SOLDIERS' DAY.—The commemorations which are usually required of persons on the 10th of July will be held in the city of New York on Thursday afternoon. The ball of St. Mary's Church was the first event of the day, and it is said that a large number of persons were present.

The morning showed large numbers of persons in attendance, among whom were two uniformed firemen. A few fire engines and the occasional ring of a siren were heard in the distance. The weather was warm and the air was thick with smoke.

General News

Some of the news of the day is captured by the Herald, as follows: The people of New York are all busy buying supplies. Few stores are still open, and many are closed. The market is crowded with people, and the streets are filled with cars. The people are all well dressed, and the atmosphere is generally pleasant.

The newspaper also reports that the people of the city are early risers, and that the streetcar system is well attended. The weather is pleasant, and the people are enjoying themselves.

The newspapers also report that the people of the city are all busy buying supplies. Few stores are still open, and many are closed. The market is crowded with people, and the streets are filled with cars. The people are all well dressed, and the atmosphere is generally pleasant.

The newspaper also reports that the people of the city are early risers, and that the streetcar system is well attended. The weather is pleasant, and the people are enjoying themselves.

The newspapers also report that the people of the city are all busy buying supplies. Few stores are still open, and many are closed. The market is crowded with people, and the streets are filled with cars. The people are all well dressed, and the atmosphere is generally pleasant.

The newspaper also reports that the people of the city are early risers, and that the streetcar system is well attended. The weather is pleasant, and the people are enjoying themselves.