

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

What Is Love? Love is a garden in which grows All flowers fair, of perfume rare. Whose fragrance on each breeze that blows Is free to all in generous share.

Willcox-Smith. A very pretty marriage took place last evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Smith, No. 422 West Grace Street, when their daughter, Miss Blanche Marie Smith, became the bride of Dr. Daniel DeLeon Williams, of Petersburg. The Rev. John V. Downman, pastor of All Saints Church, performed the ceremony.

Beautiful Luncheon. Among the many charming entertainments in honor of Miss Margaret Sullide and her bridesmaids, a luncheon given by Mrs. Edmund Osborne McCabe, the table exquisitely decorated in green and white, carried out in white roses, white sweet peas and gardenias, ferns, sweet peas, lily of the valley, and the guests were Miss Margaret Sullide, Bessie Merrill, of Norfolk; Lucy Dubray, of Philadelphia; Maud Morgan, of Baltimore; Mabel Walker, of New York; Mary Ingham, of Chesapeake Bridge.

Vaughan-Smiths. A number of much interest in the many friends of the contracting parties through the State, will be that of Miss Margaret Sullide, daughter of the late Dr. Charles Sullide, and Mrs. Sullide to Miss Louise Newton Vaughan, which will take place this evening at 8 o'clock in the home of the bride's mother, No. 12 North Fifth Street. The Rev. Robert W. Everett, of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, will be the officiating clergyman.

The guests will be in the delectable company of Misses Mary Alice Ayler Brown, Misses Mary Alice Ayler Brown and Caroline Gordon Leonard. The guests will be in the delectable company of Misses Mary Alice Ayler Brown, Misses Mary Alice Ayler Brown and Caroline Gordon Leonard.

Compound Interest. Compound interest is the most powerful force in the world. It is the force that makes a small sum of money grow into a large sum of money. It is the force that makes a small investment grow into a large investment. It is the force that makes a small business grow into a large business. It is the force that makes a small man grow into a large man.

Poems You Ought to Know. Whatever your occupation may be, and however crowded your hours with affairs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your inner life with a bit of poetry.—Prof. Charles Eliot Norton.

Banished Norfolk. Many a time hath banished Norfolk fought, For Jesus Christ in glorious Christian field. Streaming the ensign of the Christian cross Against black pagan, Turk and Saracen. And, tolled with works of war, retired himself To Italy, and thence to Venice gave His body to that pleasant country's earth. And his pure soul unto his Captain, Christ, Under whose banners he had fought so long.

Garden Party. The Girls' Missionary Society of Grove Avenue Church will give a garden party in the lecture-room of the church on Friday night, January 25th, from 8 to 11. A delightful program has been arranged and an enjoyable time is promised to those who come. There will be no admission fee.

Greenhorn Club. Mrs. Egbert G. Leigh, of No. 594 West Franklin Street, will entertain the Greenhorn Club Saturday evening. The general athletic association of Richmond College has been invited to attend the festival at Church of the Holy Comforter Friday evening. The members of this association are particular friends of the Rev. John Holloway Dickinson, who in his turn, has been much interested in their work. The evening promises to be most pleasant.

Misses Bruce Entertain. Misses Bruce and Louise Parker, of North Twenty-fourth Street, entertained last evening, Tuesday evening, the party given by Mrs. Eugene Valentine, Hunter Sterling, Edmore Gary, Lewis McDonough, Gordon Grace, Douglas Kidd.

Ladies Discuss Hear. The Literary Round Table of the Women's Club held a very animated session yesterday afternoon, when a discussion of Laffrado Hear's life and works was given by Mrs. John A. Hunter, who was pleasantly continued by others interested in the subject. Miss Winston gave a synopsis of Hear's life, relating several characteristic incidents, and then read some beautiful selections from his works. The ladies concluded that while Laffrado Hear was a philosopher in a certain sense, his pre-eminence as a writer lay rather in his ability for beautiful word-painting, than in his philosophy.

Miss Mabel Via is the guest of her mother at Free Union, Va. Miss Bayne Taylor has returned to her home, in Norfolk, after a visit to friends here. Mrs. Henry S. Young, of Roanoke, is in the city. Mr. and Mrs. A. Erskine Miller have returned to Staunton after a brief visit to friends here. Mr. James T. Swift recently paid a short visit to friends at the University of Virginia.

Hoffbauer and Mrs. J. D. Hoffheimer in their home at Cape Henry. Mr. B. V. Booth has returned to his home, in Clifton Forge, after spending several days here. Miss Alma Kahn has returned to her home in Norfolk, after a visit to friends here.

