

A RAILROAD MAN KNOWS THE TRUTH

Mr. F. S. Berry, of Salt Lake City, Knows the Truth About Plant Juice

Mr. F. S. Berry, a popular Salt Lake City railroad man, who for the past seven years has been the switchman for the Southern Pacific, has some interesting things to say about Plant Juice. His home is at Fourth and Main streets, and his statement follows:

"Yes, I have used Plant Juice and that is not all, I am going to use it whenever I get off my pins and get to feeling tough. It has fixed my stomach trouble that has worried me for years. I was badly run down, hardly able to get about; did not feel like work, no appetite, poor sleep and it seemed as if everything was the matter with me. One of the boys told me that Plant Juice would help me and I decided to give it a trial. Before I had taken the first bottle I knew that it was the real thing. Could eat what I pleased, slept as sound as a log and felt as active as a 2-year-old. I am now telling the boys the same thing that my friend told me whenever I see any of them looking the least bit off."

Plant Juice is the greatest tonic of the age. It will put new life, health and energy into you in almost incredibly short time. It is an absolute specific for all derangements of the kidneys, stomach, liver and blood. It clears the liver, relieves all stomach disorders, will banish rheumatism and all catarrhal troubles. Its action is direct and rapid. Thousands today are praising Plant Juice in every large city in America. Call and get a bottle of this preparation from McIntyre's Drug Store at 2421 Washington Ave. It will do you more good than anything you have ever taken.

FEWER FRUIT TRAINS IN SERVICE

The effect of the frost in California several weeks ago is making its results felt in the freight business of the railroads. In the winter and spring, the fruit transportation from California constitutes a greater part of the east-bound freight business of the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe, and when that business has fallen greatly because of the lack of fruit in good condition, the loss is noticeable. Local railroad officials state that all available trainmen will be put on within a short time, however, as the spring freight business is expected to become better within a few weeks. At the present time there are numerous train loads of farming implements being shipped to the west and northwest. It is stated that with the increase in the number of colonists in Idaho, Washington and Oregon, an additional number of cars are needed each year for the transportation of implements alone.

SUIT IS LOST ON IMMORAL DEAL

In the case of B. F. Redman of Salt Lake and Mrs. Dora B. Topham of this city, in which the plaintiff sought to recover something over $2000 on certain promissory notes, Judge Harris rendered a decision declaring the entire transaction leading up to the issuing of the notes null and void, and that the plaintiff could not recover.

Judge Harris stated that the notes were issued in payment for real estate that was to be used for immoral purposes and that the court would not be a party to such deals. The transaction involved the purchase of certain church property and other real estate in Salt Lake in the "stockade" district. Mrs. Topham had purchased the property, giving her notes in part payment, but afterwards deciding the property back with the understanding that her notes should be returned.

The testimony showed that some of the notes were not returned to her and that in one instance a note had passed into the hands of innocent parties, upon which recovery was had against both Mrs. Topham and Mr. Redman.

In passing on the question this morning the court said:

"In the case of B. F. Redman vs. D. B. Topham, the court finds in this case that the two promissory notes sued upon by the plaintiff were given in consideration for the purchase of a certain tract of land located in Salt Lake City, adjoining the property of the Citizens Investment company, of which the defendant Topham was principal owner and manager. The court also finds that the property was to be used for carrying on prostitution, in violation of the laws of this state. The court further finds that the plaintiff knew of the uses to which the property was to be put and knew also that the property which he conveyed to Mrs. Topham was to be used for the same unlawful purpose. And it appears further that the plaintiff took at least some steps towards quieting the feelings of the public toward the defendant's unlawful business, in that he purchased the property belonging to a certain church located on Fourth West street to silence their opposition to the establishment of the stockade in that district. In the circumstances, therefore, it clearly appears that the plaintiff is not entitled to any relief in this case. The real estate which he sold to the defendant was conveyed to her with the knowledge that it was to be used for an unlawful purpose, and the notes were given in payment of that real estate, and this court will not be a party to enable him to realize upon a contract tainted with illegality, such as that was. And the contract between the parties and the consideration therefore being illegal, the court will dismiss said action and will refuse to find on any of the other issues in the case; in other words, the court will not aid either party to the unlawful contract, but will leave them where it finds them and will grant no relief other than the dismissal of the cause of action. It is ordered, therefore, that the action be dismissed."

JUDGE HARRIS DENIES THE NON-SUIT

This morning Judge N. J. Harris denied the motion for non-suit in the $20,000 damage suit of John Hughes against the Salt Lake & Ogden Railway company, and the trial of the case was resumed.

The plaintiff having rested, the attorney for the defendant company made a statement to the jury. The attorney said that it would be shown by credible witnesses that, when the accident occurred on Lincoln avenue, May 16, 1912, which caused the death of the infant child, Alma Hughes, of the plaintiff John Hughes, the motorman driving the defendant company's car could not see the child until he was practically under the wheels.

