IMPROVEMENT TO BE MADE IN LOCAL ORGAN

Through the courtesy of the Kimball Organ company, a complete set of "stop diapason" pipes, sixty-one in all, has just been received by Organist Sam F. Whitaker of the Ogden Tabernacle and will be installed in the Tabernacle organ in the near future.

The new set of pipes is valued at $400 and will form the foundation tones of the organ. It was ordered to replace the set of violin pipes, as Organist Whitaker considered the violin pipes in the swell organ sufficient for all purposes. The stop diapason pipes will add a beautiful quality of tone to the organ and will be an appreciated improvement. Mr. Whitaker expected to exchange the violin set for the stop diapason, but the organ company sent word with the word that no exchange would be necessary, thus delivering the new set of pipes without cost, except for their installation.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our sincere thanks for the kindness shown us during our hour of bereavement in the death of our beloved son. Especially do we thank the B. R. T. also speakers and singers for their consoling remarks and beautiful music, also for the beautiful floral offerings.

MUSICAL COMEDY WITH PRETTY GIRLS

Feature on New Empress Bill.

The best all-around vaudeville show in many weeks is looked for at the Orpheum this week when the new bill opens tomorrow. The sterling comedian, Clark Ross, and a company of 15 players will present the spectacular musical extravaganza, "The Mermaid and the Man," as the headline attraction, with the assistance of May Haight. On a miniature scale, the act is equal to any two-dollar musical comedy production, it is said. The costuming is unusually good, the scenic embellishments are positively the last word in stage mechanics and the musical numbers and ensembles are above the average. John M. Hymer has given vaudeville several very excellent things among them "The Devil and Tom Walker," which played the local Orpheum a year or so ago. It is one of the largest productions to play on the S. & C. circuit. The balance of the show is above the average and contains some good comedy, with singing and dancing and the comedy sketch. Box office opens today.—(Advertisement).

CLAIMS FACTORY IS NOW ASSURED

Lon J. Haddock, representative of the Utah Cereal Products company, was in the city yesterday afternoon on business connected with that corporation.

In speaking of the advance that has been made toward the establishment of the plant in Ogden, Mr. Haddock stated that enough stock had been placed to assure the erection of the building this year and that the plans were now nearing completion. The Utah Cereal Food company will use for its trade mark the words "Sego Lily."

LEONA GREEN CASE HAS BEEN DISMISSED

This morning in Judge N. J. Harris division of the district court, on motion of City Attorney Valentine Glendon, the appeal case of Ogden City against Leona Green, colored, was dismissed. The attorney stated that the witnesses for the city were not on hand and that he had no proof to offer.

HEAVY STORM OF THE NIGHT DOES DAMAGE IN THE CITY

Gutters Overflow, Streets Are Washed Out and Basements Flooded—Rain Is General Over Northern Utah—Farmers Benefited, Except Those Who Had Hay Cut in Fields.

One of the heaviest rainstorms of the season visited the city last night and today. Rain fell heavily all night and had not entirely disappeared at the noon hour today. According to reports, it was a general storm, the center apparently being in Weber county. There was considerable rain between Ogden and Salt Lake and as far north as Logan but the "pour-down" was in Ogden and vicinity.

Farmers say that the good that will come to grain fields can hardly be estimated, but that damage will be done to early cuttings of alfalfa which are in the fields. In many instances, farmers were cutting their alfalfa rather early to beat the weevil and there is quite a large amount of hay on the ground.

In Ogden valley there was a constant down fall during the night but it did not have the effect of raising Ogden river. The ground was porous and dry and absorbed the water about as fast as it fell. It is possible, however, that both the Ogden and the Weber rivers will increase in volume in the next few hours.

In the city, gutters from Twenty-second street to the south limits of the city were filled with water in the early morning hours and much sand and gravel were washed to the intersection of Washington avenue from the residence district on the Bench. An extra force of early this morning was called out early this morning to take care of the water and great piles of dirt were thrown up at the intersection of Twenty-second, Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets. On Twenty-fifth street, between Adams and Washington avenues, a channel about three feet deep was washed in the loose earth on the north side of the car track. At this point the O'Neill Construction Co. had been at work the past two days grading and placing concrete. The concrete base was completed last evening about half the distance between the two avenues, but the west part was left in a soft condition which afforded the flowing waters ample opportunity to wash under the stone blocks near the curb, much of which caved in and left the street torn up.

At the Shupe-Williams candy factory, on Wall avenue and Twenty-sixth street, the sewer became so filled and clogged that the basement of the factory was covered with water to a depth of about 12 inches, damaging a stock of sugar. By the noon hour, however, the overflow had ceased and the sewer was gradually draining the basement. All the stock will have to be removed and not until that is done can the exact damage be estimated.

There are sewer drains in the immediate vicinity of the factory and the sewer there received all the water that came from east of that point. The water overflowed the gutters in the south part of the city and for a time this morning it was difficult to travel the streets and sidewalks. Commissioner Bybee stated that the roadway between the city limits and Riverdale was inundated this morning when he came to the city.

