

OGDEN CITY.

That "Racket."

The Tribune's Ogden man refers to a public matter which deserves some attention. He says that "a double row of trees are to set out entirely around Liberty Park Square, and that "possibly a racket in the City Council would ensue."

The Slayer of Despoxy.

It will be remembered that last winter a French baker by the name of Isadore Despoxy found his death in consequence of a drunken midnight brawl. Several fellows were suspected and pursued as the perpetrators of the killing, but only one, Billy Andrews, could be brought to justice.

General Notes.

The bishop of Willard, Box Elder county, who took a plum some time ago, is said to be around the premises, eluding all the efforts of the deputies to take him by the collar.

to rejoin "Mrs. K." No. 3 and her three little ones, leaving behind him No. 2 and left the magnificent sum of $100, and the conjugal advice to "rustle for herself."

A leading Mormon merchant being made acquainted with our friend, Jas. B. Stoddard, asked: "Is it you, Stoddard, the preacher?" "No, sir; my father's a preacher."

Barney Gamble, well-known to the customers of the Salt Lake beer hall, leaves for Omaha in a few days, to enter on a position with his brother-in-law, D. W. Ellis.

The Cohabs are not all forgotten yet. Deputy Whetstone got one Alex. Perry last Friday night at Willard. The prisoners, Perry and his wife, Elizabeth, were held in the sums of $1,500 and $300 bonds respectively.

Friday's San Francisco Chronicle contains the following special from Ogden: "This morning (means evening) the Ogden Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce was organized by the election of thirteen directors, seven Mormons and ten Gentiles."

A Mr. J. Metzler has already invested about $6,000 in Ogden real estate, having purchased two elegant lots. Numerous smaller transfers took place last week. The deals in realties are growing brisker.

A. G. Best, one of the best known Chicago drams, registered at the Union Depot Hotel on Sunday.

The depot bulletin last evening recorded the trains all on time. The U. & N. from the north was light. The excursionists to the Hot Springs numbered only fifty-three, owing to the uncertain aspect of the upper deep.
