THE INFAMOUS TEST OATH LAW

The Schemes For County Division and How they Are Worked—General Notes of Interest.

BOISE CITY, Idaho, January 10, 1889. —[Special Correspondence of THE HERALD.]—In a previous letter, your correspondent mentioned the fact that several high license bills had been introduced in the House. There was very little difference between them. The object of the authors of all save the first was, no doubt, to claim the paternity of the bill reported by the committee, whatever it may be, and if it should pass it will not want for fathers, as each who offers an enactment bearing on the temperance issue will claim the chicken after it is hatched. The House committees have been holding meetings nightly, and on Monday evening the five Boise preachers addressed them. The liquor dealers had done so the previous week. D. P. B. Pride, the great Sanhedrim of the Republican party in Idaho, was called upon for a speech on Monday evening. He said but little, and it was to the effect that his mind was entirely engrossed in matters having reference to the Statehood of Idaho. He believed his mission in this world to be to bring such a desirable state of affairs about under a constitution embodying the principles of the test oath law. When all this was done he could bend his energies to the accomplishment of

OTHER GREAT MORAL REFORMS which were occupying his mind, but he considered Statehood and the wiping out of the Mormon issue in Idaho the questions of the hour, and paramount to all others. The committee have not yet reported, but will probably continue the present series of meetings and hear arguments pro and con as long as orators will present themselves. In the meantime, many Republicans are "moving heaven and earth" to compose a defeat of the measure, and unreservedly declare that if it passes it will ruin the party in Idaho. They say it will not only array the liquor interests against them, but that their enemies will stigmatize the Republican organization as Puritanic blue stockings, and point to the fact that the first Republican Legislature Idaho ever had, was also the first to create sumptuary laws. The Democrats are saying nothing. Their enemies have an almost unanimous Legislature, are alone responsible for its acts, and the former looks on with more of curiosity than concern. There is NOTHING SO DANGEROUS as power, particularly in the hands of those who are not accustomed to its exercise. The story is not a new one, but apt of the negro captain of a military company upon the island of Hayti, who drilled the troops under his command in the presence of some American officers, and after doing so asked their opinion as to the discipline his men had acquired. After the reply had been made in terms of commendation, the captain walked deliberately up to one of the privates and knocked him down with his fist. "What did you do that for?" was asked. "To show my authority," was the reply. Those who have closely watched the acts of Idaho's representatives in the Assembly during the present session will be quite certain to conclude that they have in many cases been actuated by no higher motive than the negro military commandant.

THE BILL FOR A RE-APPORTIONMENT of the Territory will pass as the Republicans wish it, and no matter what the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States may be in relation to the constitutionality of the test oath law, the great mass of the people of Southeastern Idaho will remain practically disfranchised. We can see no help for it for during a term of years. There is no possibility of obtaining justice at Washington and no hope of it with a disfranchised people. But "when thieves fall out honest men get their dues," and the seeds of disension are sown and are taking deep root in the Republican party of Idaho. The various bills providing for the naturalization of Mormons in Idaho after the lapse of years from the time they apostatize have not been reported upon. Like the Cid in Byron's Corsair: "And I have pondered, and I ponder still, On pangs that longest rack and latest kill." All the venom of the Republicans will be embodied in the provisions of this act when reported and it is probable that they will go so far in their madness that no court in the land can follow them, however personally they might feel disposed to do so.

THE LONGEST BILL of the session was introduced Monday by McPherson, of Alturas. It overhauls the entire school law and will make at least forty bill pages when printed. It would be impossible to give your readers an idea of its provisions within the limits of a letter. If it should pass the Council and is likely to become the law it will be time enough to give some of its most important provisions.

An effort is being made to have a wagon road constructed by the Territory from Mount Idaho, in Idaho County, to Little Salmon Meadows in Washington Territory. The political stock in trade of the Nez Perces and Latah people who favor territorial division and annexation of the severed part to Washington, has been that there was no means of communication between the north and south of Idaho save by going through Washington and Oregon; at the same time they have opposed the making of such lines of communication so as to preserve their argument. The annexation scheme is now generally considered as dead and it is probable that the road will be built. Southern Idaho has always been favorable, particularly the country west of the Sawtooth range.

