

PLAN IMPROVEMENTS FOR GOULDS LINES

Home-seekers' Rates and New Observation Cars Among Innovations.

President B. F. Bush of the Denver & Rio Grande and his party of officials of that road and the Missouri Pacific, of which Mr. Bush is also president, left Salt Lake City for Denver at 8 o'clock last evening.

President Bush would not divulge the plans for improvements, except as they have already been published, saying that he would wait to say just where they would start in the meeting of the stockholders, which will be held in Denver Saturday.

"The home-seekers' rates, which have been extended to Nevada and California," said Mr. Lomax yesterday, "there will be good for the line until after the meeting of the stockholders, which will be held in Denver Saturday."

OFFICIALS AT BOISE

O. S. L. Heads Discuss Improvements and Extensions.

Special to The Tribune. BOISE, Idaho, April 25.—W. H. Bancroft, vice president and general manager of the Oregon Short Line, accompanied by C. M. Mendenhall, general manager of the Idaho division, and E. H. Dewey, of the Idaho Northern, spent the day in the city today looking over Boise and interviewing prominent business men in addition to visiting various offices here.

Railroad Notes

The Oregon Short Line Monday will give an excursion to the pupils of the public schools, who are studying geology and chemistry, from the agricultural college to the cement plant located near Brigham City.

W. H. Bancroft, vice president and general manager of the Oregon Short Line, and party of other officials of the road who have been on an inspection trip through Idaho, are expected to return to Salt Lake City tomorrow.

W. E. Critzer, chief clerk in the assistant engineer of the Southern Pacific, was in Salt Lake City yesterday on his way home from a trip to the eastern states.

T. J. Wiche, chief engineer for the Western Pacific, was a Salt Lake City visitor yesterday.

SKELTON'S VIOLIN PUPILS APPLAUDED

Professor George E. Skelton presented more than a score of his pupils at the First Congregational church last night and the audience that taxed the capacity of the large auditorium, which has remained here the programme been longer opening number was Purcell's Golden Sonata, played by Arthur T. Adams.

Among the pupils that deserve special mention are Carl Paul, who played a Mendelssohn serenade; Miss Lena Smith, who showed excellent technique in her rendition of Wieniawski's "Larghetto"; and Miss Marie Hughes, who well-deserved applause for her masterly interpretation of Sarasate's "Zigenweisen."

Albert Freeman, the blind pupil of Professor Skelton, played two selections in a manner that many gifted with sight might have envied.

Compromised on Recall

COLUMBUS, O., April 25.—The constitutional convention compromised on the recall today when it passed a proposal authorizing the legislature to enact a law providing for an impeachment commission with power to remove any offending public officer.

The bill will not interfere with the present plan of impeachment by legislative procedure.

NATURE'S TONIC

The very great majority of persons need a tonic in the Spring or early Summer. The system undergoes a change at this season and the entire physical machinery is disturbed. The general bodily weakness, a tired, worn-out feeling, lack of appetite, poor digestion, a half sick feeling and a general run-down condition of the system, show that the blood is weak or anemic, and a blood purifying tonic is needed to build up the deranged system and enrich the blood.

AMUSEMENTS

SALT LAKE THEATER—The "Spring Maid" Evening curtain, 8:15.

COLONIAL THEATER—The Durbar in Kinemacolor, all week. Louise Gunning in "The Balkan Princess," April 29 and 30.

ORPHEUM THEATER—Advanced vaudeville, all week. Matinee daily, 2:15. Evening, 8:15.

GARRICK THEATER—Max Flinnman, supported by Garrick players, in "The Man on the Box." Evening curtain, 8:15.

EMPRESS THEATER—Sullivan-Considine vaudeville. All week. Matinee daily, 2:30. Two evening performances, 7:30 and 9:15. Bill changes Wednesday afternoon.

"The Spring Maid," like other things that bubble like the spring of which the story tells, grows mellow and better with age. The perennial appeal of its irresistible melodies; its stately of melody and graceful women; its handsome men and funny comedians; and, brighter than all, Mizzi Hajos, dainty and lisp-like and charming; all combined earlier in the season to make one of the most delightful theatrical treats of the year.

