M'LOUGHLIN WINS LONGWOOD BOWL

One More Victory Gives Permanent Possession of Trophy to Californian.

Boston, July 29.—The custody of the fifth Longwood bowl, famous as a tennis trophy, was regained today by Maurice E. McLoughlin of San Francisco, after a brief and somewhat uninteresting match with the holder, William M. Johnston, also of San Francisco. McLoughlin needs another victory to obtain permanent possession of the trophy. He won a leg two years ago, but defaulted last year to Johnston.

In his successful career through the Longwood tournament this year, McLoughlin met and defeated in straight sets N. W. Niles, T. C. Bundy, A. S. Dabney, N. R. Williams, R. L. Murray and W. M. Johnston. He appeared to exert himself less today than in any of the five previous contests with the exception perhaps of that with Bundy.

Johnston handled McLoughlin's cannon ball service as well, if not better, than either Williams or Murray, but he was weak at the net when he dashed in and lacked the strength of Murray to drive from base lines.

At no time in the match was McLoughlin pushed nearly as hard as in his contests with Murray and Williams. Even in the first set when Johnston took three games in succession and made the score four all, the set without jumping into the air or making any unusual effort. In the last two games in that set McLoughlin earned six out of the thirteen played points, and made but three errors.

His only slump in the match was in the eighth game in the second set, when two nets, three outs and failure to handle two of Johnston's service drives, gave the latter the game and tied the score for the set. Again McLoughlin came back in the next two games with four precise shots, catching Johnston off his foot in each case and rattling the younger player into making a double fault.

To Put On Flesh And Increase Weight

A Physician's Advice.

Most thin people eat from four to six pounds of good solid fat-making food every day and still do not increase in weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It is all a matter of the nature of the individual. It isn't Nature's way at all.

Thin folks are thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They absorb just enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Stuffed won't help them. A dozen meals a day won't make them gain a single "fat" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare these fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body—something, too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

For such a condition I always recommend eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is not, as some believe, a patented drug, but is a scientific combination of six of the most effective and powerful flesh building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet wonderfully effective and a single tablet eaten with each meal often has the effect of increasing the weight of a thin man or woman from three to five pounds a week. Sargol is sold by A. R. McIntyre Drug Store and other good druggists everywhere on a positive guarantee of weight increase or money back.—Advertisement.

FORMER AGGRESSIVE ACTS OF AUSTRIANS

London, July 30, 5 a. m.—In an editorial article strongly anti-Austrian the Times says: "Franz Josef's manifesto recalls a former occasion when he rashly drew his sword against Piedmont. The manifesto does not contain any reference to the absence of territorial ambitions."

"Europe is on the verge of a war more terrible and general than the great war of a hundred years ago. Commenting on the Budapest Post-Lloyd's statement that the remotest consequences have been fully thought out, the Times says:

"We do not pretend to forecast the remotest consequences for which Austria-Hungary has assumed the dread responsibility. We believe no man can foretell them. But we do know what some of the immediate results of the intervention of another great power must be to Europe and to ourselves."

"This government and this nation reserve for themselves the most complete liberty of action in such an event. If France is menaced or the safety of the Belgian frontier, which we have guaranteed with her and with Prussia, we shall know how to act. We can no more afford to see France crushed by Germany or the balance of power upset against her than Germany can afford to see Austria-Hungary crushed by Russia and that balance upset against Austrian and Hungarian interests."

"Upon that issue, should it become an issue to be determined by blood, our friends and our enemies will find that we think and act as one man."

"The great war lasted for a quarter of a century and for the whole of that time it killed, for all practical purposes, not only France, but party among us. We knew then and we know now that when we strike for the vital interests of the crown and of the nation we strike as one man, and it was that which gave us the victory against the world in arms, and that it is that, as we feel and know, which will give us the victory again if we are forced into the field."

EMPLOYERS FEAR LABOR FAMINE

Large Numbers of Austrians and Hungarians in Pennsylvania Apply for Transportation.

2000 PASSPORTS GIVEN

Thirty Thousand Men May Return to Fight for Native Country.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 30.—Fears of a labor famine were expressed yesterday by heads of great industries in many parts of eastern Pennsylvania as a result of the present European crisis. Large numbers of Austrians and Hungarians in this city applied to their consul for transportation back to their native country, while at South Bethlehem officials of the big steel and coke plants received passports for 2000 men.

Paul A. Revka, Austria-Hungarian deputy consul at Wilkesbarre, who represents the government in twelve counties of the anthracite region, notified the emperor's subjects yesterday of the partial mobilization order. In his district he estimates that there are between 80,000 and 100,000 subjects of Austria-Hungary and if a general order is issued he declares that more than 30,000 of them will return to fight for their country.

Coal operators are apprehensive, saying that such an exodus would mean a serious shortage in the working forces of the mines.

