The Badge of Honesty

In an every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years of experience has proven its superior worth as a blood purifier and invigorating tonic for the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up the run-down system as no other tonic can in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots such as Golden Seal and Queen's root, Stone and Mandrake root, Bloodroot and Black Cherry bark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet which quotes extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Drs. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia, as well as in all bilious or liver complaints and in all wasting diseases where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of the strength and system.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, pure blood and so invigorates and regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, and through them, the whole system. Thus all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions as well as scrofulous swellings and old open running sores or ulcers are cured and healed. In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing to apply to them Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have this Salve in stock, send fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a large box of the "All-Healing Salve" will reach you by return post.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

STILL AFTER ALEXANDRIA.

Representative Hayes, of California, says he will push his bill, recently introduced in the House, for the return to the District of Columbia of the land once part of the District and later ceded to the State of Virginia. The action of the Twenty-third Congress in making the return of this land to Virginia has been criticized as unconstitutional, and President Taft at the dinner given him by the business men of Washington expressed a wish for the enlargement of the District.

Mr. Hayes said yesterday: "I am convinced that the land first ceded by Virginia is still legally a part of the District of Columbia. The constitution plainly states that an area not more than 10 miles square shall be the capital of the United States, under the jurisdiction of Congress. This Virginia land was ceded to the government for the District of Columbia, and there was and is no authority for its transfer back to Virginia. Since my bill was introduced I have become convinced that if the land is reclaimed by the government the town of Alexandria must be included in the transfer. I intend to push my measure at the next session, and I believe that the land will come back to the District. Certainly, no lawyer will contend for a moment that it rightfully belongs to the Dominion State, and I do not see how Congress can act otherwise than to restore the land to the jurisdiction of Congress."

The president said in his speech that the city of Alexandria should be allowed to remain in Virginia, but members of Congress are of the opinion that if it is unconstitutional for the tract to remain in Virginia it is also unconstitutional for part of the tract to remain in the State.

Mr. Hayes should read the report on this subject made to the Senate by Senator Hoar shortly before his death.

Smallpox in Virginia.

Richmond, Va., June 5, 1909.—Reports received at the State Health Department indicate that smallpox still exists in a very dangerous form in the Tidewater sections of the State. As yet there have been comparatively few cases, but so many of these have died that the health authorities are taking every precaution. At the office of the state health department, the commissioner gave out a brief statement on the subject: "We are not so much alarmed at the prevalence of the disease," he said, "as at its virulent form. Beyond question, the smallpox now in eastern Virginia is the worst known in many years, and has caused a very considerable mortality. Our reports indicate that many people have been lulled into a false security by the mild character of smallpox prior to this outbreak, and have neglected to vaccinate their children. As long as this continues, we must expect that the smallpox will become more and more virulent and will spread very rapidly. In view of the fact that the local health authorities are active in coping with this outbreak, the state health department has not yet ordered compulsory vaccination throughout the infected district. It is understood, however, that unless the situation is improved, compulsory vaccination will be demanded in a number of counties."

FEARS SHAD IS VANISHING.

Owing to its price and scarcity, the shad, once the despised "food for Indians," has become a luxury. In William Penn's day the colonists marveled at the shoals that invaded the Delaware. But then the Chesapeake was paved with oysters, and the slaves of Maryland despised so common a diet as terrapin. The shad are today more numerous on the Pacific coast, whether they had to be transplanted, than in the fish's native waters, where the fish commissions of the United States and of Maryland have narrowly averted their extinction.

By means of the hatcheries it is believed that the supply of shad can be restored to its former proportions. But it must be a painful process unless the states shall pass uniform bills to confine the fishing to the natural spawning grounds in fresh water, where the eggs will assure its future maintenance. The Federal Commission of Fisheries has just declared that the best the central authorities can do this year is to stock the depleted southern waters, leaving those of the North Atlantic and New England coast at the mercy of the fishermen and the State Legislatures. —New York Times.

PROTECTION FROM LIGHTNING

A dispatch from Pueblo says the saint called San Jose, formerly worshipped in Mexico City and state as the special protector against lightning and thunderbolts, and whose image was in former days carried in processions through the streets with great pomp previous to the rainy season, will receive special devotion from Catholics in Mexico City in the future, as a result of the recent frequency of the electrical storms and strokes by lightning. The clerical authorities of the local basilica, as well as those of other points in the state, have decided from this year on to celebrate the novena with as much of the former pomp as possible. An effort will be made to secure the privilege of a street procession on the ground that since these have been forbidden by the law damages by lightning have become far more frequent.
