the fear on the way home that they would be unable to sleep. "You'll be all right" drawled one of them "you should worry. Just think who gave the dance and count sheep."

The wedding of Miss Helen H. Hartley and Sylvain Noack of Boston, took place at the Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening in the presence of a notable gathering of their friends, and later an informal reception was held at the home of the bride.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George E. Davies, and those in the wedding party were Mrs. P. T. Clotfelter of Los Angeles, matron of honor, Miss Hazel Morse and Miss Margaret Andrews, bridesmaids, and Helen Shields Taylor, ringbearer. The bride entered with her uncle, Richard Hartley, George E. Skelton acted as best man for Mr. Noack, and the ushers were Charles C. Campbell, Francis Letchfield, Edwin J. Shields, and Elmer Spader.

Mr. and Mrs. Noack will spend the month on the Pacific coast, and will later go to Bar Harbor before going to their home in Boston for the winter.

Colonel Mark Diamond who says he originated the hesitation waltz thirty years ago, and claims to be the oldest continuous dancer in captivity outlines the following rules of health:

"Eat, drink and smoke moderately. I smoke when I feel like it, drink with my meals, but never to excess.

Take plenty of exercise. Mine consists of dancing, and I know of none better.

I have never had a doctor in my life. When I feel ill I begin to fast. That is the best cure I know for any ill.

Dancing is my recreation. I have been doing it since I was three years of age, and I think I am the most active man of my age in the world.

All right girls, what are you going to do about it? Most of you are there with the dance, but how are some of you going to manage to drink and smoke moderately? If Colonel Mark is right, you'll have to give up the dance, the nicotine or John Barleycorn. May one hazard the guess that it will not be the Scawtch.

One of the most interesting weddings of the month of roses will take place on Thursday, June 7, at St. Mary's cathedral when Miss Frances McChrystal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. McChrystal of Eureka, will be the bride of Leo A. McNamee of Las Vegas, Nevada. Mrs. Edward C. Parsons will be matron of honor and Miss Genevieve McNamee will attend Miss McChrystal as bridesmaid. Mr. McNamee's best man will be Arthur J. McChrystal and the ushers, John M. Wallace, Dr. J. J. Galligan and Norman Kane.

Maude Leone is appearing in one of ex-husband Willard Mack's thrillers entitled "Inside Stuff," which was written expressly for her. No, the rumors are all wrong. The present Mack family is getting along very happily, thank you.

At the cowboy and cowgirl dance given at the Tennis club on Wednesday evening, there were some striking costumes, perfect in every detail clear to the cartridges in the belts of some of the rangers, though the shots were reserved for their friends.

News comes from San Francisco that Roy Carruthers, who within the past two years has literally made the Cliff House in San Francisco, has accepted a responsible position with the Palace Hotel, and moved into town. Carruthers, who is very popular all over the intermountain country where he is almost as well known as he is in San Francisco, has the best wishes of his
