Horoscope

Sunday, December 13, 1914.
(Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Astrology finds this an unusually lucky day, since Mars, Venus, Saturn and Jupiter are all in benefic aspect and Neptune alone is adverse.

The portent that shipwrecks are to multiply is so strong that they who are wise will delay travel on the seas. The Pacific ocean is included in this warning.

The day is a fortunate one for all who desire to win public or private approbation. Ministers should be most successful under this sign. Much work during the winter is indicated for the clergy, who will more and more ally themselves with humanitarian enterprises.

Trouble and anxiety for prelates in the Roman Catholic church is indicated by the stars.

The sway is most auspicious for scholars and thinkers. It is a favorable time to make plans regarding educational movements, philanthropic, charitable and benevolent enterprises.

Physicians should profit by the stimulating and inspiring conditions that are believed to prevail under this configuration.

It is a fortunate day for love affairs and romance. Meetings between men and women are subject to an omen which gives promise of happiness.

There is a lucky sign for all social functions. Assemblies at which important problems are discussed or distressed persons are honored are subject to a fortunate influence.

The seers prophesy that Christmas this year will be a day hallowed by incidents of world-wide moment. An event that will make the brotherhood of man a reality is foreshadowed.

Women are told to prepare for exacting duties, since the stars presage a new order of things in which they are compelled to accept grave responsibilities.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a busy year, which brings disappointing returns. Those who are employed should be cautious.

Children born on this day have rather a lucky star to guide them. They are subjects of Sagittarius, and their principal ruling planet is Jupiter, which gives hope, benevolence and sociability. Many athletes are born under this sign.

Astrology finds this a most uncertain day, for many planets wield conflicting influences. Uranus, Mars, Saturn, and Jupiter are all strongly adverse, while Mercury and the Sun are in benefic aspect.

Uranus is in a place of power for evil, and it is held that, while the rule prevails, extreme and unexpected characteristics are developed. The expert operates to increase the activity of the mind, making it rebellious, irritable and exacting.

It is an exceedingly unfortunate government for diplomacy or legislation, since the judgment is apt to be impaired and the mind is likely to be easily biased. Sudden changes of opinion are probable.

This is not a lucky aspect for traveling, especially for transportation in electrically propelled vehicles. There is a sinister sign for airships and the death of American experimenters is foreshadowed.

Under this configuration domestic disagreements are said to be common. The seers believe that, owing to the disturbed conditions in Europe, men and women everywhere reflect mental unrest and depression.

Greece and the Balkans are subject to an evil rule of the stars.

Boston has a sinister prognostication for much illness, inclement weather and industrial unrest are indicated.

San Francisco has a better outlook than in previous months. The stars promise recognition of a great art impulse in the west and fame is foretold for sculptors and painters.

Texas and Arizona are likely to experience unusual troubles in the next few months. Peculiar weather conditions will affect business activities and danger of complications with Mexican border operations is presaged.

Persons whose birthdate it is may have many anxieties in the coming year. They are warned to avoid speculation.

Children born on this day may have numerous vicissitudes. They are likely to be bright, hopeful, generous and charitable.

When the table was not in use the draw string was pulled up over the contents of the table to form a protection from dust.

A pincushion was attached to one corner of the table, stuck full of safety pins, needles, and pins; scissors were fastened on with a tape, as also was a reel of cotton.

Then underneath the table was slung a flat wooden box, attached by means of tapes and a few nails to the legs of the table. It was covered with cretonne both inside and out and a loose cover was made to go over the top to match the table cover. In this the baby's clothes were kept.

The mother had everything she could want for baby at hand—even his sponge and soap were kept on the table—and she never had any bother in looking for things at inconvenient moments.

KNIGHTS OF THE MACCABEES ELECT

Silver Temple No. 1, Knights of the Maccabees, held its annual election of officers meeting last night in the lodge rooms. The officers elected are:

Commander, Leo J. Parry; lieutenant commander, Harry L. Peterson; recorder and financial keeper, Joseph D. Harris; chaplain, Bryant J. Furniss; sergeant, Daniel R. Davis; master-at-arms, Halcom F. Scott; first master of the guards, George F. Vaughan; second master of the guards, James E. Rose; sentinel, Louis J. Griffin; picket, William B. Ogletree; trustee, Louis J. Griffin.