Miss Charles S. McNulty, of Roanoke, formerly Miss Annie Anderson, of this city, was a member of the receiving party at a reception given on Saturday evening last by President and Mrs. George H. Denny, of Washington and Lee University, Lexington, to the students of that institution. Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Talliferro have returned from a visit to the family of Mr. P. T. Foster, in Spotsylvania county.

Police Court Reversed—Manchester Man Relieved of Fine. The only case heard in the Hustings Court today was that of the city of Richmond against A. L. Powell, a citizen of Manchester. It was an appeal from a decision of the Police Court, by which decision Powell had been assessed a fine of $5 on a charge of creating a disturbance. The facts in the case were about as follows: Something less than a year ago Powell and a friend boarded a Main Street car at the corner of Seventh Street to go to the Reservoir Park. They presented in payment for fare a transfer which had been issued to them by the conductor of a car from Manchester. The Main Street conductor refused to accept the transfers, claiming that they had a time limit, which limit was up. Powell refused to pay and the car was held. When the conductor attempted to put him off the car a small difficulty ensued, and Powell was arrested for creating a disturbance. He was fined $5 in the Police Court and appealed.

Nothing Known Here. Reported Plans of C. & O. Denied by President. The last weekly letter of the banking house of Henry Jones & Co., of New York, made reference to the expectation that the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway is shortly to issue a transfer which would be of short time value, one of the favorite means of raising railroad capital under present adverse conditions. This publication is but a reiteration of the rumor which was recently denied by President Stevens of the railroad. He stated that if the finance committee had taken any such action it had not notified him of it. He is a member of the committee and he added that nothing further was known of the matter there.

Finance Committee. Pay of Policemen Will Be Increased, Also Other Employees. The Finance Committee, which held an executive meeting Tuesday night, transacted a good deal of routine business. After carefully considering the proposition to increase the pay of the members of the police force, it was decided to recommend to the Council that the increase be granted. It amounts to 19 per cent. Much time was taken up in the discussion of the proposition to increase the scale of wages to the laboring men employed by the city, and without coming to a final conclusion it was practically decided to increase the pay of the employed men, but the percentage of increase was not fixed.

Mr. Duke to Lecture. Superintendent Frank W. Duke, of the Virginia Mechanics Institute, will lecture in the auditorium of the Institute at 8:30 o'clock to-night on "The Solar System." The lecture will be illustrated with stereoscopic views, and an invitation has been extended to the public to attend. Governor Will Attend. Governor Swanson will leave Saturday morning for Washington to attend the annual dinner of the Grilleon Club to be given at the New Willard Saturday night. The dinner is one of the most famous organizations in the country, and the affair promises to be a brilliant one.

What He Thinks of It. Does Not Know Yet What Attitude of Hampden-Sidney Board Will Be. Dr. J. Gray McAllister, president of Hampden-Sidney College, spent Tuesday night in Richmond, returning from a trip south, in the course of which he made one of his speeches at the Virginia banquet in Atlanta, on the evening of the 20th. Mr. John Skelton Williams, of Richmond, was among the other speakers at this banquet. Dr. McAllister said that his absence from Hampden-Sidney for the past week had kept him from touch with much of his correspondence, but that the people whom he had met were greatly interested in the proposed University of Richmond. Dr. McAllister could not say whether or not Hampden-Sidney would fall into the plan as proposed, as he had had no opportunity as yet to consult the board of his college.

What It Would Mean. "It would cost Hampden-Sidney," continued Dr. McAllister, "about a quarter of a million to move, not counting the site. We would need at once a good dormitory building, with dining-room, etc., capable of caring for at least 120 boys. Then we would need a good administration building, with classrooms, etc. Each of these buildings, if built in permanent style, would not come to much less than a hundred thousand dollars. And we would need several professors' residences. Other buildings could be added later, as accommodation could be made in these buildings for all immediate necessities. As to whether the Presbyterian Church in Virginia, which owns the college, would favor its removal under the proposed university plan, or under any other plan, that will have to be shown. There was a considerable conservative element which opposed the removal of Union Seminary, but they have been nearly all convinced of the wisdom of the move. Then, too, a large number of initiators and prominent Presbyterian laymen of the State are graduates of Hampden-Sidney, and have a certain feeling of sentiment about the old plan and the old buildings which would be hard to overcome. Most of them forget that the community life that they knew in college is a thing of the past, and that since the removal of the seminary the community is limited strictly to the college.

Dr. McAllister reported a most pleasant trip South, where he had met a number of old friends and alumni of Hampden-Sidney. "On the other hand," continued Dr. McAllister, "we draw a considerable number of students from Prince Edward county and other Southside counties to which we are as accessible now as we would be anywhere. It would have to be shown that Richmond and vicinity would furnish a considerable number of students, which would no doubt be true. The plan is a great one and presents great possibilities, and will be given careful thought."