If you want to see the average Idahoan

"GET UP AND HOWL," talk in opposition to one of his pet schemes for county division. Washington has one, Alturas three, Custer one, Bingham one, Ada one and a large number of counties yet to hear from. Never was there a people so greedy for territory, particularly the Alturas people, who have expended several thousand dollars during the past summer in running lines upon its boundaries so as to take in, if possible, parts of Boise and other outlying counties. They forget that—

Extended empire, like expanded gold. Exchanges solid strength for feeble splendor.

And whether it be desert or snow-capped mountain, it matters not, but is grasped with eager hand. Those division questions have been a fruitful source of corruption, and many a thousand dollars have found their way

INTO THE POCKETS of Idaho legislators ere this when this class of bills came up. They do not make their appearance until towards the last of the session. It would cost too much to introduce them at an earlier period. No railroad bill has been introduced as yet, with the exception of Badley's, compelling them to fence where running through cultivated fields.

We are told that $5,000 was placed in the hands of a member two years ago to defeat the freight and passenger bill, to which a majority of members were pledged before its introduction, and that the honorable succeeded to the satisfaction of the road, keeping one half the treasure himself. The money outlook is not very favorable this year. The railroads have placed many members under obligations on account of the juketing trip and yearly passes, and fear no infringement on their prerogatives while the general depression on Wood River and other points, where county division affects, has made money scarce and hard to get. It is rather

AN UNFORTUNATE STATE OF AFFAIRS for some of the boys in the assembly who are serving their country, but there seems to be no help for it. Guns were fired at the barracks on Monday last on account of its being the anniversary of the battle of New Orleans.

The amount of ice put up here this season is very large and is the finest crop that has been gathered for a long time, being very clear and free from snow.

Provo Points.

THE weather has moderated. ATTORNEY BOOTH has been rusticated a few days in Thistle Valley.

A MINUTE snowstorm on Wednesday night didn't amount to much.

The Primary Association of the Fourth Ward are having a party in the ward meeting house this afternoon.

DANIEL M. SMITH, of Pleasant Grove, was driving through the muddy streets of this city in a sleigh on Thursday afternoon.

We have some vagrant pups in Provo that seem to be without visible means of support. These poor orphan dogs have probably strayed away from Ogden.

The Rival Merchants was presented in the Opera House last night before a moderate audience by the Snow-Houtz Company. The troupe have been so thoroughly written up in THE HERALD there is no call for any further criticisms or comments.

J. WHITTAKER, of Pleasant Grove, met with quite a severe accident in Provo on Thursday, by falling down the stairway from Sutherland & Saxey's law office on Centre Street. He was severely bruised about his head, and taken into Osterloh's boarding house where Doctor Simmons dressed his wounds, and in a couple of hours the old gentleman had so far recovered as to be able to ride to his home in Pleasant Grove.

TO DEFINE the political situation in the political center of the Territory perhaps the following, cut from the American, is sufficient: "Now that the Democrats are going to put a candidate in the field for Probate Judge of Utah county, the fight for that office begins to assume the characteristics of a catch-as-catch-can. It is rumored that a Republican candidate will also be put up. So the man that can get the office will earn it." By way of explanation it may be well to say since the Liberals nominated J. D. Jones, a petition was sent from here to a mining camp in this county for signatures. The miners thereupon held a meeting and resolved they wanted no change, as they were well satisfied with Judge Dusenberry, and they so notified the Provo Liberals.

THE Provo theatre is supplied with an abundance of water to be used in an emergency to extinguish fire if necessary. Ever since the house was opened, the president of the company, Mr. H. H. Cluff, has urged the necessity of a system of waterworks and has succeeded in having a couple of large tanks put up in the loft on either side of the stage. These tanks are supplied with water by pipes from a force pump in the basement, and the water is conveyed from the tanks to any part of the building in hose. During the recent cold weather the water froze in the lower part of the pipe and burst it, so that as the pipe thawed out on Friday it commenced leaking. The pipe carries the water up over the top of the tanks and down inside, so the leak below proved the pipe to be a perfect syphon and was drawing the water out of the tanks. Now that he has discovered this Mr. Cluff will not rest till the defect is remedied.