COLORED PEOPLE ARE BEFORE POLICE MAGISTRATE

Four misdemeanor cases were heard in the municipal court this morning and taken under advisement by Judge Reeder. The first was that of Joe Wattis and Thomas Healey, who were charged with disturbing the peace. Wattis, a negro, pleaded guilty, and Healey is guilty. The two men were arrested by Sergeant Peterson and Patrolman Wooten last night following an altercation that took place in front of the Bank Smokers on Washington avenue near Twenty-third street, in which Healey was knocked out. Sergeant Peterson testified that he went to the scene of the trouble in answer to a call and found Healey in the Cave Drug store, unconscious. He was informed that Wattis had caused Healey to take the count, and after a short search, found the negro in a house about a half-block from the drug store. He was informed later by Howard Goddard that Healey had used abusive language in trying to collect 45 cents from Wattis. He gave the negro the money to pay Healey and then ordered the two out the cigar store.

Wattis stated that Healey asked him for 45 cents, without having any reason whatever for doing so. He borrowed the money from Goddard and gave it to him, just to keep peace with him. The two went out on the sidewalk and Healey "cussed" him and was going to force him to fight. In self protection, he continued, he was compelled to "pop" the old man "one."

Healey claimed that Wattis "mooched" him for 45 cents to cover a bet on a baseball game, saying that he would give him a dollar for it in about 5 minutes. The negro did not come back and the witness went after him. He found Wattis in the cigar store and he denied having borrowed the money. This made Healey angry and he insisted on the return of the money. He finally got it and a moment later, Wattis had knocked him to the sidewalk with a blow in the eye and had then kicked him in the jaw, rendering him unconscious. Owing to the contradictory stories, the judge decided to have more witnesses called and continued the case until tomorrow morning.

John Daley, a drunk, forfeited $10 bail.

W. J. Rogers, a 23-year-old youth from Logan, had his case taken under advisement. He was arrested on a charge of drunkenness.

Charles Wilson was also arrested on a "drunk" charge, but was found to have several articles of "phony" jewelry in his possession and his case was also taken under advisement.

Ella Thomas pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy and Jennie Walker pleaded not guilty to the same charge. The two are colored women. The trial of the Walker woman was set for Saturday morning and that of her companion was continued. The two were arrested last night by Officers Peterson and Manzel, in the Central hotel. At the time of the arrest, the officers came upon a complete "hop" outfit, all but the pipe stem being found on a table in the room. The pipe stem was later found behind a picture hanging on the wall.

The Thomas woman, in telling her story, said that she came to Ogden from Green River about a week ago and had just stopped over on her way to Salt Lake City. She stated that the "hop" outfit had been left in her room by a negro named Will Harris, yesterday. The case will be further investigated by the officers.

Deaths and Funerals

CLARK—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Alice Clark was held yesterday afternoon in the Liberty ward meeting house, with Bishop Arthur N. Ferrin presiding. The speakers were Virgil B. Stallings, Joseph Ririe, W. Thompson, Oliver A. Penrod and Bishop Ferrin. The interment was made in the Liberty cemetery and the grave was dedicated by John Gibson.

ONO—Mrs. Kin Ono, wife of Fukutaro Ono, died yesterday at 5 p. m. at the family residence, 2457 Lincoln avenue. Her death was due to cancer of the stomach, from which she had suffered for more than a year. She was 48 years of age. Her body was taken to the Kirkendall mortuary, where funeral services will be held tomorrow at 3 p. m. Interment will be made in the Japanese plot in Ogden City cemetery. Mrs. Ono's husband sails from Japan to America today.

DAMAGE SUIT IS SENT TO LOCAL COURT BY JUDGE

The case of Antonio Giancolo against the Corey Brothers Construction company, which was instituted in the third district court, has been transferred by Judge F. C. Loebbour to the district court of Weber county for trial on the grounds that the defendant company resides in Ogden.

The plaintiff is suing the company to recover personal damages in the sum of $10,000 for alleged injuries sustained while employed at Tucker, Utah, in September, 1913. The complaint alleges that, while the plaintiff was drilling a hole in a certain excavation for blasting purposes, the bank caved in and injured the plaintiff about the head and eyes, and other parts of the body.

THE WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

WALL STREET. New York, June 3.—The market closed strong today. Upward tendency of prices was due to exhaustion of professional selling pressure and signs of accumulation of certain railroads and specialties. Railroad shares were bought more freely on late dealings. Atchison, in particular, responded to reports of good earnings and crop prospects.

There was no evidence in the early trading of further liquidation, such as depressed prices yesterday. The market held steady at the opening with a small volume of business. New Haven made up nearly a point of its recent loss on the first few transactions, but subsequently relinquished its advance. Fluctuations otherwise were confined to fractions, save for a one-point loss in sugar.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, June 3.—Wheat continued to advance today, influenced by firm cables. It was said the drought in southwestern Russia had not been relieved, as the rains reported to have fallen there proved to be scattered and light. Assertions that black rust was spreading in Oklahoma, and had reacted a little, but then made a further ascent.

