GEORGE ARLISS COMING

It is said by some that not since the curtain was rung down on the careers of Henry Irving and Richard Mansfield has an audience witnessed a performance that could approach that of Mr. George Arliss in "Disraeli", scheduled for a week's engagement here at the Salt Lake theater beginning Monday, October 5th, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday, under the management of the Lieber company.

The original Disraeli, one of the greatest of English statesmen, authors and wits, has been dead only about thirty years, and is vividly remembered by many living persons. But Disraeli was a man of many eccentricities and a lover of dramatic effect, so that the character has given Mr. Arliss and Mr. Parker, great opportunities. In his portrayal of the statesman, Disraeli, Mr. Arliss has undoubtedly taken a step forward, not only for himself but for the theatrical profession, for his interpretation of the character will be recalled as one of the artistic creations of the present time.

"Disraeli" deals with the statesman's successful endeavor to gain control of the Suez canal for England, a work in which he meets with the secret opposition of diplomatic spies. There is consequential intrigue which has been softened by a love story and a glimpse of Disraeli's home life. The dialogue is clever and the costumes of the period, the early 70's, lend the play unique pictorial quantities. Mr. Arliss's company includes Ernita Lascelles, Margaret Dale, Florence Arliss, Lilla Campbell, Charles Harbury, Vincent Sternroyd, Arthur Eldred, Henry Carvel and Dudley Digges.