It is claimed by the defendant company that the child was hanging to the rear end of a large van going in an opposite direction from the course of the electric car traveling near the car track, and that at the moment the car approached the van the child darted from behind the wagon and started to cross the car track on its way home to the east side of the avenue.

The car was running at a rate of speed not to exceed eight miles, the attorney said, and the emergency brakes were applied by the motorman as soon as he saw the child in a perilous position, the wheels of the car being virtually locked by the air actually sliding when they struck the child, and the car was stopped within five feet after the collision.

An eye witness for the plaintiff testified a few days ago that there was no vehicle on the avenue, save the electric car, at the time of the accident and that he saw the child stricken down by the car while attempting to cross the track.

SALT LAKE SUPPOSED LEPER IN SALT LAKE

Salt Lake, March 19.—Somewhere in Salt Lake is a man supposed to be suffering from leprosy, the most dangerous of infectious diseases. Every detective and policeman of the department has his description. In co-operation with health authorities the police entered upon a feverish search for the man yesterday, when it became known he was hiding in Salt Lake.

Grabel is the man's name. His Christian name is not known. He is about 50 years old, has dark hair mixed with gray and stands about 5 feet 10 inches. He wears a black derby and a brown suit of clothes. In addition to this description the information blank at headquarters bears the following warning to patrolmen:

"This man has leprosy; has been working as a switchman at Garfield, came to Salt Lake Friday evening; face is very brown from eyes to ears; has white marks over eyes. Will doubtless be found around some saloon." Grabel appeared mysteriously in the railroad yards at Garfield early last week. He obtained employment as a switchman. The peculiar markings of his face excited other employees, but until Friday the new hand managed to stand off their inquiries with explanations that he had been hurt in a boiler explosion. Then some one asked him if he did not have leprosy. He is said to have admitted the fact, then to have taken a train for Salt Lake. He was seen in a saloon near the O. S. L. station last Friday night.

After members of the police department had scoured the city last night they were only able to report having made progress by failing in possession of clues. A man answering the description of Grabel drank in a west side saloon yesterday forenoon. When he had drained several glasses of whiskey and observed the bartender and customers were regarding him strangely, he disappeared. Later in the day it is said he again was seen in the vicinity of the O. S. L. station.

So infectious is leprosy said to be that its germs may remain on the edge of a whiskey glass and suffer but little by coming in contact with alcohol. Once in the mouth of an unsuspecting person, the terrible disease will develop with remarkable swiftness. To contract leprosy means deportation to the dreaded island of Molochi, or to be hounded about every civilized country.

FORMING GARDEN CLUBS IN SCHOOLS

Salt Lake, Mar. 19.—D. H. Christensen, city superintendent of schools, who is a hearty supporter of industrial activities among the school children, is now perfecting a plan for the organization of garden clubs at the different schools of the city. This important movement will be combined with the "city beautiful" campaign now being directed by M. J. Abbey of the University of Utah. Mr. Abbey and Superintendent Christensen are to co-operate in carrying their plans to fruition.

With this work being carried on enthusiastically by school children and with the success of the move now on for a general "cleanup" week in the early spring, to say nothing of the commercial club's campaign for street improvements and boulevards, it is expected that Salt Lake will appeal to the thousands who come here for the July convention of the National Education association with a maximum degree of beauty and attraction. The intention is to carry out these beautification plans by that time.

Explains Plan. Mr. Abbey met yesterday with the pupils of the Wasatch school and explained the plan. His talk set forth the relation of the garden to the home from an economic standpoint, emphasizing the matter of beautifying the city and its effect upon the boys and girls. Mr. Abbey said that under the plan adopted it would be possible for every body participant to

The school children evinced an eagerness to join in the movement. One hundred and eighteen boys at once agreed to secure permission to cultivate vacant lots under the instruction of Mr. Abbey and Superintendent Christensen. Many of the boys went from the school building to secure vacant lots before others got the start of them. Superintendent

Christensen and the teachers will co-operate in the organization of clubs to carry on the work. In certain schools the cultivation of vacant lots will be taken up; in others the home garden will be emphasized.

Yesterday the Commercial club public improvements committee unanimously endorsed the project of the Association of City Clubs for a general "cleanup" week and recommended to the board of governors that the club give its hearty co-operation to the movement.

AWARD BUILDING CONTRACTS. Murray, March 18.—Contracts for the brick and cement work on the cannery factory were awarded today. Mat. Gibbs was the successful bidder for the brick work, while the cement job was awarded to James Wood. Both are local men. The directors announced that as soon as the formal signing of the contracts could be arranged work would be started, as it was already getting late and the building must be ready to handle the fall work. The carpentry bid will be awarded in a day or two. About 200 acres of tomatoes have already been contracted for and more will be added this month.
