SALT LAKE WINS BY SCRATCH.
Salt Lake, Oct. 15.—Harry Wolverton said something day before yesterday that Skipper Blankenship and his Salt Lake club did not like. The Seal pilot, after Ping Bodie had warbled a song at a banquet, became inspired and said Salt Lake would never, never win another game from San Francisco this year.

For a time yesterday, it looked as if the local townspeople would not have a chance to call Wolverton for it, but through the aid of the Seal infield, Baum's wildness and some keen judgment in base running by the home crew, Wolverton's plans were all upset and slammed about, and Salt Lake won, 7 to 6.

It's small town stuff to call a fellow for saying anything at a banquet, but since Salt Lake is the "small town" of the Pacific Coast league circuit, although the second biggest in point of gate receipts, it is perfectly all right for any citizen to grab Harry by the lapel and shout "Aha" at him.

Yesterday's game was a classic so far as some things are concerned, but it was a weird affair from the standpoint of fielding. Salt Lake and San Francisco players between them muffed up seven perfectly good chances, which is an awful thing for the two leading teams to do. But after all it only goes to show that a team must make errors if it hopes to win ball games. That's how San Francisco has been winning all year, as the club fielding averages will show the Seals to be right at the bottom.

VERNON 9, OAKLAND 3.
San Francisco, Oct. 14.—Three-baggers and doubles cut a wide swath in today's game between Oakland and Vernon. Chiefly because the Tigers had the most of these long-distance swats to their credit they snowed under the Oaks, who took their 9 to 3 beating as if they enjoyed it.

Once more "Dutch" Klawitter, who has gone to work and then journeyed to the bench on more occasions than fall to the lot of the average pitcher, found himself banged out of the session. The Dutchman was left to his hopeless task long after the fans had started their shouting for Rowdy Elliott to bench him.

As far as that is concerned, Clint Prough was not much better, as the bombardment proceeded with no regard for the switch of pitchers. Rader corralled two of the three-base smashers for the afternoon, with Doane laying claim to one triple and a double. Jimmy Johnston was the outsider to scratch the ball for three bags, and he would have had a home run inside the grounds save for a mix-up in the coaching. Jimmy had plenty of time and to spare to make the plate on his center field shot, but he thought that Charlie Puffitt was wiggling him to slow down at third. Puffitt insists the semaphores was set for "Go ahead," and there you have the reason for a cut-down home run and one less Oakland score.

were given sums of money pooled by the players. The members of the team were canvassed today to determine how many are willing to make the proposed trip to the Pacific coast with the world's champion Boston Red Sox for a series of exhibition games. Final financial arrangements for the trip have not been made with the Pacific coast interests and until an agreement is reached the personnel of the team will not be decided upon. All the members of the Phillies have been invited to be the guests of fans at a dinner here Saturday night in honor of their bringing the first National league pennant to Philadelphia.

FOSTER OF RED SOX BEST STICK ARTIST

Philadelphia, Oct. 14.—Foster, the Red Sox pitcher, was the best batter in the world's series, according to the official averages announced today. His average was .500. "Duffy" Lewis of the Boston club, was the real leader, however, because he participated in each of the world's series games. His average was .444. Luderus of Philadelphia was next with .438. The figures as compiled by the official scorer follows:

FRANCE TO FIGHT TO THE VERY END

Paris, Oct. 14, 6:20 p. m.—"Since France and her allies, in spite of their attachment to peace, were obliged to suffer war, they will prosecute it to the end, and their intimate union will assure the final triumph of justice and right," says Premier Viviani in a declaration to be published tomorrow in the magazine Lectures Pour Tous.