Its charm has been enhanced since then, and a stage-to-door audience since then, at the Salt Lake theater found in Mizzi Hajos, her excellent supporting company, and a pretty story splendidly staged, something to enthuse over.

The music from "The Spring Maid" should be a joy forever. Its producers have evidently discovered this, for they have sent the piece over precisely the same route that it took during the early part of the season.

George Leon Moore continues to sing and act the role of the prince, and leaves nothing to be desired in his captivating portrayal, for he is an actor as well as a singer of more than ordinary ability.

Charles McNaughton is one of the newcomers. He plays the chief comedy part, the same role he played in the London production of "The Spring Maid."

The company, with very few changes, remains the same as on the former tour, and to the abundance of grace and good looks in the chorus.

Perhaps the striking thing about "The Spring Maid" is the little Hungarian prima donna's scintillating presence, in that it is clean, in lines and action, from beginning to end.

"The Spring Maid" will continue at the Salt Lake theater tonight, tomorrow afternoon and evening.

No week at the Garrick, during this season or last, has drawn to a close with a greater, more enthusiastic audience. The demand for seats for the closing performances of "The Man on the Box" is unprecedented.

Jack McKee, a Scotch comedian of the Lander school, is one of the hits on this week's program.

There will be a special matinee for children of the Durbar in Kinemacolor at the Colonial this afternoon, and special rates will be extended to all students who may desire to witness the reproduction in natural color of the world's greatest picture.

Mae Devlin, as "The Girl from Yonkers," furnishes Empire patrons this week with a sketch that is decidedly the best of the season.

In "The Balkan Princess," which comes to the Colonial for two evening performances, next Monday and Tuesday, Miss Louise Gunning and the original company of seven have been replaced.

The public press has designated to itself the privileges of molding public opinion, but the commercial club reserves to itself the right to knock down the mold of the public opinion.

A well organized commercial club, springing into life in the midst of a community, has long been known to bring order and progress out of disorder and retrogression.

Let me make a single reference to the commercial clubs of our own state which are joined into a strong confederation under the name of the Utah Development League.

These allied clubs are already procuring the attractions and the resources of the United States, Canada and Europe and their work will soon be heard clear around the world.

They demand for Utah the proud place she so justly deserves and have already given notice to all beyond our borders that they are not a club of our state only.

It is a scientific, cleansing, antiseptic, germicidal, and antiparasitic, destroys microbes, stimulates good circulation around the hair roots, and thus promotes hair nourishment, removes dandruff and restores hair health.

It is as pleasant to use as pure water, and is delicately perfumed. It is a real toilet necessity.

We want you to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic with our promise that it will cost you nothing unless you are perfectly satisfied with its use.

It comes in two sizes, prices 50c and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies at all drug stores, or at our stores—The Rexall Store, Drenth & Frank, 217 So. Main; Smith Drug Co., 275 So. Main.

VAST OPPORTUNITIES UTAH'S PRAISES SOUNDED

mination of the league and the club, in every city and hamlet of Utah, men, women, boys and girls are today meeting together and discussing the possibilities of their state.

"I am convinced that at the end of the day the general verdict will be that Utah always has been, now is and ever will be one of the most glorious places in all this great nation.

The people of this city and of this state have not known each other well enough in the past. It is, therefore, a good idea to meet and to look into each other's faces, to understand and to learn to like each other.

To gain that peace and happiness that goes hand in hand with prosperity and development, if this day will accomplish that end, it will have been well spent indeed.

Time to Know Utah. Among the purposes of the day is to teach each other what we know about the possibilities of this state.

Another purpose of the day is to bring the people of Utah to that point where they place a deeper belief in their own state, and hence a greater faith in their own future.

The government report of 1910 says that in 1910, 162,435 short tons of asphalt were imported into the United States. In 1906 there were developed in Utah the Gilsonite beds, yielding 25,000 tons.

In 1910 these beds yielded 29,000 tons or more, and can still be mined in Utah. There are tens of thousands and even hundreds of thousands of tons of Gilsonite, waiting to be developed to enrich the coffers of the state.