Dr. J. C. Hanchett, district medical examiner, attended the meeting and made a brief talk concerning the order. Sir Knight Zimmerman of Silver Temple No. 2, Salt Lake City, was a special guest. Following the election, refreshments were served and several hours were passed in social recreation.

MACCABEES ELECT.

Eureka, Dec. 11.—Tritonic lodge No. 13, Knights of the Maccabees, at their last regular meeting, selected the following officers: Past commander, Charles Taylor; commander, Miner Peterson; lieutenant commander, Allen Ivey; physician, Dr. E. J. Howell; record keeper, John Ivey; finance keeper, Conrad Kopman; chaplain, W. D. Myers; sergeant, Andrew Johnson; master of the arms, John Pearson; first master of the guards, Edward Fox; second master of the guards, Edward Erickson; sentinel, Eric Beck; picket, Eric Levin; trustees, Robert Adamson, one year; Charles Taylor, two years; Joseph McCahey, three years.

BRONX IS TO BE PRIVATE SECRETARY

Boise, Ida., Dec. 11.—Governor-elect Moses Alexander announced today the appointment of C. O. Broxon, managing editor of the Capital News, as his secretary while he is governor of this state, the appointee to take office when the new governor is inaugurated January 4, 1915.

Mr. Broxon is the first appointment made by the governor-elect. Mr. Broxon has for eight years held the position of managing editor of the Capital News, and his appointment will not sever his connection with that paper's editorial department. He is one of the leaders in the Progressive party of this state, and was its candidate for state treasurer at the last general election, but was defeated.

At one time he was boomed as the third party candidate for governor. It was largely through Broxon's exposures that the embezzlement of state funds in the treasury department was made that resulted in the confession and incarceration of O. V. Allen, former state treasurer.

GREAT BRITAIN SENDS ENVOY TO VATICAN

London, Dec. 11, 10 p. m.—Official announcement is made of the appointment of Sir Henry Howard as British minister to the vatican.

Sir Henry Howard, who is Great Britain's first permanent diplomatic agent at the vatican, is well known in the United States. He married an American woman, Miss Cecilia Riggs, daughter of the late George W. Riggs of Washington, in 1867. She died in 1907. Sir Henry was an attaché of the British legation at Washington when he met Miss Riggs.

Sir Henry is 71 years of age. He has represented his country in various capacities in different parts of the world. In 1907 he was made a knight commander of the Bath.

CHILDREN TAKEN INTO CPTIVITY

Paris, Dec. 11, 3:10 p. m.—The Havas agency has given out the following dispatch from its correspondent at Frankfurt:

"Mlle Morelle, a teacher at Autry, in the department of Ardennes, wrote a letter on November 22 from Zwickau, Saxony, in which she said that she and 450 other inhabitants of Autry had been taken to Zwickau as prisoners. Among them were seventy-five children. The trip lasted for fifteen days. The prisoners had nothing but the clothes they wore and the children in particular suffered from the cold and hunger."

THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW.

If you want starched things to be glossy, use clean, soapy water when making the starch. This imparts a gloss to the linen and prevents the iron from sticking.

The white of an egg beaten to a stiff froth, mixed with lemon juice and slightly sweetened, is a simple and effective remedy for hoarseness. The mixture should be slowly dissolved in the mouth before swallowing.

It is annoying to find that your linen has been scorched during the process of ironing. The marks can, however, be removed by rubbing the half of an onion on the discolored parts. Soak the linen in cold water afterward, and all traces of the scorch will have vanished.

After peeling anything that stains the hands, rub well with a piece of cut lemon or a little vinegar. Then wash it with warm water without soap and the stains will disappear.