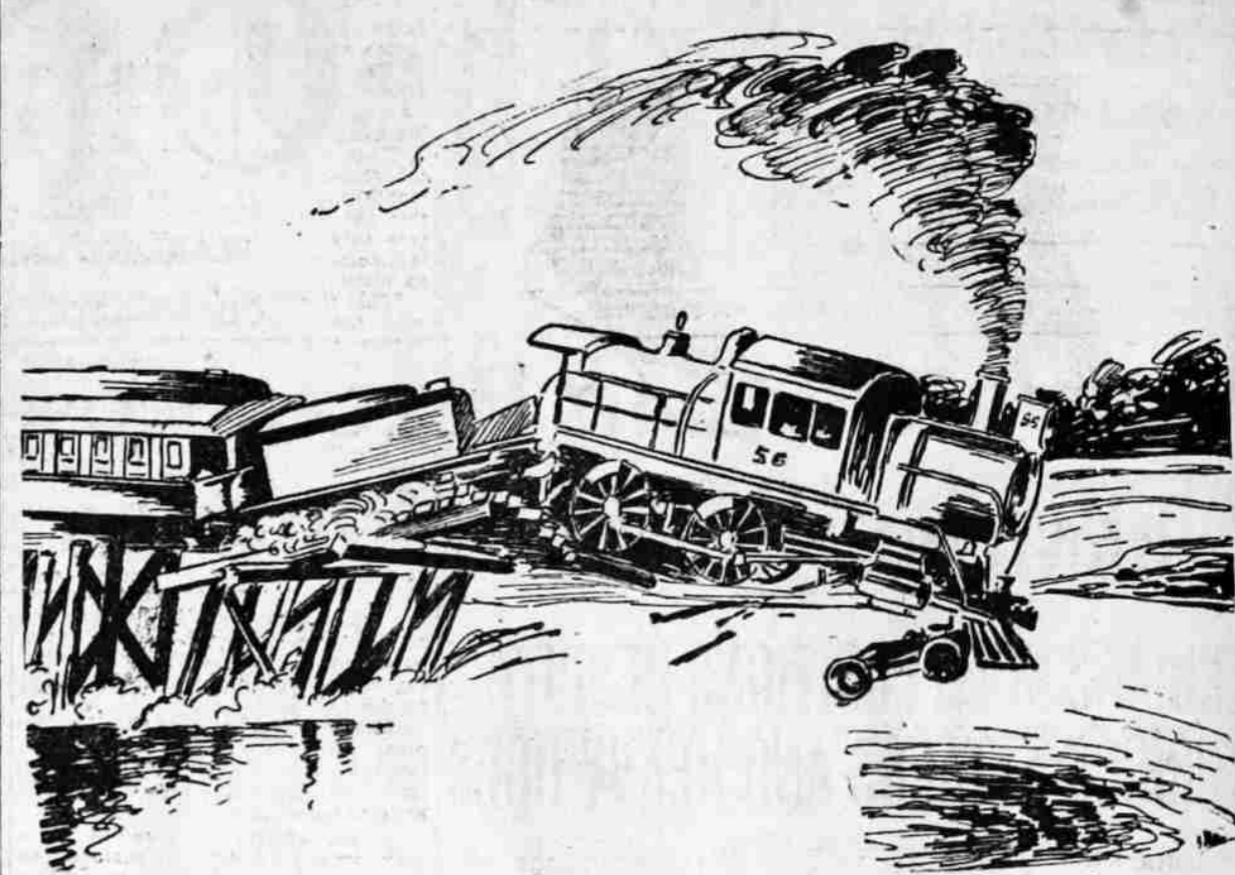

"France is not a country to be preyed upon," he continues. "She will not lay down her arms until after she has avenged outraged justice, consolidated forever with the fatherland the provinces ravaged by force, restored heroic Belgium and broken Prussian militarism in order to be able to reconstruct upon a foundation of civil right a regeneration of Europe."

Glory for All.
"Believing in our social, political and religious division, our enemies imagined this country's elements irreconcilable. What did they see? Workmen, employers, artisans, peasants, rich and poor men of all parties, all religious beliefs, offering to sacrifice themselves, all fulfilling their duty in defending their territory as in the hour of revolution, in defending the liberty of the world. All understood that the most humble is useful to the fatherland; that from the general-in-chief, whose admirable sang froid compels the admiration of the world, to the very humblest, each as an indispensable role. The glory is for all; the light illuminates every forehead."

