

NEW YORK CLUB WILL SEND HUNDRED YACHTS

Captain Pierce Here Arranging for Supply of Coal, Water and Provisions.

VESSELS ANCHOR IN THE ROADS

Visiting Yachtsman Says That All Available Anchorage in Local Harbor Will be Occupied by American and Foreign Warships During the Exposition Period.

"Over a hundred yachts of the New York Yacht Club's fleet will come to Hampton Roads this summer to participate in the yacht races at the Jamestown exposition," said Captain J. H. Pierce, of New York, manager of the yacht department of the famous yacht club to a Daily Press reporter last night. Captain Pierce came to the city yesterday morning to inquire into the facilities offered here for supplying the yachts of the big fleet with coal, water, ice and provisions during their stay in Hampton Roads.

"Hampton Roads will be the headquarters for the fleet this summer and after the exposition gets into swing you may expect to see from thirty to forty yachts of the New York Yacht Club in the Roads every day. The captains of all of the yachts have received orders to fit out a month earlier than usual this season and the fleet will come to Hampton Roads soon after the exposition opens," continued Captain Pierce. "We will send a fleet up to Jamestown Island this summer on pleasure cruises."

Captain Well Known Here.

Captain Pierce is well known in Newport News. He was formerly master of the ocean going tug J. L. Luckenbach, which was at one time employed in the coastwise towing trade out of this port. He is also well known in yachting circles and was at one time captain of one of Mr. August Belmont's yachts and was the pilot of the yacht that carried Prince Henry, of Prussia, into the harbor on the occasion of the latter's visit to America six years ago.

Warships Anchor Here.

When asked if any of the yachts would anchor in the local harbor while at the exposition, Captain Pierce said that all available anchorage in this harbor would be taken up by the big fleet of American and foreign warships that will come here during the Centennial. "There is not sufficient room in the Roads to anchor a big fleet of warships and as Norfolk harbor cannot accommodate the, they will have to lie in the harbor here," declared the yachtsman.

Contracts to be Let.

After looking over conditions in Newport News and Norfolk Captain Pierce has decided to recommend to the New York Yacht Club that the contract for towing, lighterage and possibly supplying fresh water, be awarded Hudson Bros., of Norfolk, the contract for provisions and stores to Mr. Joseph Reyner, of this city, the contract for supplying hard coal to the Chesapeake & Ohio Coal & Coke Company, C. H. Arna, local agent, and the contract for supplying soft coal to Captain Hargraves, a coal agent of Norfolk.

Captain Pierce spent last night in this city and will return to Norfolk this morning.

VAUDEVILLE PERFORMER SAYS HE WAS ROBBED

Suit Case Containing $75 Worth of Clothing and Jewelry Said to Have Been Stolen.

William S. Thomas, a member of a vaudeville aggregation from Philadelphia, which is stranded in this city, yesterday morning reported to the police department that his dress suit case, containing clothing and jewelry to the value of $75, had been stolen from the baggage room at the Chesapeake & Ohio depot, where it had been left Tuesday evening with the other baggage of the performers. The police and the Chesapeake & Ohio detective force in this city are now at work on the case and an arrest probably will be made today. Mr. Thomas seems to think he has furnished the police with an excellent clue to the robber.

The vaudeville party, which numbers two women and three men, arrived in Norfolk from Philadelphia Tuesday morning, intending to fill an engagement in the city across Hampton Roads that night, but according to Mr. Thomas, his manager, and the manager of the house in which the company was booked to play could not agree on terms and hotel accommodations and the engagement was called off. The players came over to Newport News on the steamer Virginia at 5:25 o'clock Tuesday evening and registered at Hotel Delmont.

After playing at Norfolk the company had intended to continue to Savannah, Ga., to fill an engagement in that city, but when it landed here, its finances had about been exhausted and the southern trip was abandoned. Yesterday morning the manager wired the Philadelphia agents for transportation back to Philadelphia, but the transportation has not yet been forwarded.

SAN JUAN, PORTO RICO, Jan. 23—It is reported that the battleship Connecticut ran on a sand reef while entering the harbor at Culebra Island on January 13th and that she sustained serious damage as a result. The naval authorities at San Juan, however, disclaim any knowledge of the accident.

NEW COMPANY FORMED

Local Business Men Will Manufacture Sand-Lime Brick.

JAMES T. REED GENERAL MANAGER

Popular Assistant Postmaster Resigns to Take Charge of Enterprise—Plant Will be Located on River Below C. & O. Property.

Application has been made to the Corporation Commission for a charter for the Virginia Sand-Lime Brick Company, incorporated, which has just been organized here by local business men. Actively at the head of the new enterprise will be Mr. James T. Reed, who has tendered his resignation as assistant postmaster to undertake the duties of vice-president and general manager of the company. In the application the capital stock of the company is fixed at not less than $25,000 and not more than $50,000, and officers are named as follows:

President—T. M. Benson, Vice-president and general manager—J. T. Reed, Secretary and treasurer—W. H. Kellogg.

Prominent Business Men.

All of the men identified with the company stand high in business and social circles in the city and their names are a sufficient guarantee for any enterprise with which they may be associated.

