Unlawful Shipment of Game From Highland

A dispatch from Staunton to the Richmond Times-Dispatch states that in the Staunton express office a game warden discovered an egg crate which came from a Highland merchant for shipment to New York, which had a layer or so of eggs on top, the remainder of the space being taken up with 20 partridges, 3 pheasants and one wild turkey. The crate was brought under suspicion of the warden because it was of lighter weight than a crate of eggs, and for the additional reason that the name of the shipper did not appear on it. The game was confiscated by the warden.

Mr Dudley a Cattle

Mr E A Dudley made a short business trip to town Tuesday. We asked him if it did not make him proud to have his two year old white face cattle take a trip to London Town, they being no doubt the only Highland two's so honored. His reply was that he had been working for years to get his cattle good and that he had about made up his mind they were good, and he knew by placing such on the market they would do the talking and no words from him would be needed. Mr Dudley spoke encouragingly of the stock business in Highland. He considers that all kinds of stock have greatly improved in the last ten years. One point he made to show an improvement in cattle is that the average steer of today when ready for market will weigh from one hundred to one hundred fifty pounds more than a steer of his class did twenty years ago. He attributes this advance to better breeding and more careful wintering. Mr Dudley thinks there is a marked improvement in the stock of hogs and sheep, and that stockmen here and there throughout the county have already realized that the most money is in the highest bred stock that can be had. This idea he thinks is bound to become more general, and the stock of the county speaking of it as a whole will from now on make much more rapid advancement.

This tract is heavily timbered and can be reached by tram road from the Horton railroad in 10 or 12 miles. It is Mr Waybright's intention, if he does not sell the property to market the lumber in this way, having it sawed by portable mills on the ground.

A Good Name. From personal experience I testify that DeWitt's Little Early Risers are unequalled as a liver pill. They cure biliousness, torpid liver, jaundice, sick headache, constipation, etc. They do not purge and weaken, but cleanse and strengthen. Sold by K H Trimble.