Provo, January 12, 1889.

Payson Pickings.

CHARLES W. HEMMENWAY, formerly of Ogden, late of Waukon, Iowa, has removed to Payson, where he will reside for a season.

THE Payson merchants are all well pleased with their trade for the past year, the large surrounding agricultural district providing a constantly increasing patronage.

THE Hulsh Brothers, photographers, have pitched their tent for the winter months in the Tithing Office yard, where they are ready to do all work in their line in a manner to sustain their reputation as first-class artists.

MRS. SULLIVAN, the popular and highly educated teacher of the Payson Presbyterian School, assisted by her daughter, has over eighty pupils in her charge, all that the chapel, which is used as a school room, can accommodate.

In our Opera House, the Snow-Houtz Dramatic Company played Ernest Mal-travers, night before last, to a fair sized attendance, the playing throughout being excellent and highly appreciated. Last night The Rival Merchants was presented, the acting, for a home company, being exceptionally good, each part being rendered with power and feeling, while the large audience showed its pleasure by close attention and frequent applause.

UNDER the high license, adopted about two years ago by our city Messrs. Taylor & Maxwell have been running an orderly billiard hall and saloon with so much success that another is to be started soon by Mr. Edward Collet, in the building just vacated by the Chicago Store. With two places of resort, our young men will not be as crowded about the pool tables as they have been in the popular place of Taylor & Maxwell's, and can give more attention to skillful billiard playing.

MR. SOLOMON HANCOCK, the rustling butcher of our city, has just moved his shop to the lot immediately back of Hancock's Hall. He has enlarged his shop to three times its former size and has ordered a complete outfit of sausage machinery, to be run by steam power. It is his intention to build a large improved smokehouse, and when fully prepared, to manufacture a first-class line of smoked meats and sausages for the adjacent towns and the Tintic mines.

Last November a number of our young men organized a political club for the purpose of studying civil government, parliamentary laws and the political customs of our country. About twenty members are now enrolled. At the last meeting a debate was held on the subject of tariff versus free trade. PAYSON, January 11, 1889.

ECZEMA CAN BE CURED.

The most agonizing, humiliating, itching, scaly, and burning Eczema are cured by the CUTICURA Remedies, when physicians and all other remedies fail.

I have been afflicted since last March with a skin disease the doctors called Eczema. My face was covered with scabs and sores, and the itching and burning were almost unbearable. Seeing your CUTICURA Remedies so highly recommended, concluded to give them a trial, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally, and RESOLVENT internally for four months. I call myself cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement.

Mrs. CLARA A. FREDERICK, Broad Brook, Conn.

Eczema Three Years Cured.

CUTICURA REMEDIES are the greatest medicines on earth. Had the worst case of Salt Rheum in this country. My mother had it twenty years, and in fact died from it. I believe CUTICURA would have saved her life. My arms, breast, and head were covered for three years, which nothing relieved or cured until I used the CUTICURA RESOLVENT.

J. W. ADAMS, Newark, O.

Eczema on Baby Cured.

My baby has been troubled with eczema on his face, neck, head, ears, and entire body. He was one mass of scabs, and we were obliged to tie his hands to prevent his scratching. I have spent dollars on remedies without effect, but after using one box of CUTICURA and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP the child is entirely cured. I cannot thank you enough for them.

E. W. BROWN, 12 Mull St., Brooklyn, E. D., N. Y.

Eczema on Hands Cured.

Two years and a half ago Salt Rheum broke out on my right hand. It appeared in white blisters, attended by terrible itching, and gradually spread until it covered the entire back of my hand. The disease next appeared on my left hand. I tried many remedies, but could find no cure until I obtained the CUTICURA REMEDIES, which effected a speedy and permanent cure.