"It is not only to our army, whose heroism is guided by incomparable chiefs, that we shall owe victory; it is also to the nation that has been able to accompany that heroism with a union of silence and serenity in critical hours. If those hours seem long, let us continue to think of our country, and everything will be easy for us."

Resources Not Lacking.
Finance Minister Ribot, in the same issue of the magazine, speaking of the influence of finances upon the war, will say:

"France will not lack resources to sustain her effort in this war that she did not seek, but that she is determined to pursue without flinching. As far as concerns finances, she can look upon the prolongation of hostilities without anxiety. The end of the conflict will not depend on our resources.

"Let France keep the faith she has in herself; let her continue to understand her financial duty as she has understood her moral duty and her military duty. She thus will aid in the final victory that the world feels is inevitable and that it awaits in the interest of the liberty of peoples and civilization."

Victor Augagneur, the French minister of marine, declares:

"The German fleet is quite as effectively annihilated as if it were sunk. It is powerless and useless. Consequently our country is repaid a hundred-fold for its material sacrifices to increase the strength of its navy."

BRITISH ATTACK GERMAN FORCES

London, Oct. 14.—Screened by smoke clouds and gas, British troops yesterday vigorously attacked the entire German line from Ypres to Loos, a distance of twenty-five miles. Sixty thousand Canadians, fighting in the front line, participated in the general action.

The most violent fighting occurred within a radius of two miles north and west of Loos. In this territory the British captured the main trench of the Hohenzollern redoubt, west of Loos, took a number of trenches on the edge of a quarry south of Hulluch, expelled the Germans from trenches south of the Vermelles-Hulluch road, and further south in the direction of Loos, gained the Germans' first line. This last position they were forced to relinquish owing to the intensity of the German shell fire.

Reports Disagree.
The Hohenzollern redoubt was one of two highly organized German works which were the greatest obstacles to the British advance in September. Field Marshal Sir John French, in his report tonight, admits that the Germans still hold two communication trenches between the redoubt and the quarries in which the British gained a foothold.

Berlin, referring to the British advance east of Vermelles, along the road to Hulluch, says the British have been expelled by hand grenade attacks from most of the trenches they captured. Evacuation by the French, with the loss of 400 prisoners, of the Klein Nestor, a position on the heights east of Souchez, is reported by Berlin, together with the capture of two machine guns in an action between Angres and Souchez.

Heavy artillery duels on the whole front from Artois to Champagne are reported from Paris.

Aerial activity by the French corps

A German captive balloon was brought down in the rear of the German line in Champagne, and a German war aeroplane was downed in an air duel north of the Aisne.

On the Champagne front the German daily hurl great numbers of asphyxiating bombs behind the French line, the French batteries replying vigorously. German attacks and counter attacks by the French continue both to the east and west of Tahnure, but the French still maintain their advantageous position on the hill dominating the Challenger-Bazancourt railway.

GLANDERS WIPED OUT
Pocatello, Idaho, Oct. 14.—Dr. Bodie, state veterinarian, and Deputy Secretary of Boise were in the city yesterday after closing a whirlwind campaign against glanders among horses in southeastern Idaho. What had threatened to be an epidemic was eradicated by stringent measures. The disease was reported near Pinedale and nine horses were condemned after a careful test had been made on more than 140 horses. The condemned horses were destroyed completely by killing and burning and the premises thoroughly disinfected. Dr. Bodie states that hog cholera is entirely wiped out in the state and that there have been no serious losses from this disease in the past year.

OPENING GAME OF WORLD'S SERIES; HOOPER MAKES FIRST HIT

Hooper, first man up in the world series, smashed a clean single through the box. Hooper, at the right, is seen rounding first, ready to take second if there seems to be a chance. Player in center is Red Sox coacher. Luderus, Phillie first baseman, seeing there isn't a chance for a play at first, is walking from the bag at the left of the picture.
