HOT SPRINGS

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Hot Springs, Va., June 29.—With a low temperature, a bright sun and a refreshing breeze which encouraged such outdoor sports as golf, tennis and horseback, and even suggested tramp-trips over the surrounding country, Hot Springs this week has seemed more than ever an enchanted valley.

Prominent among the week's arrivals have been John A. Stewart, of New York, last year acting president of Princeton University, who has come with Mrs. Stewart and Dr. Francis A. Deane, of New York, to stay through July and August. They were greeted upon their arrival by Colonel John C. Calhoun, of New York, who made them a mint julep in a handsome silver cup which has been in his family for nearly a century and has been drunk from by Henry Clay, Daniel Webster and John C. Calhoun, the statesman, and the colonel's grandfather. The cup was given to Colonel Calhoun by Governor Andrew Pickens Calhoun, in 1825 by Governor Means, of South Carolina, and descended fifty years later to the present colonel, who carries it about with him in his journeyings to make his celebrated mint juleps.

Colonel and Mrs. Calhoun, with their daughter, Miss Julia Calhoun, who have been here for several weeks, left Thursday for Bar Harbor, but will return to Hot Springs for October and November. They have spent the last three years in Europe, where they have made some extensive motor trips and where Miss Calhoun was presented at the English court. They gave a luncheon at Fassett Farm before they left, entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Robert French, of New York; Mrs. Benjamin Cable, Mrs. C. C. Helms and John C. Knox, who was the delegate-at-large from Alabama to the Democratic National Convention, and who left on its way for Baltimore.

Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm McBurney, who were married in New York last week, are spending their honeymoon at Warm Springs. They come over to "The Hot," as the natives designate it, almost daily for tea and tennis, and dined the other night at the Homestead with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waller.

Harry S. Turner, of St. Louis, who is here for the season, has just returned from a trip of several months through England, France and Portugal. During his absence he visited his sister, Miss L. Turner, in Funchal, Madeira. J. A. Dougherty, Arthur Lynde, D. L. Hovey and James H. Hovey, of Portland, Ore., who are making an automobile trip which when it is finished will probably exceed 4,000 miles, stopped at the Homestead for a day or two this week, stretched their legs and had a thirty-six hole golf game before going on. They shipped their car from Portland to Chicago and came in from that city to Hot Springs in five days, running it themselves. They left here for White Sulphur Springs and will continue their trip to Washington, D. C., and Washington, D. C., City, Boston and Portland, Maine, from which place they will start on a straightway return trip across the continent to Portland, Ore.

They began a stellar trip last year in a French car, which broke down and this year they are using one of American make.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barton French, of New York, who are at the Pillars, will spend the next few weeks very quietly there, as they have with them Mrs. French's cousin, Miss Yvette Borup, of New York, who is in mourning for her brother, George Borup, who was drowned recently at New Haven.

Mrs. George Gunton gave a luncheon and bridge party at Gunton Lodge the middle of the week for Baroness Rosenkrantz, Mrs. M. L. Akers and Mrs. R. A. Black. The same quartet was entertained at the Homestead another day by Mrs. Black, and bridge was played at the Casino.

Mrs. Edgar A. Pole gave a bridge party Friday at her cottage and invited Mrs. Gunton, Baroness Rosenkrantz, Mrs. James A. Norris, Misses Sallie Bird, Adela Fishback and Alice Reed, of Baltimore, and Miss Cowardin.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., June 29.—This is the last Edwin Davis party, and even before the hotel was officially opened a bride and groom arrived. Their first week of the honeymoon was spent at the Hawley cottage, which is just far enough away to be delightfully secluded, and which last week was occupied for a number of weeks by the late Edwin Davis. Although the hotel has been opened only a little over a week, many of the old guests are already here, and three brides and grooms are spending the days and the entrancing moonlight nights wandering through the romantic paths which lead to Lover's Leap. A charming bride is Mrs. Freeman Linville, of Charleston, W. Va., and another is Mrs. G. G. Botts, of Louisville, Ky., who, being an enthusiastic sportswoman, spent the long bride party in exploring the picturesque paths which have been laid out over the mountains.

After an absence of twenty-five years, Dr. and Mrs. James F. Heady, of Cincinnati, have returned, and they were enthralled at the marvelous changes made and enthusiastic over the wonderful effect of landscape gardening.

George W. Stevens, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, came down Tuesday night in his private car with a party of young people, who remained for a short visit, but Mr. Stevens and his son, George W. Stevens, left Wednesday morning for a trip to the West. In his party were Miss Helen Stevens, Miss Mary Moulton, Miss Elizabeth Hotchkiss and Garvin Thomas, of Paris, France.

John Branch, of Richmond, is again occupying his cottage in Virginia now, and has with him Mrs. Thomas McGowan, and child, and Miss Fippe. Mr. Branch has been coming here for many years, and in the opinion of his large circle of friends, no summer would be complete without him.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Potts and family, of Richmond, have been prominently identified with the social life of White Sulphur for a quarter of a century, and were among the first to make this place their headquarters. The most popular and charming of the younger set at the springs.

Miss Alice Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Lewis, of Cincinnati, is entertaining a house party at her home, "The Meadows," an evening a merry party goes on long ramblings on horseback across the mountains. Her guests are John Barr and Stewart Barr, of Washington, D. C.

OLD SWEET SPRINGS

Old Sweet Springs, W. Va., June 19.—The advent of "good old summer-time" finds "Old Sweet Springs" with wide-hung portals, and a cordial welcome awaiting the coming guest.

Hoary with reminiscences of its more than century-old romance and charm, yet ever youthful and resplendent as the season comes to call the weary and invalid to rest and recuperation, the young man and maid to merry dances, the business man to forget his cares, as the driver his spheres over the velvety sward of the golf links, the children in their merry gambols on the spacious lawn—to one and all, there is especial attraction.

C. C. Lewis, Sr., and family, of Charleston, W. Va., are located in their cottage for the summer.

Monday evening was the occasion of a most delightful and informal "house-warming" at "Oak Grove Cottage," which has been taken for the entire summer by Mrs. Hugh Buckingham and her daughters, Mrs. John Hamill, Boston, and Miss Louise Buckingham, of Memphis.