MAYONNAISE

Curdling is the chief thing to avoid in making mayonnaise. To remedy, add a bit of ice, removing it before it can melt, and beat in the stiffly beaten white of an egg. Other precautions to prevent curdling consist in adding the salt last and the lemon or vinegar before the oil.

Here is a rule which seldom fails: Have your mixing bowl cold. Mix together a teaspoon of salt, the same of mustard, and one-quarter teaspoon of cayenne and paprika. Beat the yolks of two eggs. Add to seasonings and stir and beat until it is thick. Add slowly, four tablespoonfuls of olive oil and lemon juice. Then add oil and lemon juice and vinegar, until a cup of oil and tablespoonful each of the acids has been used. If desired, the white of one egg, beaten to a stiff froth, may be added, or half a cup of whipped cream.

BABy TABLE BETTER THAN BASKET.

Has it ever struck the young mother when she is bathing baby and things are all muddled up in a heap in the conventional basket, and the boric lotion or whatever else she may want is on the other side of the room, that by using a little forethought she may improve on the basket and have everything appertaining to baby at hand.

A basket is all very well, but it does not hold the various bottles, vases, and so forth, as well as a table. A clever mother has evolved quite a simple way out of the difficulty. And her way was simply by using a table instead.

It was a table entirely devoted to baby, the top of which was used for the bottles, glasses, and powder boxes, and so on, and underneath there was a kind of slung receptacle for the baby's clothes.

Having a cheap little table stored away, she scrubbed it clean, nailed a little ledge along the back, nailed a piece of cretonne over it, and spread over it a large cloth. This cloth was a pretty piece of cretonne cut in a large round, the edges of which were hemmed up to form a kind of draw string. It was pinned down to the edge of the table with drawing pins—an excellent way to keep it firm, yet at the same time

The Germans in Berlin recently decided to continue the presentation of Shakespeare's plays, although the productions of all other dramatists belonging to opposing nations had been forbidden. "Shakespeare," it was explained, "belongs to the world. He is not English. He is a world-citizen, a world-force. He is beyond the boundaries of all countries."

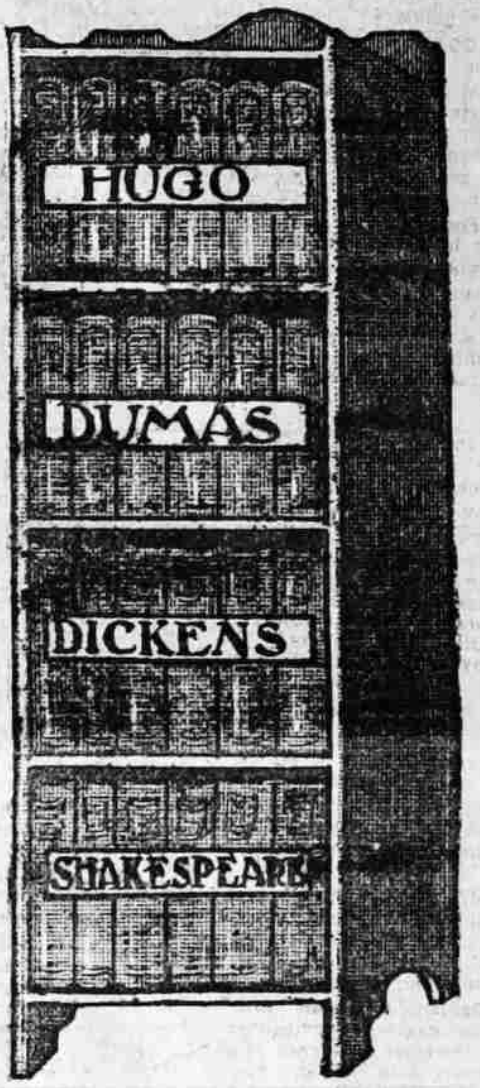

Shakespeare appeals to all people, all nationalities, all classes. This is because he deals in life. His commodity is human nature, enhanced through all ages and races. And his sentences are so simple, even though so masterful, so clear, so true, that every man, high or low, reads him with equal pleasure and understanding and profit.