ALL PATRIOTS ARE CALLED TO COLORS

New York, July 30.—A proclamation calling upon all patriotic Austrians, Hungarians and Croats to send their addresses at once to their nearest consulate, has been forwarded for publication to all pro-Austrian-Hungarian newspapers throughout the United States by Charles F. Winter, who is in charge of the Austro-Hungarian consulate in this city. This is taken as indication that a partial mobilization of Austrian forces has been ordered. The proclamation contains the amnesty proposal announced on Tuesday.

Thus far the war clouds overhanging all Europe have not affected the bookings of European ports nor is it believed that many bookings have been cancelled on account of it. About 400 Austrians and Servians sailed yesterday on the LaSalle among them being General Károlyi, leader of the Hungarian independent party.

Gains New Complexion By Peeling Her Skin

"Keep still, sad heart, and cease weeping. Behind the clouds the sun still shines. I was forcibly reminded of these lines when, after months of fretting over my ugly complexion, I found how easy it was to remove the cloudy, muddy skin and bring forth a bright, new complexion. I got an ounce of ordinary mercurized wax at my druggist's and used this like cold cream every night for two weeks, washing it off mornings. Lo and behold! That old skin had all peeled off. The healthy young skin underneath gave me a beauty that I, a white and soft as a young girl. I've perforce no discomfort, the skin came off so gradually and gently. Several friends have been similarly benefited. I'm sure anyone whose skin is soiled, annoyed, or blemished, pimply or freckled, can acquire the loveliest complexion imaginable by using this remarkable treatment."

Another treatment that brought more sunshine was one to remove wrinkles. A face bath made by dissolving 1 cc. powdered snail in 1 cc. of witch hazel, soon erased every line. It's wonderful—Julia Orr in The Queen.—Advertisement.

FIRST BATTLE IN AIR MAY SOON BE FOUGHT

Paris, July 29.—That the imminent clash between Germany and France will result in the first battle between aeroplanes and dirigibles for the supremacy of the air is admitted by military experts, who are already weighing the probable outcome of such a struggle.

The public of France has confined its aerial experiments almost entirely to the heavier-than-air machine and has a fleet of nearly 5000 planes under control of the war department. The Kaiser, on the other hand, has leaned toward the huge dirigibles of the Zeppelin type, whose long traveling and lifting ability have given concern to other governments.

A large number of noted French aviators, led by Roland Garros, have offered their services to the minister of war and it is believed he will accept their aid. At the first signal of war hundreds of swift French aeroplanes will cross the German border to aid the republic in the realization of the hope which has been deferred for forty-four years—revenge for the loss of the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine.

MARRIAGE HURRIED BY OUTBREAK OF WAR

Paris, July 29.—A hasty wedding between Miss Gladys Virginia Stewart, daughter of the Countess de Strale Dekna, and a member of an old southern family, and Count Julius Apponyi, member of a great Hungarian family, was brought about early today by the Austro-Serbian war.

The couple had planned to marry in Geneva on August 5, but last evening Count Apponyi received a telegraphic summons to join his regiment in Budapest immediately, prepared to go to the front. After a hurried conference between the count, the bride-elect and her mother, an immediate wedding was decided upon. The mayor of Geneva and the priest in charge of St. Joseph's church were

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, July 30.—Incessant warlike reports, taking the place of signs of possible peace, sent the wheat market soaring today. The opening, which ranged from 2 to 7 1/2c higher than last night, was followed by some additional upturns, but also by a reaction of 2 cents or more. Later the market again stiffened.

Corn showed much more responsiveness to the wheat excitement to day than any previous time. All other influences were virtually lost sight of. The market opened 3/4 to 1 1/2c higher, and receded to an extensive extent when wheat received a setback.

War disturbances extended into the oats trade in a decided manner today, though not so decisively as corn and wheat. Nevertheless the market in some cases swung upward nearly 2 cents a bushel.

Of all the staples traded in, provisions alone escaped the war contagion. Prices were firm, but no more so than might easily have happened from ordinary trade conditions.

During most of the day comparatively little was done in the wheat pit, notwithstanding price changes were unusually wide. The close was heavy but 6 to 7 1/2c above last night.

The subsequent corn dealings rose and fell with wheat. The final level was 1 to 3c above last night but tending down grade.

LONDON WOOL.

London, July 30.—War having eliminated foreign competition the home trade took the offerings at the sheep skins sales today. Prices realized showed a decline of 3/4 to 1-2d below the last sale. A few fine half-breeds were taken by Americans at steady prices.

THEATERS

The announcement that Bruce McCrae will appear on the screen in the latest photodrama staged by the Famous Players' company, "The Ring and the May" at the OgdEN theater, for three days commencing tonight, should be source of congratulation for the theater goers of this city. Bruce McCrae, who achieved distinction on the stage in a long list of dramatic successes, and more recently in "Nearly Married" and "Nobody's Widow," portrays the role of George Fordyce, alias, Gornley, with a degree of faithfulness difficult to estimate and the result is a production of such superiority as the stage seldom sees.—Advertisement.