Good demand from the east helped the corn bulls. There were incessant advices too, of unfavorable weather in Argentina. After opening a shade to 3/8¢ 1-4c up, the market reacted a little, but then made a further ascent. Oats sympathized with the strength of other grain. The fact that the growing crop was in a critical period with field conditions none too favorable tended to restrict selling.

In provisions, buyers were in a majority. An upturn in prices at the yards formed a fresh incentive for an advance.

The wheat close was strong 1-8@1-4 to 7-8c net higher.

The corn close was steady, 1-8 to 1-4c net advance.

RIGHT-OF-WAY MUST BE KEPT OPEN, SAYS COURT

In the case of Asael Farr against the Wheelwright Construction company, Judge Howell has rendered a decision in favor of the plaintiff as a result of which certain ground on Grant avenue, between Twentieth and Twenty-first streets, must be vacated and turned over to the public as a highway. The defendant company claimed that the ground in question was not a public highway under the terms of its purchase a few years ago and for the further reason that it had never been dedicated for public use by the city.

The court held that the deeds given in the sale of the property provided for a right-of-way over the ground and that the right had been exercised by third parties to the extent that easement for right-of-way of travel had been obtained and that all barriers against the exercise of the right should be removed. The ground in question is about 2 rods by 10 rods in dimension. The plaintiff testified that his father, the original owner, had set apart the space for public travel and intended that the right should be held inviolate.

A HARD PART TO PLAY. "You don't seem to be as fond of Charley Dawkins as you used to be." "No; I admit that I don't care for him at all any more. Sometimes it seems as if I just couldn't wait until after Christmas to tell him so."—Judge.

Bundhar Wilton DURABLE AS IRON

Rugs and Carpets

are, beyond question, the superiors of any moderate-priced floor coverings. Bundhar Wiltons are unusually durable—they are wear resisting and even when they must withstand the daily grind of many feet or the glare of sunlight, they retain their beauty of design and coloring to the end.

"Durable as iron" is not an idle catch phrase—it is truthfully descriptive of these handsome rugs.

In design they are unusually beautiful, the colors being rich and harmonious, while the designs are often accurate copies of rare Oriental rugs.

And we might add that there's a size to fit any room, no matter what its proportions may be.

We will be glad to show them to you.

STANDARD

Want Advertisers Practice the "Don't Worry" Philosophy!

With people who have learned to UTILIZE Standard classified advertising, the usual small "worries" of business and of home life do not loom at all large. If "Help" is needed, Standard want-advertising obviates worry. If tenant-loss is imminent, Standard want-advertising turns the matter into a mere incident. They act upon the theory that when a thing gets big enough to worry about it is big enough to justify some want-advertising.

The Ideal Home Coal

When we say that "Aberdeen" is the west's best coal, believe us. Government tests confirm it.

You can burn "Aberdeen" in the cook stove, furnace, grate or heater—it is the ideal home coal.

Try it this summer.

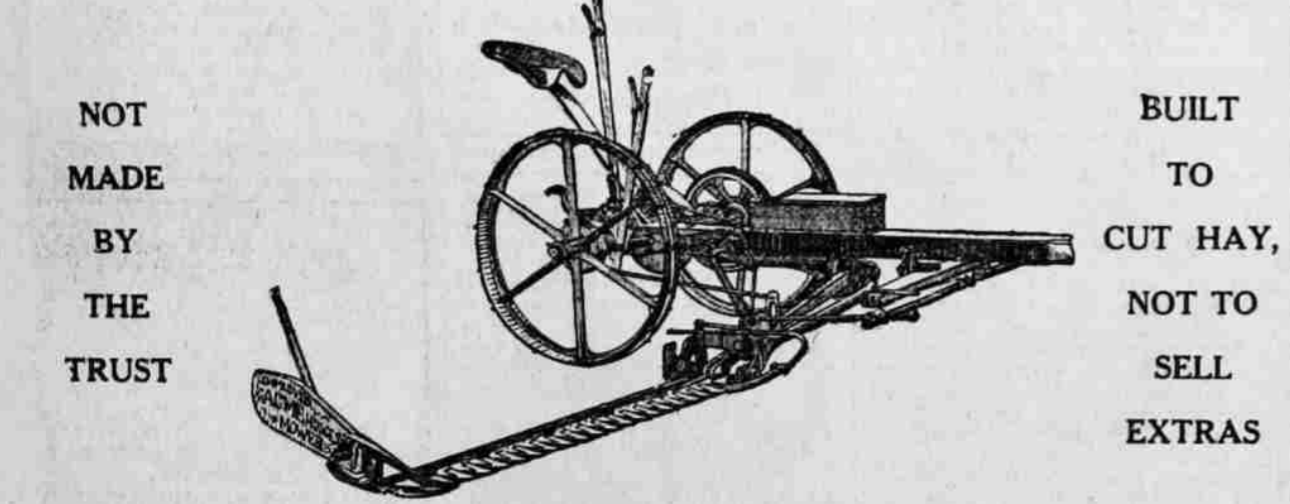

In making a fire for meal preparation, use about half what you would of other coals. It will furnish sufficient heat for cooking and still not heat up the house.

Now don't be content with coal claimed to be as good as "Aberdeen"—there is none.

When buying, insist upon—
