BASEBALL, AUTOS,
LAWN TENNIS, GOLFFIVE MORE MEN IN OAK UNIFORMSWarming-up Exercises and Fielding Practices Go on at Boyes Springs.

BOYES SPRINGS, March 6.—With the safe return of the Oakland squad, which had been reported as lost somewhere in the hills, Del Howard again set out a patrol this morning. The crew scouted around in the general direction of Glen Ellen and at noon all hands were accounted for at the dinner table.

Five more men donned uniforms, making them part of the Oakland team today, namely, Kramer, Murray, Krause, Croll and Harvey Christensen. Harvey is a well-built youngster, who cavorts around the second station.

The after-lunch session was given over to warm-up exercises, followed by a long round of fielding practice. The first infield put to work was made up of Allen, Christensen, Arlett and Mensor. It gave a snappy exhibition of fast, clean work and is likely to become the regular inner defense. Arlett's playing at third was a revelation.

Two live birds have come together in Clint Frough and Harry Krause. The two will start using the pepper can on the boys and most anything is liable to happen from now on.

Pitcher Goodbred wrote Howard that business prevented him from coming for the opening of the camp, but he starts on his five-day trip on Thursday. The rest are due here the moment they arrive.

Matty Has Scheme to Save $10,000 for
His Ball Club

PHILADELPHIA, March 6.—Some of the wise pickers of all-time teams and players have placed Cy Young ahead of Matty as baseball's best moundman. That the former grand old giant boxman was the smartest twirler in the game, however, is not seriously disputed. That he also is a smart manager is shown in other respects than that he produced a first-division team for Cincinnati during his first full season of managing.

The latest proof of Matty's managerial cunning is the putting over of a little arrangement calculated to provide ideal training quarters free and to save his club about $10,000, the entire expense of the training season, which conserving of the club pure will come in mighty handy during the press of wartime campaigning.

The scheme presents several interesting angles. Matty goes to Montgomery, Ala., where he will be joint social and financial guest of the local camp Y. M. C. A. and the home town chamber of commerce. Everything is to be split in true southern hospitality style between hosts, and all Matty will have to do is to bring his boys along and enjoy the big spread. The arrangement is a fifty-fifty affair, and besides his expenses being paid Matty will have access for training to a brand-new and complete outdoor plant and also training quarters for the indoor kinks and for bad weather. The field has been especially constructed by Uncle Sam for the athletic benefit and amusement of the thousand of Sammy boys being schooled at the Alabama capital and is up to date in every detail.

Elder and Tooele.

LOGAN, March 6.—In the first game of the state high school basketball tournament Branch A. C. tonight defeated Box Elder here 39 to 26. Coach Jack Christensen's team won by following the ball well and charging hard. The passing of both quintas was fairly good.

Leigh, B. A. C. forward, was high point man with eight baskets from the field. Seven of these were made in the first half. Three of his counters were of the spectacular order. Leigh, Eyre and Jones were the stars for B. A. C., while Pife and Watkins played the best game for Box Elder.

In the second game the B. Y. U. high school won from Tooele, 40 to 25, by staging a strong comeback in the second half, after the Smeltermen had finished the first period with a 17 to 15 lead.

The Provo team performed in a cool, steady manner through the first half, although behind in the scoring, while Tooele appeared to be playing over its head.

The B. Y. U. improved in the second half and rapidly pulled ahead. Keeler at center got the jump over his opponent and accurate basket shooting coupled with quick short passing, proved the deciding factor.

PROF. S. TAKAHASHI

It required only ten minutes for Prof. S. Takahashi, Japanese jiu jitsu expert, to throw John Heil, catch-as-catch-can grappler, at the Armory last night. There was a big attendance. William Thornton refereed.

Takahashi is touring the United States. He has reduced jiu jitsu to a science and takes on all comers. He demonstrated last evening that jiu jitsu is superior to the American wrestling style of catch-as-catch-can—that is so far represented by Heil.

There were two preliminary wrestling matches and a fencing exhibition put on as a part of last night's program. Takahashi probably will return

THE LAST WORD IN COMMANDEERING!

There's no limit, it seems, to what the armies will commandeer. This polliu appropriated a baby carriage—the only vehicle handy—when the barrel of wine he was taking to his comrades in the trenches became too heavy to Salt Lake City today.