The general manager, who will be directly in charge of the plant and the company's affairs, is one of the most popular young men in the city. He was assistant postmaster for two terms under Mr. Reed and was retained by Postmaster Hopkins when the latter was appointed to the office. When he leaves the service the office will not only lose a valued member of its force, but his face at the window will be sadly missed by the patrons.

Mr. Reed's resignation will not take effect immediately and Postmaster Hopkins has not appointed any one to succeed him.

Object of the Company.

The object of the Virginia Sand-Lime Brick Company is, as the name implies, to manufacture and sell sand-lime brick. A site has been secured on the Whitehead tract, just below the property of the Chesapeake & Ohio railway on the waterfront, and the plant will be erected at once.

Sand-lime brick is a new and valuable addition to building material. It has been in use in this country only since 1901, when the first American plant was established. During the past five years its qualities have been recognized to such an extent that number of plants has grown to 140 and in all parts of the country fine buildings have been constructed with this material.

Where Clay is Scarce.

It is admitted that the sand-lime brick will never displace burned clay brick entirely in localities where clay is good and fuel cheap, but even under these circumstances it is said that the new brick can successfully compete with the old in quality, appearance and cost. The special field of the sand-lime brick, however, is in sections like this, where clay is scarce and fuel high. Here the fact that sandbanks can be turned into a high-grade fire-proof building material at low cost is one that will be appreciated more and more as time goes on.

The new company expects to get a large part of its sand from property owned by the Old Dominion Land Company.

THEATRICAL.

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," with Mrs. Madge Carr Cook in the title role, made its third annual visit to the Academy of Music last night, being presented before a rather small, but thoroughly appreciative audience.

The cast supporting Mrs. Cook this season is, with one exception, a capable and well balanced one and the stage settings and scenery are in keeping with the remainder of the production. The work of Miss Edith Talliaferro as lovely Mary, one of the most important characters in the play, is a real disappointment. Although possessing good looks and an exceptionally sweet voice, Miss Talliaferro is in many ways unequal to the part chiefly because of her inability to portray deep emotion.

"The Prince of Pilsen." Tonight "The Prince of Pilsen" comes to the Academy of Music again and, judging from various favorable newspaper comments, Manager Savage is not allowed the Prince to feel his age. Following is what the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot had to say yesterday:

"Mr. Jess Dandy came before the footlights at the Academy of Music last night in "The Prince of Pilsen," it was the 1,001 time he had donned the role of Hans Wagner, the Zinzinnaty brewer.

"There was a large audience present to witness the opening of Mr. Dandy's engagement here and the fact he has been seen in Norfolk often before in the same role did not seem to detract one bit from the pleasure the audience derived.

"The Prince of Pilsen is as fresh and fascinating in its music and humor now as it was the first night it came here, when Camille Clifford, who is a real countess in dear old England now, sang the part of the Norfolk girl in the 'Song of the Cities.'

"The scenery and costumes are bright and clear, as all of Henry W. Savage's production accessories are, and the chorus is good.

"Of course, Mr. Dandy is funny. That's understood, and Pauline Guzman, as the gay widow Crocker, is a fascinating widow indeed.

"All of the audience was glad to see Jeanette Bageard again in the role of Sidonie, the little French maid. There is no one who can sing 'Keep It Dark' just like Miss Bageard does. "The entire company is good and the Heidelberg song and 'Picture in Smoke' were well rendered by George Lydecker, as Carl Otto, the real prince."

"Strongheart."

Robert Edeson, whose popularity in "Soldiers of Fortune" and "Ransom's Folly," has made his visits to every city an event of genuine interest to theatregoers, will be seen here tomorrow night at the Academy in his latest success "Strongheart," a new play of college life by William C. De Mille.

As Strongheart, Mr. Edeson will be seen in a role unlike any in which he has previously appeared, in fact, this is the first instance in which a college bred Indian has been selected as the dominant figure of a drama. The author has selected an equally unusual environment for his four acts, Columbia University. He has pictured college breeziness, tender with sentiment. He has introduced an exciting dramatic episode in the play, a football game, the result of which forms an important part in the development of the story.

Mr. Edeson with a carefully selected company and an elaborate scenic equipment will present "Strongheart" precisely as given at the Hudson and Savoy theatres in New York and at the Park Theatre in Boston.

American Methodist Exhibit.

The official Jamestown Exposition committee from the various Methodist churches, South, has invited the Methodist-Episcopal church with its 6,000,000 communicants to join the southern church with its 2,000,000 communicants in a general American Methodist exhibit at the Jamestown Exposition.

MEN ARE POWERLESS

To Fight Against Disease Unless They Strike at the Underlying Cause.

To treat Dandruff, and Falling Hair, with irritants or oils on which a parasitic germ will prosper, is like scooping water from the ocean to prevent the tide from rising.

You cannot accomplish a satisfactory cure without having a right understanding of the fundamental causes of the trouble.

You must kill the Dandruff Germ. Newbro's Herpicide does this because it is specially made to do that very thing.

When the germ is removed, the hair has no choice but to resume healthy growth and beauty.
