

Danderine

EVERYBODY CAN HAVE BEAUTIFUL HAIR NOW, and they don't have to wait weeks and months for results either. You will notice marked improvement after the very first application.

Danderine is quickly and thoroughly absorbed by the scalp and its hair grows about the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities. It is pleasant and may be used simply applied to the scalp and hair once a day until the hair begins to grow, then two or three times a week till desired results are obtained.

A lady from California writes in substance as follows: "I have been using your wonderful hair restorer for several months and I have had the most wonderful and healthy hair that I have ever had. It is now so thick and soft that I have to comb it every 24 hours."

Another from New Jersey writes: "I have used your hair restorer for several months and I have had the most wonderful and healthy hair that I have ever had. It is now so thick and soft that I have to comb it every 24 hours."

The Great Hair-Growing Remedy can now be had at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

Free To show how quickly it will grow, we will send a large sample free by return mail. If you wish to receive this free sample, send this coupon to the following address: Danderine, Chicago, Ill. We will send you a sample of our hair restorer free of charge.

ACCUSES GLAVIS

Say He Had Copies of Official Letters.

DETECTIVES BROKE OPEN BOX

Accuser of Ballinger Charged With Securing Valuable Land Office Documents — Declares It is a "Frame-Up."

Washington, Feb. 15.—Special agents of the land office broke into a box containing certain private belongings of Louis R. Glavis, and which he had left in a room in the postoffice building at Seattle. They found, so it is alleged, copies of a number of important letters and telegrams that were missing from the official files of the office which Glavis had then turned over to his successor.

This fact came out in the course of the Ballinger-Pinchot inquiry and created a sensation. Glavis denied absolutely that he ever had the letters after he had delivered his office and its belongings to his successor, A. C. Christensen. He promptly denounced the episode in Seattle as a "frame-up."

Several of the letters were in a list published by Collier's Weekly last fall in one of the attacks made by that newspaper on Secretary Ballinger. When the investigation by the joint committee of congress began, Louis D. Brandeis, attorney for Glavis, referred the committee to call for a number of letters and documents, and this list included most of those which were in dispute. John J. Vertrees, of Nashville, Tenn., attorney for Secretary Ballinger, who conducted the cross-examination of Glavis, referred to the joint committee that Secretary Ballinger called on the chief of the land office at Seattle to furnish certain letters. The first reply to the request was that the documents could not be found. But they were received Monday by the secretary of the interior from Seattle, accompanied by an explanation from Glavis' successor in which it was said that they were recovered from the box of personal belongings.

Glavis says it's a "frame-up."

"It is a frame-up," exclaimed Glavis. "It makes me indignant for any one to assume that I would have been foolish enough to have put those letters in a box and left them where they would have been accessible to the very men who are trying to make a case against me. It makes me indignant to think that subordinates of the secretary of the interior would stoop to such methods in order to serve Mr. Ballinger."

Glavis denied ever having placed the letters in the box. He told the committee that he believed that Attorney Brandeis then made a spirited protest against the way in which Secretary Ballinger had turned over to his attorney for submission to the committee had called for under instructions as to their custody.

Glavis took the stand at the opening of the hearing. Mr. Vertrees drew from the witness that the Cunningham claimants were the first to pay attention to the claims and that in numerous instances they were entitled to consideration in any legislation.

Referring to Glavis' report to the president, a magazine article by him and his testimony before this committee, Mr. Vertrees asked if he had made any direct accusations.

Glavis said he had intentionally refrained from making such charges; he presented the facts to let the people draw their own inferences.

Asked what he thought the facts showed, witness replied that "the land department was not in safe hands and that the people's interests were not being protected in the Alaska campaign."

Ballinger's Official Misconduct.

Glavis said flatly that he thought the facts established official misconduct on the part of Ballinger and Deussen.

Called on to explain why then he made no charges, witness said: "If I had thought the facts warranted a charge of corruption I would have gone to the grand jury instead of to the president."

Glavis said he did not believe there were any corrupt motives on the part of Ballinger or Deussen, but their not protecting the people was intentional.

Pressed further, witness said perhaps he and Mr. Vertrees didn't have the same view of the meaning of "corrupt." "I think," he added, "when a man acts corruptly he acts criminally. There are no charges of criminality here."

TAFT TO HONOR SHACKLETON

President to Present Hubbard Medal to Antarctic Explorer.

Washington, Feb. 15.—From the hands of President Taft, Lieutenant Sir Ernest H. Shackleton, C. V. O., the Antarctic explorer, will receive the Hubbard Medal.

He turned his attention at once to their food and found that they were getting full rations of meat and were drinking water from a stream near by.

He issued orders to cut down the amount of meat and to increase greatly the quantity of Quaker Oats fed to the men.

He also boiled Quaker Oats and mixed the thin oatmeal water with their drinking water. Almost instantly all signs of stomach disorders passed and the men showed a decided improvement in strength and spirits. This contractor had experience that taught him the great value of good oatmeal.

The cost was small; 10c for regular size packages; it is also packed in hermetically sealed tins for hot climates.

Robbers Try to Burn Man

Masked Men Attempted to Thrust Watchman into Furnace.

Hagerstown, Md., Feb. 15.—Three masked men assaulted and robbed John G. Netter, night watchman at the grain elevator and flouring mills of Boyer & Heard and afterward tried to throw the body of their victim into the furnace. Falling in this, the men placed Nelbert in the large flywheel and started the machinery. He escaped death, but is in a critical condition.

The watchman was making his final round when the three men attacked him from the rear. Overpowering him they took the several dollars he had in his pocket and then securely bound him.

The assailants tried to thrust him headfirst through the furnace door. His broad shoulders, however, defeated their purpose, but he was terribly burned. They then placed his half-conscious body in the large flywheel and started the machinery, but at the first revolution he fell out in a heap upon the floor and, becoming frightened, fled the men.
