lieutenant Charles Keller, Chaplain Stephen R. Wood, Lieutenant Charles W. Mason, Jr., Lieutenant Ernest L. Pell, Lieutenant Jacob H. Rudolph, Lieutenant-Colonel John C. F. Tillson, Eighteenth Infantry; Captain Charles W. Castle, pay department; Captain Frank Nickerson, Philippine Scouts; Captain Harry McElderry, Philippine Scouts; Lieutenant Samuel R. Gleaves, First Cavalry; Lieutenant Walter E. Gunster, Eighteenth Infantry; Lieutenant Converse R. Lewis, Tenth Infantry; Lieutenant Michael E. Silney, Philippine Scouts.

The friends of Mrs. Henry L. Van Wyck, the mother of Mrs. Arthur V. Callaghan and Miss Gertrude Van Wyck, were surprised and shocked to hear of her sudden death at San Francisco on Wednesday last. Mrs. Van Wyck, who, with her husband and daughter left here for her home in San Francisco, died of paralysis, and so sudden was the summons that there was no warning. That she was not even indisposed preceding the stroke is borne out by a letter received by Mr. Callaghan on Tuesday last, in which it was mentioned that the family intended starting on a brief pleasure trip the following day.

The sudden demise of Mrs. Van Wyck will materially change the plans for the wedding of Miss Gertrude Van Wyck and Mr. Archibald Clark Potter of New York, which will be a very quiet affair and will probably take place sooner than had been planned.

Mrs. Mary Judge, accompanied by her daughters, Mrs. Theodore Baldwin and Miss Katherine Judge arrived here Wednesday. Mrs. and Miss Judge have spent the past six months in California, where Mrs. Baldwin joined them in June. Mrs. Baldwin will remain here several weeks at the Judge town and country houses before joining her husband at his new post in the east.

Miss Mary Wall will be the hostess at a large bridge tea at the Country club on Tuesday next, in honor of Miss Bess McMillan, whose marriage to Charles L. Smith will be one of the important social events of the month.

Tennis for the men and golf for the women has been the story of every day at the Country Club this week, where the contestants in the two tournaments are making the fur fly. To date there have been no astonishing surprises in the play in either tournament, though the games on both the courts and the links have been extremely interesting with very close finishes and numerous spectacular exhibitions. Following the games today there will be numerous dinners at the Country club to be followed by a large dance in honor of the contestants.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hamilton of Omaha, who are visiting the Brig Cannons have been the guests of honor at numerous affairs given by the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Cannon. The largest of these was a dinner given by Samuel Newhouse at the Alta Club Tuesday evening, the guests later going to the Newhouse residence. Mrs. Hamilton is one of the beauties of the Nebraska metropolis.

The good stork was very busy the past week in society circles. Captain and Mrs. Bryan Conrad are rejoicing over the arrival of a daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. James Foley are receiving the congratulations of their friends upon the arrival of another young lady at their home.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Rae Bartch to John August Lloyd, which will take place on Wednesday evening, next, at the First Presbyterian church. This will be the first of the fashionable September weddings and an important event for the members of the younger set among whom the principals are very popular.
