CHANGES OF A YEAR.

A Retrospective Glance at Brigham City's Progress.

To the Editor of THE HERALD.

Taking a retrospective glance at the history of Brigham City during the interval between 1876 and 1886, many wonderful changes are visible on every hand—changes which ten years ago would have been considered almost impossible to take place. Going back to Christmas, 1876, we see the Brigham City Co-operative Mercantile and Manufacturing Institution nearly at the zenith of its prosperity, with a large number of branches of home industry in full operation, in which were employed some 500 persons, all of whom were laboring for the accomplishment of one great and praiseworthy object—the permanent establishment of home manufactures. At that time we had but one store in Brigham City, which was patronized by all our citizens. We had, at that time, one butcher shop, one shoe shop, one tailor's shop, one millinery shop, one blacksmith shop.

Christmas, 1886, in Brigham City, presents a very different appearance to that of ten years ago. Our co-operative mercantile establishment occupies a large three-story building on Western Avenue, and carries about $500,000 worth of stock, consisting of dry goods and general merchandise. This institution has a wholesale and retail trade, and employs some six clerks.

Next come Booth & Peirce's mercantile establishment, who also carry an extensive stock of general merchandise. This firm employs three or four clerks and does a good business. Next we have Mr. George Gidney, Mr. Christian Nielsen, Horsley & Sons, E. A. Box, John Christensen, Christian Holst, Lorenzo Grache and others in the mercantile business. Then we have the Box Elder wagon and hardware establishment, which is a prosperous and solid institution, and most of these business houses were had a rush of trade during Christmas time, and our citizens generally appear to be prosperous and happy.

Recreations and amusements have been in order during the past week. On Saturday evening last our Home Dramatic Club performed "Love's Sacrifice" to a crowded house. Indeed, numbers were unable to obtain seats or standing room, and returned home disappointed in not being permitted to witness our home club's initial performance this season.

On Saturday evening last our Home Dramatic Club performed "Love's Sacrifice" to a crowded house. Indeed, numbers were unable to obtain seats or standing room, and returned home disappointed in not being permitted to witness our home club's initial performance this season. The cast of the play was as follows:

Mathew Elmore..... Mr. E. H. Peirce
Paul Lent..... Mr. A. H. Snow
Eugene De Lerna..... Mr. D. P. Burr
St. Le..... Mr. R. H. Jones
Frisar Dominic..... Mr. A. E. Snow
Morice..... Mr. M. M. Faulkner
Per Yorsay..... Mr. J. E. McMaster
Jean Ruse..... Mr. Frank Bowring
Baptiste..... Mr. Oscar Forsgreen
Margret Elmore..... Mrs. E. H. Peirce
Heraldie..... Miss Madelon
Nanon..... Miss Martha Wright
Jenny..... Miss Becky Nichols

The play was performed in a careful, artistic and satisfactory manner. Of course Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Peirce, as usual, received unnumbered accolades for their excellent acting as the stars of the play. The other characters were all well up in their parts and business, and hence, the play ran smoothly throughout.

On Monday evening last, a grand dress character ball, which was gotten up by Mr. Morris B. Young, was held in the Theatre, and proved to be a very interesting affair. There were about seventy couples present, most of whom were dressed in character and the most attractive and best of whom were: Mr. Morris B. Young, as Miss Bridget McCarthy, a fine Irish girl; Mrs. M. B. Young, as the Stars and Stripes; Mr. L. O. Peirce, as Miss Sally, a fashionable, high-toned "Cullud" Gal; Mrs. L. O. Peirce, as Good Luck, with costume covered with golden horse shoes; Mr. A. E. Snow, as a fine old English nobleman; Miss Parthenia Snow, as an Indian Princess; Mr. R. H. Jones, as Hamlet, was well-made; Mr. George R. Savage, of Salt Lake City, as a Japanese nobleman; Miss E. Stark, as a Big Sunflower; Mr. James Forrest as a Paddy; Mr. E. A. Lingood as George Washington; Mr. Willis Booth, Jr., as Schnieder Dycker; Frank Bowring as a Hartlequin; Frank Pitt as a high-toned negro; Mr. E. K. Wilson, Jr., as a Mexican cowboy, etc., etc.

During the evening, Mr. M. B. Young favored the company with a song in the Hawaiian language, which was very entertaining. Mr. John Booth also sang Michael Schnieder's Party in excellent style. Mrs. M. B. Young recited "Whistling in Heaven" with good effect. Mr. Geo. R. Savage sang "Till Wilcox" in a mirth-provoking manner. Yesterday our Second Ward Sabbath School officers gave the scholars a treat in the shape of a dance. In the centre of the Hall there was a large Christmas tree loaded with presents. There were over two hundred presents distributed among the children at the close of the dance, and the children enjoyed themselves immensely. The inside of our Theatre is receiving considerable improvement. The gallery has just been newly-seated, and two new dressing rooms are being fitted up on each side of the stage. These improvements were much needed, and will be appreciated by both audiences and performers, at entertainments here in the future.

On Saturday evening next our Dramatic Club will present the play of "The Two Orphans." It is said that the proceeds of last Saturday night's performance amounted to $114, which amount will be devoted towards a new organ for our Tabernacle.

Weather here is mild but gathering clouds portend a coming storm. Yours truly, J. B. BRIGHAM CITY, Dec. 30th, 1886.

Pleaded Guilty. CHICAGO, December 31.—Colonel W. H. Bolton, ex-superintendent of second-class mail matter, in the Chicago post-office, recently indicted for embezzlement in the United States District Court, this afternoon, pleaded guilty to withholding $12,000 from the government. His counsel cited Colonel Bolton's honorable war record, and the fact that he has turned over all his property to the government, equal to about the amount of the embezzlement. The court said he would defer sentence.

He returned last night, entered the home of his former employer and stole a sum of money, and $7,000 worth of jewelry and other valuables. The thief was arrested this morning while boarding a train for New York. The valuables were recovered.

THE BEST MEDICAL writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will by its own action, reach all the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh during the past few years obliges us to admit that only one remedy has completely met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. The pore distressing symptoms quickly yield to it.

"HACKMETACK," a lasting and fragrant perfume. Price 25 and 50 cents. For sale at A. C. Smith & Co.'s Drug Store.