If we want a big thriving city, we will develop the big resources of the state, which will mean money and industry.

Notes Some Drawbacks. But we ought to tell of the things we should be ashamed of. For seven years ago the citizens of this city, the dirtiest sidewalks west of the Mississippi.

Another thing we ought to be ashamed of is the fact that there are tens of thousands and even hundreds of thousands of tons of Gilsonite, waiting to be developed to enrich the coffers of the state.

There is no occasion for any alarm about Utah. The sun is shining on the state and the clouds are being blown away. Men and women are getting out of the shadow of gloom.

At the conclusion of the governor's address the tabernacle choir sang "Utah, We Love Thee," by Professor Stephen.

Secretary Joseph E. Cairne of the Commercial Club of the Utah Development League was the next speaker. In pointed remarks, teeming with wit and humor, he told of "The Duty of the Citizen to the City and State."

To attempt to specify the many things that a commercial club should do for a community would be to tell what a successful club has done for the commonwealth in which it exists.

Establish colonies and help them to grow. Secure the paving and parking of streets, assist in the establishment of playgrounds.

Entertain presidents, cabinet officers and other distinguished guests in a manner reflecting credit upon the city.

Extend the hand of welcome to visitors, show the advantages of the state, and the possibilities of the state.

Secure reduced rates, stopovers and other concessions from the railroads.

Take the lead in the good-roads movement.

Secure the commercial club can do well the thousand and one things that are not done at all in the community that has no such organization.

The commercial club is the clearing house for all the advanced ideas in the community.

tremendous responsibility. The men who gave freely of their time and their talents, their brains and their hearts to this great work are placing the generations to come under heavy obligations to their memories.

Nothing can dim the fame of the pioneers. Yet, when the history of the commonwealth is made those crusaders who, in the name of civic pride, have conquered every obstacle in the path of a selfish desire.

The hand that rendered a selection from the "Forest and Field" and it called forth prolonged appreciation.

To Improve Opportunities. The Rev. Elmer J. Goslin took the stand. His address was on the subject, "What We Can Do to Improve Our Town."

Addressed to Women That Backache of Yours

Is one of nature's warnings when all the joy of living has vanished because of trouble peculiar to womankind. Don't disregard this warning. Don't procrastinate. Now is the time to take steps to regain health and strength.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

NO ALCOHOL NO NARCOTICS Has been recommended for over forty years as a remedy for ailments peculiar to women. Thousands of grateful women have testified to its effectiveness.

Every woman ought to possess Dr. Pierce's great book, the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a magnificent thousand-page illustrated volume. It teaches mothers how to care for their children and themselves.

Book Dept., World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

A Case in Kind. I wrote to you about six months ago for your kind advice in regard to my case. I am Mrs. Lottie White. At times I was hardly able to be on my feet. I believe I had every pain and ache a woman could have. I had a very bad case of uterine disease. Ovaries were very much diseased and my back was very weak. I suffered a great deal with nervous headaches, in fact I suffered all over. I followed your directions as closely as I could, and was well pleased with the results.

Not be proud to extol the virtues of his own land? We want Americans to know the world, but we want, above all, the world to know America.

President Armstrong closed with a word of thanks to those present and the big meeting concluded with the "Star Spangled Banner," in which the choir, audience, band and organ joined.

UTAH DAY CELEBRATED. With Special Exercises, All Hallows Students Observe Day in Fitting Manner.

There was a large gathering of students and their friends in Assembly hall at All Hallows college yesterday afternoon to attend the "Utah Day" exercises.

The Rev. Fr. Kelly, president, commented on the students on their fine presentation and after a few remarks introduced Prof. J. M. Madden who took for his subject "Utah and Our Duty to Our Country."

PARK CITY BOOSTS UTAH. Exercises Are Held and Addresses Made by Out-of-Town Orators.

SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE. PARK CITY, April 25.—Utah was given a boost here this evening when nearly 1000 people assembled at Town theater and heard of the many resources of this intermountain state.

It is not the great walls, the attractive grounds, gowns or suits, or the automobiles that are mortgaged, that make the city of the future. It is the great atmosphere of great souls.
