TIME AND THE TELEPHONE.

The back yard beautiful contest being now on, the following conversation was heard over the telephone: Hello, Central, give me Wasatch 4-11-4-4.

Hyland 4-7-4-4?

No, 4-11-4-4, Wasatch.

Beg pardon, I'll get them for you. (Long pause.)

What number are you calling?

Wasatch four-eleven-four-four.

The line is busy.

(Longer pause.)

This is Buyem and Sollem's.

Give me the flower department.

(Some wait.)

Is this the flower department?

Yes, it is.

I want some flowers.
What kind?
For window boxes.
O, this is the artificial flower counter. You want the florist's department.

Get it for me, please.

(Five minutes more.)

Hello, is this the florist's?

Yes.

I want some flowers for window boxes.

You want the hot house. This is the cut flower department.

Well, give me the hot house, please. They're busy just now.

(More delay.)

Is this the hot house?

This is the horticultural department.

I wish some flowers for window boxes.

What sort do you want?

What kind of geraniums have you?

We have some splendid Giganteum Florosa Follaginous.

What's that?

Giganteum Florosa Follaginous.

Yes—that. Are they red, white or blue, or what?

Shaded reds.

Send me half a dozen.

Yes, what else?

Have you any small vines?

We have some nice Polyoporus Sulphureus Stragiosa.

Poly-o-which?

Poly—

O, never mind. Have you any wandering Jew?

You mean, I fancy, Cyntherellos Creosporus?

Maybe I do. Send me half a dozen. Have you any ivy?

We have some specially fine Coptosus Alloverus.

Would you mind talking in English? I'm no seed catalogue. I'm merely a woman. Send me some of that ivy.

Yes, madame.

Do you know what Creeping Charlie is?

O, you mean the Radiatus Everywhere Variegatus?

Do I? Well, we'll take a chance on half a dozen.

Yes, assorted, I suppose.

Assorted by all means. What else have you that's nice?

We have some lovely Strychnia Robustis Queeribus.

That's good. Let me have half a dozen of them.

And let us send you a few Tryphostickolorum.

I shall be most pleased if you would; I had almost forgotten them. Send these in the morning with your bill and some florist's earth.

Have you a charge account here?

No.

We don't send plants C. O. D.

Stick to Stickney's.
